SCHOOL BOUNDRIES CAUSE HOT SESSION

The boundary board composed of the county court and the county school superintendent, had a lively session last Wednesday, when directors and clerks and interested people to the number of about sixteen appeared before the boundary committee in the county court room. There was a petition in court from the people of school district No 42, asking for land now contained in districts numbered 19, 16 and 22.

For a time it looked as if there might be some physical methods used to settle the matter, as a dozen excited men were talking all at once. It reminded of an old fashioned political caucus, but all immediate danger passed, and the court took the pe-tion under advisement, and the hatchet was buried with the handle sticking out just above the cache, and the dove of peace with bedraggled feathers timidly perched above the scene with a look that did not appear to be altogether reassuring. The dove seemed to be expecting later developments.

It is understood that the boundary commission has allowed the change in the petition asked for by district number 19, and rejected the change asked for in numbers 16 and 22, and providing that the last named districts shall turn over to district 42 the amounts of money drawn by the children of those two districts who have attended school in 42.

SAYS WATER TURN-OFF IS FOUND NECESSARY

Elmer Hoag, superintendent of the city water commission, states that his reason for flushing the hydrants on Sunday, is that if it is done at night, it will interfere with the fire department and endanger the city, as most fires occur at night. If done during a week day it interferes with the water supply at the mills, and affects a lot of workers and business men. He therefore selects a short time on Sunday for the work of flushing the mains, which is in the interests of a pure water supply for the city, and if he didn't do this, he would be censured by the people who object to flushing the mains on Sunday.
