KILL KARE KLUB MEETS

The April meeting of the Kill Kare Klub was held at the home of Mrs. J. H. Rosenberg, with Mrs. H. H. Rosenberg assisting.
The decorations and favors were suggestive of Easter.
Mrs. Franklin was elected a delegate to the convention, at Oregon City, in May, Mrs. Case alternate. Mrs. Haberlach is the president's appointee. A number of Americanization questions were studied. The hostess served a very dainty luncheon. The following guests were present, Mesdames Condit, Hechtner, Steinbach and Ira Smith.

FISHERMEN CUT OUT MIDDLE MEN

Twenty-five gill fishermen of Nehalem bay have organized the Sunset Cooperative Fish company, and have bought the Bryant & McConnell building on the Wheeler dock at Wheeler, and will pack and ship their own fish this season, and thus rid themselves of the fellows who sit in swivel chairs in Portland and try to buy the salmon of the hard-working fishermen for next to nothing per fish. The fishermen may add a cold storage plant later on. Officers of the new company are: Herman Tubbesing, Jack Wilton, Otto Effenberger and George Archibald.

HONORED BY GRAND LODGE OFFICE

Edgar F. Allen and wife arrived here Thursday of last week. Mr. Allen came over to visit the new A. O. U. W. lodge which he organized here last fall. He also attended the grand lodge at Portland on the 15th inst., and was elected Grand Outside Watchman of the state organization. He left Thursday of this week for Bend, where he has been for some time past, to put the finishing touches to a new lodge of Workmen in that city, the organization to occur soon. Mr. Allen made many friends here who will be glad to hear of his activities, and elevation to the grand lodge.

ELINOR GLYN DEFENDS HER "THREE WEEKS"

Elinor Glyn makes an interesting reply to those critics who have attacked her novel "Three Weeks," the film version of which will be presented by Goldwyn at the Liberty theatre on May 8, 9, 10. Mme. Glyn states:

"I have often been condemned as an immoral writer. Now this not American justice. I challenge anyone carefully to read carefully to read every word of 'Three Weeks' with an open mind, not with the determined idea to search for sensualities, and then see if he can find a single sentence taken with its context and meaning, which can degrade—a single place where the Lady's words were not to elevate Paul's brain, and his soul, and turn him, as they did into a thinking, responsible being of use to his country."

"Three Weeks" was adapted from Mrs. Glyn's famous novel by Carey Wilson, associate editor of the studios, working in connection with the authoress.—Adv.

CELEBRATES 22d ANNIVERSARY

Twenty-two years of service to the public was completed by the J. C. Penny company on April 12. The company was founded in 1902 at a small mining camp in Wyoming and has grown to the indisputable position of the world's largest chain department store organization.

It was fitting that the company should give recognition to its birthday in some way and decided that the better way was to give another community the advantage and pleasure of economical shopping which this and several hundred other communities have been enjoying.

Hamilton, Missouri, was decided upon to be the home of the new store. It is interesting to note that Mr.

J. C. Penny, whose name this great nation-wide institution bears, was born in Hamilton where after the usual public school training, he secured his first mercantile experience in the same building and the very room where he now is opening store No. 500 in the great chain.

Associated with Mr. Penny in the ownership of the Hamilton store, are fourteen men all of whom were born in this Missouri town and are now connected with the company as stockholders and managers in other places. The store opening was the occasion of an enthusiastic home-coming and was attended by Mr. Penny, Mr. J. M. McDonald and others of the company.

Announcement is made that nearly one hundred additional stores will be added to this organization during the present year.

Another interesting announcement was that made the other day by Manager F. C. Esch of the local store, to the effect that recently the company drew its check for over $2,000,000 to the order of a single manufacturer of shoes. This colossal payment indicates something of the quantity of different lines of goods required by this large combination of retail establishments.

T. H. S. NOTES

(By High School Reporter)

Marie Messersmith, Tillamook county oratorical contest winner, won third place in the state contest at Seaside last Friday. Incidentally, this honor included a prize of ten dollars. T. H. S. Students are certainly proud of Marie and only wish she could have won first place.

A pleasant Good Friday program was given in the assembly Friday afternoon. The Misses Church and Phillipi sang an Easter duet entitled "Mary Magdalene" and Miss Phillipi sang a solo, "Christ is Risen." These numbers were very much enjoyed. Several records were played; among them were "Lamb of God," by Caruso and "Christ Has Risen."

The freshmen held a weenie roast out near Jim William's place Friday night. Some of the brilliant upper classmen attempted a raid, in other words tried to steal "de grub," but failed to carry their plans into execution. They merely succeeded in tying the key to Conover's truck on to one of the wheels. The poor little freshmen were very much excited till one bright little girl found it. All present enjoyed "theirselves" as the freshmen would say.

The Philokalon society members received their pins Monday. They (the pins) are very clever affairs and are being gazed on with envy by those who are not fortunate or industrious enough to belong to this society.

COUNCIL PASSES STAGE ORDINANCE

Last Tuesday night at a special meeting of the city council, that body passed a stage ordinance, numbered 443, which governs stage terminals in this city, and specially governs in the matter of sanitary equipment, safety, and provides that two or more companies may upon agreement, occupy the same terminal. It also has reference to stage traffic on narrow streets, and covers other necessary provisions.

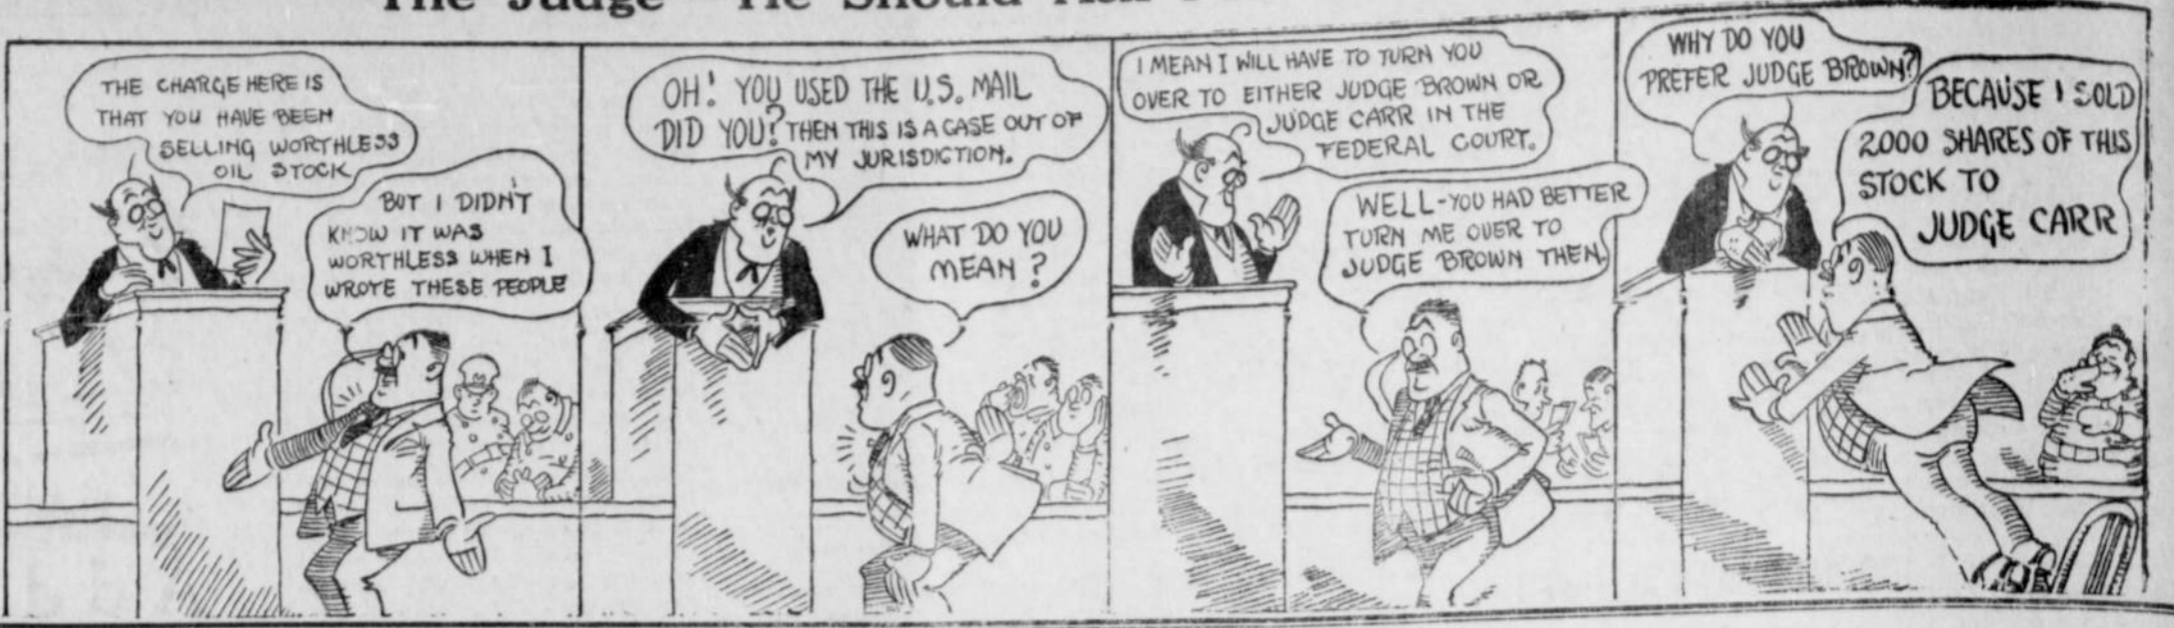

It is believed that Tillamook will soon have two Portland-Tillamook stage lines. Representatives of both lines were present Monday night, and the new company was represented by an attorney, who objected to the ordinance which was passed Tuesday night, as being discriminative, although the ordinance passed was a copy of one in general use in Portland and most of the valley towns.

of the building. At something after six o'clock the fire was all out.

"The Judge"—He Should Ask For a Change of Venue

The Dawson & Dunn building was in the fire, with an estimated total loss of about $5,000.

Dawson & Dunn had $4500 on stock and $700 on fixtures. Charles Barnes shop was burned to some extent; the Tourist restaurant was not greatly damaged. A counter and some goods were saved from the Dunn & Dawson grocery by the crowd who carried it into the street.

There was a total of $10,200 insurance on all of the buildings involved grocery store, the loss was principally from water to stocks. The Everson agency covered $2,000 of the grocery stock loss.

It is believed that the fire which originated in the grocery store attic, was from defective wiring or from a spark from some other building. The fire was first noticed when a vertical column of flame seemed to burst from the roof of the grocery store and shoot high in the air. Then followed the fire spread.

The Palm confectionery building is owned by Mrs. John Steinbach.
