IVAN DONALDSON DEAD IN TIMBER ACCIDENT

Ivan Donaldson, a native of this county and state, and well known in this city from boyhood up, was found dead between two logs in the logging camp of the Brighton mills at Rector up on the Salmonberry, last Monday evening. There was no witness of the tragic fate of the young man. But failing to come into camp at dark, a party of fellow workers went out and found him lying dead between two logs, badly crushed by the timbers.

Donaldson and another man had taken a job of bucking for the company, and on the day of the fatality, he was working alone. It probably never will be known how the accident occurred, but one theory is that having cut a tree in twain, he was standing on one of the logs, when it gave way and threw him against a log lying further down the hill, when the log just cut, caught and crushed him against the lower log, as it rolled down the hill.

His remains were brought to this city for burial by the local undertaker. The funeral occurred on Thursday at the M. E. church with Rev.

Simpson Hamrick officiating. There was a large attendance of old friends at the services in the church and at the grave; the Odd Fellows officiating at the grave.

Ivan Donaldson was prominent in stage transportation between this city and Portland for some time. He also was a veteran of the world war, having served in France, and his friends were many. Deceased was a graduate of Pacific University at Forest Grove, and worked hard to get through school.

A sad feature of his untimely passing, is the fact that he had been married to his brother's widow but one month, when death came to him. He is survived by his widow, formerly Mrs. Joe Donaldson, and three brothers and three sisters.
