MR. SCOLLARD CORRECTS A MISQUOTE

Editor Headlight: In your issue of March 21st, in quoting excerpts from my talk made on the previous Tuesday evening in the city hall, some errors have crept in which you should be advised of for your own information, if not for the purpose of making the correction.

You quote me as follows: "In the United States twenty-nine million dollars is invested in agriculture yet four million pounds of oleomargarine are sold annually in this country." My statements on these points were that the total investment in farm properties in the United States is approximately seventy-eight billion dollars, while the combined investment of all other manufacturing enterprises is approximately forty-four billion dollars; that the total capital, surplus and undivided profits of all the banks in the United States is but slightly over six billion dollars; that the total investment in the coal mining industry is approximately two-and-one-half billion dollars, and that the valuation of all of the railroad property in the United States (according to a survey made by the Federal Trade Commission) was less than nineteen billion dollars.

Referring to amount of oleomargarine sold in the State of Washington, I said that there was sold in the State of Washington over four million pounds of oleomargarine in 1923, displacing approximately twenty-five thousand cows, that this number of cows with necessary farm and factory appurtenances would represent a taxable investment in the State of Washington of about twenty million dollars.

For your further information, I might further say that the total sales of oleomargarine in the United States for the year 1923 were approximately two hundred and twenty-six million pounds, and represented an increase over the year 1922 of 77 per cent in the uncolored oleomargarines and 24 1-2 per cent in the colored oleomargarines. Yours very truly, J. A. SCOLLARD, Chairman Seattle, Wash. March 27, 1924.

ON ANNUAL BUYING TRIP, SOUTH

FISH AND GAME CLUB IS PERFECTED

The new Tillamook county Fish and Game Protective association, is the rather long title of an organization which has passed from the initial stages into a full fledged, wide-awake county sportsmen's club. The name was considered as being rather long at the time, but enough words were used in its construction to make plain its mission, beyond cavil. The meeting that perfected the new organization, and put it on its running gears, occurred last Friday night at the city hall, and was well attended; and the club starts out with an enthusiasm that augurs well for its future.

The constitution and by-laws of the club were adopted at this meeting.

Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: President, Eugene Crosby; vice president, Everett Wells; secretary, W. C. Foster. Trustees elected were Glenn Terry, J. A. Bell and Ed Schultz.

The aims and objects of the organization are told in the name adopted by the club.

At the conclusion of the organization the following visitors were called upon for talks, viz: Harold Clifford, a member of the State Game Commission, and Capt. A. E. Burgdoff, state game warden. Both of these gentlemen responded to the invitation with interesting and instructive talks with interesting and instructive talks relative to the matter of the development, conservation, and protection of game, and game fishes within the state, and stressed the fact that the local game and fish clubs of the state were, and could further be, of great value to the commission by the right sort of cooperation.

Following the speeches, came a fishermen's banquet, which was enjoyed by all.

Up to April 11, 1924, $1 will pay initiation and dues in the club for one year; after that date when the charter is closed, the fee will be $2 per year, total expense in dues.

In order to boost the membership of the new organization, a membership drive was staged (it's on right now) in which captains of the opposing teams are Glenn Terry and Ed Schelling. The contest will run until April 11, when the losing side will pay for a banquet to the winning side. Prizes will be given to the individual members who bring in the largest list of cash members up to April 11.

This is a county organization, and membership will be welcomed from all parts of the county.

HIGH SCHOOL

(By High School Reporter)

Last Thursday morning the students and the faculty were given a very interesting talk by Reverend Gillett, a Methodist Missionary who has recently returned from Africa. Reverend Hamrick introduced the speaker who proceeded to weave a spell about the students on the subject of Africa. He talked so well that before the time was up, half the students were planning to leave immediately as missionaries to that land of bliss, caterpillars, "licorice boys" and seventy-five dollar wives. A few of the boys seemed to be worried over the seventy-five dollars and the fact that only "good, strong, able-bodied men" were wanted. Reverend Gillett passed around for inspection several baskets, jars and coconut shell dippers; samples of the skill and industry of the natives he has been working with. Several of the weaker females were thrown into near-hysterics by the sight of a huge snake skin, said snake having been killed by a "licorice boy" just as it was about to strike Mrs. Gillett. Rev. Gillett also showed us a piece of bark skin cloth and a bag o' bones with which the medicine man had driven away evil spirits before he was converted to Christianity. We hope to hear more talks of this kind. In a recent student body meeting the names of the students who had not paid their dues for this semester were read by our up-and-doing student body manager, Arline Heyd. Motion was made that these students be sent to lower assembly to study during S. B. meetings. Coach Shesley suggested that student body tickets be issued at two dollars apiece, which would entitle students to see all B. B. and football games and take part in all S. B. activities. These tickets will take the place of student body dues and separate tickets to games. They will be issued next September, as the Coach's suggestion was voted on by the students. Our poet laureate, Homer Blum, fitted a splendid tribute to Coach Shesley to the tune of "There's a Tavern in Our Town." This was sung in the regular singing period and was greeted by cheers from the students and blushes from the Coach. Don't forget that master production "The Gypsy Rover," Friday night in the gym! See the stars and shining lights, and hear the nightingales et cetera of T. H. S.!

ODD FELLOWS INITIATE THIRTY *Last Tuesday night the local Odd Fellows lodge initiated thirty candidates into the mysteries of the order, with an attendance of about one hundred and twenty members. A lunch followed. The members here believe that this lodge now holds the state record for the number initiated at one time. On next Tuesday night there will be a contest between two degree teams that promises to be interesting. A banquet will follow on that date.

TO CURB COW DESEASE

(Continued from page 4) "All of Europe, South America, and parts of the orient have suffered from this disease, and at present it is causing great losses in the British Isles, Germany, France and Switzerland. In some of the European countries it is so widespread that the policy of slaughtering infected animals is no longer carried out." "In 1914, twenty-two different states in this country were infected. The policy of slaughter controlled the disease, and up to the California outbreak, this country was free. Recent outbreaks in the southern part of California has caused the state live stock sanitary boards of this state to increase the restrictions on interstate commerce between Oregon and California."

"It is my opinion that the state officials of Oregon will be able to keep this state free from infection, but it certainly will do no harm for the dairymen to take notice of this danger which lies in our neighboring state. Any thinking person should

CIGARETTES SOLD TO MINORS

Alex Vlahos and Jim Karras, proprietors of Alex's Cigar store, paid a fine of $10 each for selling cigarettes to minors, when arraigned on the above charge before Justice Stanley last Tuesday. To the above fines the costs were added. It is said that the selling of cigarettes to minors is to be made a special feature of complaint by parents in this city.

HOW TO HANDLE MOTHER WHEN SHE—

"One minute essays on health by Dr. H. L. Babb"

Uncle Ben Says:

"Ef your're thinking of a wife, Nevy, look out for one thats kinda loose in her emotions and cramped in the intellect, fer she'll have tantrums."

How to handle mother when she is failing in health is often a problem. Mothers are so used to sacrificing themselves that when they are feeling badly they just keep on anyhow.

But mother is human, and likes to be mothered a bit herself, so when she needs to have that health foundation—the spine—out in tune with life, just be a bit firm. Don't let her say no, just get her ready and go with her.

Chiropractic spinal adjustments have restored health to sufferers from diseases of the eyes, ears, nose, throat, lungs, heart, stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels and lower organs.

The Safety Grip

In mud, sand and on wet pavements the compact, heavily re-inforced tread on these great oversize C-T-C hand-built low inflation cords takes hold and does its work safely.

Special compounding and innumerable deeply imbedded suction pockets provide the grip that sticks to slippery surfaces. Powerfully buttressed and anchored blocks insure unequal traction. That broad center riding band means more uniform wear, straight running wheels, easy steering and greater mileage.

There is also a C-T-C hand-built balloon tire for extreme low inflation, which fits any standard wheel and rim. C-T-C tubes add mileage to almost any casing.
