SMOKING IN NATIONAL FORESTS PROHIBITED

"All signs point to an extremely serious forest fire season in Oregon and Washington," is the statement of A. O. Waha, assistant district forester, of the Portland office. "The precipitation is away below normal and the relatively high temperatures that have prevailed since the latter part of April, together with periods of low humidity, have thoroughly dried out the forest cover. The situation now, specially at the lower altitudes, presents conditions not unlike those during August our worst month for fires."

The forest service asks for the support and cooperation of the public in preventing man-caused fires. "Even with such restrictive measures as may be adopted the cooperation of all people who travel in the forests is essential. With limited fire protective forces and the forests swarming with travelers it is impacticable to caution personally all of these travelers about care with their camp fires and in smoking."

Mr. Waha announced that camp fire permits will be required on all of the national forests in Oregon and Washington during this season. This requirement has been effective in restricting the number of fires caused by campers, forest officers report.

"When fires caused by smokers represent approximately 25 per cent of the total number of forest fires that occurred in Oregon and Washington in 1923, it is time not only to urge the people who go into the woods to be careful with their cigarettes, cigars matches and pipe ashes, but to prohibit absolutely smoking in areas of the greatest danger. In the Olympic blow-down area, smoking has been prohibited for the past three years. The fire laws of Washington prohibit smoking in areas where timber is being cut. Oregon has no such law. The forest service however under its regulations may prohibit smoking during periods of fire danger upon such areas as may be designated by the district forester except that this prohibition shall not exclude improved places of habitation. Already certain areas covered by government timber sales within the Santiam forest the area embraced in the large timber sale to the Western Lumber company and in the timber sale to the Davis-Webber Lumber company will be closed to smoking. Salt Creek watershed through which the Natron cut-off is now being constructed will also be closed to smoking except at the railroad construction camps and at McCredie springs," Mr. Waha stated.

As the season advances and if conditions remain unchanged the necessity for not allowing smoking on other areas may arise. Mr. Waha said, "It may even be necessary to keep people out of particularly dangerous areas by closing roads and trails to travel. If restrictions of this kind seem drastic, it should be remembered that they would never have been initiated if all people who travel in the woods were careful with their camp fires and in smoking."

LIGHTING SYSTEM

Work on the new ornamental electric lighting system which is to be put in on Third street from Lamar's drug store to the J. C. Penny store, will begin July 23 according to word from the Coast Power company who have charge of the work.

A contract was entered into between the power company some time ago whereby the property owners are to pay the cost of installing the lights and the power company will light them for the city. The contract also gives an eight year franchise to the Coast Power company for the street lighting for the entire city.

It was originally planned to have the work completed by July 1st, but as so many of the employees of the Coast Power company will go with Company K to Camp Lewis it will not be possible to start work until their return.

There will be six lights to a block, three on each side of the street. The Steinbach Iron Works will construct the poles which are to be made of iron.

BASE BALL AT FAIRGROUNDS Tillamook indulged in a slugfest Sunday at the fair grounds their opponents being the Cloverdale team, who were outplayed in all departments of the game, however, it is no more than fair to state that the Cloverdale team have been organized but a short time and have had up to that date, comparatively little practice and in consequence were unable to acquit themselves as creditably, as they will no doubt in the future.

The Tillamook team used three pitchers, Fortier, King and Hecker, all of whom had no trouble in keeping Cloverdale from scoring to any extent.

There were no particular features, more than that the Tillamook team had a splendid batting practice, scoring in every inning from 2 to 5 runs, resulting in a total of 31 while Cloverdale was garnering 5.

Tillamook showed the result of considerable practice and teamwork was somewhat in evidence for the first time in many moons. The boys have several games lined up for the near future.

The final score was 31 to 5.—Contributed.

Real Tire Economy

Here is a tire of extraordinary long mileage, with a tread tough enough to withstand crushed rock and mountain roads, with a traction that defies skidding and with a strength that permits carrying reasonably low inflation to make riding easier and conserve the car.

It is the big oversize C-T-C hand-built low inflation tires which our customers are buying at NO GREATER COST than asked for ordinary tires.

There is also a C-T-C hand-built low tire for extreme low inflation which fits any standard wheel and tire.

C-T-C Tires add mileage to almost any car.
