LOCAL HOLSTEIN COW MAKES MILK RECORD

Chicago, May 2 (Special)—An excellent production record was made recently in the herd of F. R. Beals, of Tillamook by his purebred Holstein cow, Lady Dora Aaggie Pontiac, according to an official announcement made by the advanced registry department of the Holstein-Friesian association of America.
At the age of six years and four months this cow produced 520.7 pounds milk containing 20.693 pounds butterfat equal to 25.75 pounds butter in seven days.
Testing for the advanced registry is one of the two chief agencies for improving the capacity of dairy cows. The other is the cow testing association. The latter aids the farmer-dairyman to size up his herd, cull out the undesirable animals and put his dairy on a paying basis. The farmer-testing of purebred cows for advanced registry, sorts out the most desirable cows and bulls for the improvement of the breed. Purebred bulls from cows holding advanced registry records are in demand for the further improvement of dairy herds in cow testing associations.

BAKER BOOSTS STATE IN CAMPAIGN TALK

Portland's Mayor Says Industries Should be Developed More in State

George L. Baker, republican candidate for United States senator, spoke to an audience of about two hundred people at the armory Tuesday evening. J. E. Shearer introduced the speaker with a few pertinent remarks on his successful career. Mr. Baker is a forceful speaker and was well received by the audience.
Speaking on Oregon development Mr. Baker said, "There is no state in the union, to my mind, that needs more attention from its citizens and its legislators than does the state of Oregon." He dwelt on the fact that the opportunities of the state are great but neglected. "Oregon has the opportunity to become the greatest dairy state in the union," stated Mr. Baker. He described conditions over the state in the rural farming districts as worse in the last fifteen years than they have ever been, stating that there are less people in these places now than there were seven years ago. "The farmer demands from the federal government some kind of relief," he affirmed. "It is absolutely necessary for the federal government to do something to keep up the morale of the farming element."

Mr. Baker brought out the fact that the industries of the state are not developed as they should be. "Marion county produces the best flax fibre in the world. An industry can be built there which will employ one million people." Briefly he described the possibilities in the paper and the wool manufacturing industries. He said that he believed that it was the duty of Oregon representatives to induce capital to come to this state and develop such industries rather than send products east to be made up. "There is water power enough in this state to turn the industrial wheels of twelve states," he continued. "One-fifth of the standing timber in the United States is in Oregon."
Mr. Baker has been mayor of the city of Portland for the past two terms and has been actively engaged in the interests of that city and the state as a whole and asserted to the people of Tillamook that, "What I have done for the city of Portland, I feel that I can do for the rest of Oregon."

BAY CITY SAWMILL EXPECTED TO RISE

Modern Plant in Prospect in Place of One Burned Down Recently at Bay Town

It is probable that the Bay City mill which was destroyed by fire last week will be rebuilt in the near future. Officials of the company have been in looking over the situation and it is rumored that a modern electric mill will be erected. It is expected that a decision on the matter will be reached within a week.
At the time of the fire the mill was running at full capacity with a crew of about fifty men, who were thrown out of employment by the disaster. Logs were being supplied on contract to the mill by F. C. Baker and Connie Dye, who have temporarily shut down their camps. These camps and the Jenck camp which was logging for Mr. Dye employed between fifty and sixty men.

TWO BOYS SAVED IN NEAR DROWNING

An incident which might have proved fatal occurred at the Whitney camp April 27, when Kenneth Warren, 19 year old Bay City boy and two companions, Fred Durfelt and Earl Rushell, were swimming in the river in about twenty feet of water. Warren, who is a strong swimmer, dove off into the water. Durfelt, though unable to swim, followed him and in a moment it was seen that he was drowning. Rushell, also unable to swim, saw the plight of his friend and started to his rescue, with the result that he also began to sink. Warren pulled Rushell out first and started back for Durfelt, who had disappeared under the water. After swimming out a short distance he saw one of Durfelt's arms and swam quickly to his side. Following a severe struggle with the drowning boy, he managed to pull him to shore, where it took several minutes to revive him.
The Warren boy has been commended highly for his bravery and quick action in saving these two lives.
All the boys are residents of Bay City.
