THINK YOU CAN

Interest in psychology is rapidly gaining throughout the country. We believe in it, too, to a certain extent.

For the man, who THINKS he can and has that idea firmly instilled in his mind, will come out on top. We believe that more men of this type would surely underwrite the success of Tillamook County.

Barker and Smith propose to the people that if they will get a large steam pump and cistern and the necessary appurtenances to make good protection against fire, that they will pay towards the pump what a smaller pump would have cost them, and will keep the cistern full of water free of charge.

Messrs. Logan and R. L. Eberman are anxious to arrange a horse race. They will put up $50 against any horse in Tillamook county. Take 'em up boys and let the race come off on the fourth.

The passengers who left on the Argo last week were J. J. Walters and wife, Nels Paulson, G. F. Horgis, Willie Anderson, Mrs. M. Page and A. W. Severance.

Two passenger coaches will be sent in on the next trip of the barge from Portland, and as the bridge on the Wilson river will be completed in a few days, the track on this end of the P. R. & N. company's road will be in shape that cars will be able to run between Tillamook and the Miami river.

In this issue is an account of the execution of Adolph N. Nordstrom the only person from Tillamook county to have suffered capital punishment. He was convicted of having killed John Peterson, foreman of the construction gang on the railroad truss over the Kilches river, a few miles north of Tillamook city.

READING OF NEWS IS HELD ESSENTIAL

Definite consideration is being given by Missouri school authorities to the introduction of training in newspaper reading in the high schools of the state.

Lee, state superintendent of public schools, who has placed it before each school in the State, says a St. Louis special in the Boston (Mass.) Christian Science Monitor. Mr. Lee, asserting that the newspaper as the vehicle of world-wide communication and exchange of thought is a public necessity, believes pupils should be taught how to read and study the news in the better class of newspapers. A careful grasp of the dangers besetting government, he holds, can only be had by serious study of the actual developments day by day.

Stephen A. Wagner, member of the St. Louis Board of Education, advocates that the board subscribe for a large number papers to be put into regular use in classroom work. This plan would give each pupil a newspaper during the discussion period. Supt. Lee favors a more modest beginning, however, advocating that each school subscribe for one newspaper for the present.

EUROPE BUYING OLDSMOBILES

The 1924 Oldsmobile is meeting with a highly favorable reception in European markets, according to word just received from L. H. Kurtz, advertising manager of the General Motors Export company, who is making a three month's business trip thru the principal countries abroad. The sport models are in most demand by Europeans, he writes.

Europe buyers of automobiles favor a car not too heavy, one that has a small bore yet powerful engine, and above all one that is economical of gasoline, which is far more costly abroad than in this country. According to Mr. Kurtz, the Oldsmobile is filling these exacting requirements of the Europeans.

AMERICAN LEGION NEWS

West Orange, N. J., June 24—When 107 employees of the Edison Storage Battery plant at West Orange, N. J., were dismissed from the service of the company, a note accompanied each dismissal. The note as presented to discharged employees follows:

"We find it necessary to reduce production on account of bad business conditions which we believe are brought about by: (1) Partisan political investigations at Washington. (2) Passage of the Soldiers' Bonus Bill. (3) Failure of Congress to adopt the Mellon tax reduction plan.

The American Legion from National Headquarters at Indianapolis, Ind., forwarded an inquiry to the Edison plant requesting information as to how the passage of the adjusted compensation law could be held responsible for the alleged bad business conditions.

Denver, Colo., June 25—Fifty members of as many Colorado American Legion posts throughout the state recently assembled at Denver police headquarters to be taught the craft of finger printing. The Legionnaires are preparing to take the finger prints of applicants for adjusted compensation, all applications for which will pass through the hands of the Colorado American Legion to be forwarded to Washington.

Dupont City, Va., June 24—In the presence of several thousand persons The American Legion World War Memorial was recently dedicated in this city with impressive ceremonies. Dr. Kate Waller Barrett, past national president of the American Legion Auxiliary was the principal speaker.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 24—Ground was broken recently here for the National American Legion headquarters building, the first to be built in the Indiana World War Memorial Plaza project. National Commander John R. Quinn dedicated the ground and turned the first spadeful of earth. The memorial when completed will cost more than $10,000,000.

Carville, La., June 24—Time hangs heavy on the hands of the sixteen veterans of the World War who are doing battle at the federal colony here with the most dreadful of diseases, leprosy.

These men contracted the "white death" while serving with the A. E. F. in Russia.

And as they wait in the slow process of their cure by the chaulmoogra oil treatment, their spirits beat in angry, bitter, throat-clutching rebellion against their prison walls, those walls which shut them off like a tomb from their fellow-men and the pleasures of the great world outside.

Desperate, haunted by the bitterness of it all, one of the boys recently made a dash for freedom. Escaping, he wandered about for months. Wherever he went, he was shunned as an evil thing. His fellows fled at his approach.

At last he gave up in despair. Back to the colony he came, to wait for time's slow healing and the day when he might go forth clean.

Hearing of the plight of these men, women of the Louisiana Department of the American Legion Auxiliary are ministering to them. Stiffing the dread and aversion inspired by the disease, they went in person to the colony. They saw conditions for themselves. They learned what could be done. No second-hand reports satisfied them.

They are doing many things to relieve the veterans' sufferings, to reassure these men that they are not forgotten and are helping them to while away the time that passes so slowly.

Perhaps the most enjoyed of the things the Auxiliary women have furnished is the fully equipped kitchenette which has been installed. Here the boys may cook their own meals. They also have their own mess-kits, reminiscent of army days. Here they may free themselves now and then from the weary routine of mess hall fare.

The Auxiliary sends big boxes of foods to the veterans. Their appetites have not been dulled in the least by the disease which afflicts them.

Amusements have been provided by the Auxiliary. Motion picture shows have been arranged for once each week. A high-powered radio set has been installed. Reading matter galore has been provided for the Carville library. All this, and much more besides, the Legion Auxiliary has done. And, when one of the boys loses in the struggle, the Auxiliary has arranged that his body shall be hermetically sealed and brought to his home for burial with full military honors.

GLAD TO BE AN AMERICAN

In an extemporaneous speech at the recent convention of the National Electric Light association, Owen D. Young, chairman of the board of the General Electric company and one of the three American members of the Dawes Committee which recently rendered such valuable service to the Allied Reparations Commission, said: "My attitude is very much like the story of the negro who was walking very rapidly and was stopped by someone who said to him, 'Mose, where are you going?' He replied, 'I ain't goin' nowhere. I's been whar I's goin' and now I'm goin' home.' The greatest pleasure which I have is in returning home.

"Nobody can enjoy a sojourn of three or four months in Europe with its difficulties and its problems, its suspicions and its distrusts, its promises for the future and its threats, without coming back to the wholesome atmosphere of America pleased as never before that he was born an American and will be permitted to live and die an American."

In a talk which consumed less than five minutes, Mr. Young painted a word picture which impressed on his listeners the wonderful possibilities before this nation. His simple statements which any school boy can understand should be an inspiration for every citizen to strive to maintain the conditions which have made this nation what it is today through a policy which encourages every individual in various lines of industry and endeavor.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC FOLDER HELPS ADVERTISE TILLAMOOK BEACHES

In an advertising pamphlet distributed recently by the Southern Pacific railroad company appears an interesting and descriptive article on Tillamook beaches. The name of the folder is "Oregon Outdoors." It contains fifteen scenes common along the beaches of Tillamook, as well as a short article on each of twenty one resorts of the county. The following is copied from this booster pamphlet:

Tillamook Beaches

The route to Tillamook beaches passes through the productive Tualatin Valley to the Coast Range. Passing over this range of mountains the train reaches an elevation of 1,811 feet, then descends the western slope through virgin forests, crossing and recrossing the tumbling Salmonberry river; one of the most popular fishing streams in this section of Oregon.

The traveler of Nea-Kah-Nie, Manzanita and Classic Ridge beaches, transfers at Wheeler to a motor launch, and is whisked across the bay to Nehalem. From Nehalem automobiles are taken to these delightful beaches, sheltered by Nea-Kah-Nie mountain rising 1,800 feet above the ocean.

Leaving Wheeler the train skirts the south shore of Nehalem bay until the coast line is reached. Turning southward the railroad parallels for miles the beach on which are located the resorts of Manhattan, Lake Lytle, Rockaway, Saltair, Twin Rocks, Watasco and Barview. On this smooth and sandy beach, surf bathing is a popular sport, and is alternated with many other beach amusements. Fishing in the fresh water lakes along the shore, or hiking among the adjacent foothills are also invigorating pastimes. At these resorts there are many comfortable and medium priced hotels, also cottages and inviting places to make camp.

At Bay City, passengers for Bay Ocean leave the train and are taken by launch across Tillamook bay to this delightful spot, where there is located a bungalow city, a well appointed hotel and matatorium.

Within easy reach of Tillamook by auto stage is Netarts, a resort beautifully located at the entrance to Netarts bay; also Oceanside, one of the most attractive beach resorts in this section.

Fishermen who enjoy a fight with the trout and steelhead, and who develop a good mountain appetite for the campfire broiled fish, find great sport in this part of the State.

For many miles the railroad skirts the Salmonberry and Nehalem rivers. Foley Creek is reached through Mohler; the Kilches and Miami rivers from Garibaldi and Bay City; the Trask, Wilson and Tillamook rivers from Tillamook.

Low summer excursion fares are on sale daily to the many resorts while still lower fares are provided for the week-end visitor.

Oregon State Game Commission authorizes construction of game farm and three additional hatcheries.

Astoria to install $100,000 fire alarm system to be most modern of its kind and thoroughly approved by fire insurance underwriters.

Vernonia—Complete sewer system and water filtering plant in course of construction at combined cost of approximately $60,000.

Woodburn opens new auto park.

AN ALIBI WON'T HELP

When your building is put out of service, even temporarily, by fire or accident, you lose time and profits. It is costly to carry trained employees through a period of enforced inactivity—perhaps especially costly to let them go.

There is precious little satisfaction in the alibi—"I didn't know about Use and Occupancy Insurance."
