WEALTH OF OREGON REPORTED GROWING

The department of commerce announces, for the state of Oregon, its preliminary estimates of the value, December 31, 1922, of the principal forms of wealth, the total amounting to $2,419,459,000 as compared with $2,032,299,000 in 1921, an increase of 18.8 per cent. Per capita values increased from $2781 to $4182, or 50.4 per cent.

All classes of property increased in value from 1912 to 1922. The estimated value of taxed real property and improvements increased from $1,062,782,000 to $1,729,257,000 or 62.7 per cent; exempt real property (exclusive of Crater lake national park) from $100,812,000 to $360,154,000, or 257.3 per cent; livestock from $74,362,000 to $75,176,000, or 1.1 per cent; farm implements and machinery from $14,545,000 to $31,242,000 or 114.8 per cent; manufacturing machinery tools and implements from $38,108,000 to $83,651,000, or 119.5 per cent, and railroads and their equipment from $293,002,000 to $365,252,000, or 24.7 per cent. Privately owned transportation and transmission enterprises, other than railroads, increased in value from $145,747,000 to $184,070,000, or 26.3 per cent, and stocks of goods, vehicles other than motor, furniture and clothing from $302,941,000 to $540,184,000, or 78.3 per cent. No comparison is possible for the value of motor vehicles, which was estimated in 1922 at $50,373,000, because no separate estimate was made in 1921.

In making these estimates the department followed in general the methods employed in making the estimates for 1912, though it is believed that in some respects the work in 1922 has been more thorough. It should be borne in mind that the increases in money value are to a large extent due to the rise in prices in recent years, and so far as that is the case they do not represent corresponding increases in the quantity of wealth.—Washington Dispatch in Oregonian.

AUTOMOBILES CHASH THURSDAY MORNING

A collision between Heusser's grocery delivery car and one driven by a man named Vining, occurred early Thursday morning near the old red barn. Neither driver was injured, but the Heusser machine was somewhat damaged. The collision occurred at a place where such an accident would be liable to happen, it was said. Mr. Heusser filed his statement, and Vining is expected to do so later.

COURT HOUSE FENCE IS BROKEN DOWN

Somebody during Wednesday night ran into a one-board fence on the north side of the court house lawn and knocked down the protection fence, and tore up the lawn for some distance. The identity of the person is not known, but he must have had a close call from an accident, as he narrowly missed a telephone pole, and ran over the pavement and curbing before entering upon the lawn. E. H. Stark, the court house janitor, says that he neglected to put out the tail light on the fence that night, which probably did or did not account for the escape of the man who drove the auto.

ANTELOPE RESERVE ASKED FOR AT LAKE

About 4000 or 5000 antelope range in Lake county, according to Ben Dorris of Eugene, Ore., and he wants a reserve established so the antelope will not be molested. Mr. Dorris, who is a member of the state game commission, says that opposition to the proposed antelope reserve comes from sheep owners, not the natives of Lake county, but the sheepmen who take their flocks to that section to graze. He also says that the merchants of Lakeview who sell supplies to the sheepmen are also opposed to the proposed reserve. Mr. Dorris is registered at the Hotel Portland.—Oregonian.

GUERNSEY BREEDERS MET TUESDAY LAST

The Guernsey cattle club of this county convened at the Riverside farm of Ira G. Lance on Tuesday last. Officers were elected at this time for the ensuing year, as follows: President, Ira G. Lance, vice president, J. L. Gay of Cloverdale, secretary, trans-urer, Homer Mason, trustee Jas. Williams.

The meeting voted its share of the quota for a book to be published soon on calf club work in this county.

The club also voted $25 to a premium fund to be disbursed to successful competitors at the next county fair.

It also passed a resolution heartily commending the work of the cow testing association of this county, the business men, County Agent Pine, and the county press for the stand taken on the oleo question, and at the same time pledged the aid of the club in the matter of co-operation with the dairy interests of the county.

W. D. Pine, county agent, exhibited a box of copra, and invited all present to sample same by eating a piece, but after a glance at the unsavory appearing mess, the men and women of the meeting indignantly declined the invitation. It was just as Mr. Pine suspected. They didn't like the looks of the product from the South Sea Islands, which is said to form a part of a food product of this county, after its importation here.

The center of attraction was the viewing of Mr. Lance's cow, King's Bessie and her two calves. The young cow finished her yearly test on October 22d last with a total of 530 lbs. of butter fat, and nine days following the completion of her test, she dropped a fine calf, the second one of which she is the mother.

State club leader J. H. Seymour was present on the occasion, and made a very interesting talk on the subject of dairy stock and methods which was much appreciated by the Guernsey club and its guests.

CUTTLE FISH SNARLED NEAR TO BAYOCEAN

While fishing in the surf near Bayocean last Tuesday, Vag. A. Bond, a fisherman from Portland felt a tremendous tug at the end of the throwline which he had cast into the surf. He had a heavy line, and pulled with all his strength, when there appeared at the surface a cuttle-fish which looked to be at least six feet in diameter. The fish had entangled its tentacles in the line and was fighting furiously. Bond called a friend to his assistance, when they pulled the octopus into shallower water. Here the fish began pulling the line in, until the men were close to it. The men held on, shouting for some one to bring a gun or a club to dispatch the monster, but at this phase of the encounter, the cuttle-fish threw out a long tentacle that grasped the fishing rod near the reel, when the man let go of the rod, and ran back out of reach of the monster.

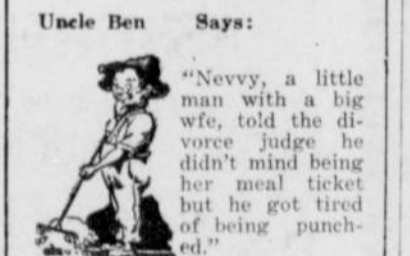

Before they could get a gun or other weapon, the cuttle-fish had got into deep water and disappeared. Bond states that the cuttle-fish had a beak like an eagle, and that its eyes were red and malignant.

ARRESTED ON NON SUPPORT CHARGE

Sheriff Aschm arrested one, Chester E. Bennett of this county last Wednesday, on a charge of non-support of his family. The order for Bennett's arrest came from Multnomah county authorities, where, it is assumed, his family resides. Ben-

WHEN THE BOY QUILTS PLAYING PRANKS "One minute essays on health by Dr. H. L. Babb"

When the boy quits playing pranks it is time to look him over a bit. The boy who behaves like an angel, is either an exception to the rule, or he's sick. Most likely he's sick.

Boys often suffer without knowing there is anything wrong. The boy who is constipated or whose kidneys are disordered, is hardly ever aware of anything wrong. So when he lacks pep see that he gets attention.

It is hoped, say local enthusiasts to secure one of the DH4 type planes for the use of the local men. The tentative plan is to have the government send the plane here in care of a pilot and a mechanic, who would stay here for a month or two to give instruction, after which the local men would take the plane over and fly for it.

Captain J. E. Shearer is encouraging the project and is attempting to get the help of the state national guard authorities to ask for the plane.
