be retired; that the majority of the attorneys in Tillamook city lay the blame on me, which is entirely false. Some of my friends say—"Just let it go, consider the source". I thought it over a while. My first impulse was to fight. There is just enough Irish in me to want to fight. Then I thought my friends would not believe it, when this article first came out but there are a good many strangers in the county now and while I knew the people of Garibaldi would not believe these things of me—those who know me, yet I don't want anyone to go about with the wrong idea about this matter. If Mr. Harrison had taken a second thought I know he would not have made the statement that he did. But it is hard to rub out—just like an ink stain on a letter—the more you rub it the worse it looks. Now, we go back to where I left off about the money in the budget. County court was all in the court room and they all saw this budget. Mr. Alley is secretary. He is the one who does most of the detail work for the court in our office—he is down looking over the records and files and asks us to file motions and

I talk to him like I was talking to the court. We have lots to do in our office and I have no time to go up to their office all the time. We have a little buzzer and speak to one another through a tube when we're in a hurry. I try to work to aid the court and not invade their province.
Now, then they all knew this levy had passed and that it was certified to. The new budget law reads different from the old one. Several of the Tillamook lawyers read it and no one wants to pass on the measure as to who was to blame. Mr. Harrison says some of the attorneys in town say I am to blame yet none of them will come out and say so.

Now, later on Mr. Alley came down from the budget meeting and asked for a copy of the old budget, which I have here in this paper—I just want to show you. I guess I don't have the paper but I have a book and I have them pasted in the book—and I am ready to make affidavit to everything I say. I am here to back everything I say and those of you who know me will not question it. I gave Mr. Alley this book when I made up the budget the first week in December. I have a book with all semi-

TUBULAR BACKBONE. Twisting, weaving, and shifting are some of the common faults of the average light car frame. The tubular backbone, a patented unit, acts as an additional brace to the five cross members, and gives the Star frame a rigidity that is found in no other light car.

We have 26 other Reasons why the Star should become a part of your family.

The twenty-five Pierce-Arrow touring cars used on "The Horseshoe Route" out of Merced to Yosemite are lubricated exclusively with Zerolene.

Seeing YOSEMITE on ZEROLENE-lubricated bearings

If you haven't traveled the Horseshoe Route out of Merced to Yosemite in one of the Pierce-Arrow touring cars operated by the Yosemite Stage and Turnpike Company, you've missed something.

But whether or not you have made this trip, you'll be interested, as a motorist, in knowing that the twenty-five Pierce-Arrow cars used in this service are lubricated with Zerolene. The manager of this famous stage line writes:

"We have been operating a stage line since 1911 and have always used Zerolene. Recently we disposed of some cars that had been in our service for ten years, and during that period none of them had ever had a bearing scraped."

Whether you drive a Pierce-Arrow or a Ford, the use of Zerolene, of the proper body, will not only cut down your oil bill, but give you greater gasoline mileage, less carbon, lower upkeep costs, and a longer life for your car.

ZEROLENE F for FORDS

—the Standard Oil Company's new improved oil for Ford cars "Feeds Those Oil-Starved Fords."

Big users refuse to pay tribute to the old superstition that there is something mysteriously "better" about "eastern" oils—why should you pay that tribute?

Insist on Zerolene, even if it does cost less.
