The Odd Fellows lodge of this city has adopted a programme in a drive for membership, which will also include effort for improved attendance and added proficiency in degree work. The lodge is divided into two "hostile" camps, and no mercy will be shown prospective joiners, of the right type. Elton Jeffreys commands one brigade, and Emil Heusser the other, and it is a go-getting contest from now on.

Mrs. Vidito of the Vidito hospital, and Mrs. L. L. Crandall have gone to Molalla for a visit of several days duration.

L. B. Zeimer, who was the butter and cheese expert of the state dairy and food commissioner's office during most of the administration of J. D. Mickle, but who has been visiting at his old home in Wisconsin for the last few months, returned January 8 and is again a member of the staff of this department. He will soon resume active duties in the field. But for the next few weeks Mr. Zeimer will be one of the instructors at the Oregon Agricultural college. His ing and the principles of the art of work there is lectures on cheese making both butter and cheese. This is Mr. Zeimer's 13th year at the college as a special instructor in the short-course session.—Oregon Farmer.

"Many who believe in strict enforcement of the law are negligent in their duty as public citizens and allow by their negligence men to be nominated and elected who will not make an honest attempt to enforce the law," declared Governor Pierce to the district attorneys of Oregon, and we are told some of the prosecutors got mad because he said so. We wonder if the ones who were angered were not the ones hard hit by the statement.—Sheridan Sun.

Frank Astman of Salt Air was in the city Thursday last. Mr. Astman formerly lived at Nehalem.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Woodward, of the Bay City country, were in the city shopping last Saturday.

HALF HOLIDAY HELD IN HONOR OF WILSON

Wednesday afternoon was set aside by Gov. Walter M. Pierce as a half holiday in which to do honor to the memory of the late ex-President Wilson, whose death occurred Saturday. The school flags were at half-mast in this city, and stores were closed for an hour by many business houses on Wednesday, other for a longer period. There were also pictures of the late ex-president in store windows, appropriately draped, with words expressing sorrow for the demise of the great war president. It is understood that churches will hold memorial services later. Many persons in the community were heard to express real sorrow for the distinguished American's death.

GARIBALDI RESIDENCE BURNED UP TUESDAY

The residence of Mrs. Miller of Garibaldi, which was located just back of the Garibaldi garage, caught fire at about 11:30 Tuesday night, and was entirely consumed by the devouring element. A citizen of Garibaldi roughly estimated the loss to be about $2500. The estimate made included the furniture. The insurance, if any, was not learned.

STEINMASSL ESTATE IN CONTEST AGAIN

The estate of the late Jacob Steinmassl, who died in Yamhill county a couple of years ago, leaving property in this county valued at something like $12,000, is still in the courts, and close to $5,000 has been spent in the expense of administration, in which lawyer fees, etc, have figured prominently on the debit side of the estate. At present time four lawyer firms are watching the remaining $6,500, relative to its final disposition, and in the meantime, fees are accumulating that threaten further decimation of the estate which was bequeathed Jacob Steinmassl's daughter, Elsie. The case of Elsie as the purported legal heir to the estate was upheld by the county court, and the report of W. C. Miller, the administrator passed to final settlement.

But now comes the firm of Veasey & Veasey, of Portland, and Roy Sparks, a McMinnville attorney, who claim, it is stated, that Elsie, the heir is an illegitimate daughter, and that Jos. Steinmassl, brother of the deceased is the rightful, next of kin heir. Vinton & Tooze, are attorneys for the daughter, who has been acclaimed the true heir by the county court. On Monday last a motion made by Veasey & Veasey, and Roy Sparks, attorneys for Jacob Steinmassl, was argued before Judge Bagley, in the above firm asked that the consideration of the estate be deferred until affidavits could be cured from both Jos. Steinmassl brother claimant, and Elsie Steinmassl, the heir accredited by the county court, asserting that a settlement had been reached by the two claimers. In the even of such a settlement, if it can be shown, it is believed that there will be no further litigation. Judge Bagley gave Veasey & Veasey, and Sparks ninety days in which to cure the affidavits, as set for the motion. If agreement has been reached as indicated by the motion for Jos. Steinmassl, the estate will be able to pay the money heir, who may afterwards die her uncle. This case has attracted able attention in the county.

Ford
THE UNIVERSAL CAR
Forecasting A Tremendous Spring Demand
739,626
more Ford cars and trucks were produced last year than the previous year, an increase of over 50 per cent.
In spite of this tremendous increase in production, it was impossible to meet delivery requirements during the spring and summer months when orders for 350,000 Ford Cars and Trucks could not be filled.
This year winter buying for immediate delivery has been more active than ever before—and in addition 200,000 orders have already been booked through the Ford Weekly Purchase Plan for spring delivery.
These facts clearly indicate that the demand during this spring and summer will be far greater than ever, and that orders should be placed immediately with Ford Dealers as a means of protection against delay in securing your Ford Car or Truck or Fordson Tractor.
