

High School Notes

(Marie Messersmith, Reporter)

Constitution day was observed last Friday afternoon with a short program. The high school assembly sang America as the opening number. This was followed by a patriotic selection sung by the teacher's quartette. An interesting part of the program were several readings on the constitution by the following members of Mrs. Hanson's Civics and American history classes: Inez Hamrick, Catherine Smith, Olga Tucker, Octavia Ware, Marion Lamb and Kenneth Mahan. Mr. Turnbull spoke to the students of the need and importance of constitution week. "America the Beautiful," sung by everyone present under the leadership of Miss Church, concluded the program.

The New Library Books

Forty three new books have been added to the high school library. Among these a number are for the American history class, several are reading books for the English classes, some are on athletics and debating, while others are for the music department.

Miss Church has loaned several of her copies of books on operas and composers to the high school library to be given out in the same manner as those books which belong to the school. Twelve pictures of composers have been posted in the library and would doubtless be of interest to the students who are interested in music even though they are not enrolled in the music classes.

Twenty-six books have been loaned the high school by the state library. The majority of these are for the outside reading which is done by the English classes, and a few are for the American history class.

Girl's Glee Club Organized

Glee club practise began Monday with about forty girls. Miss Church is very enthusiastic over the large membership and believes that T. H. S. will have an even better Glee club than last year.

The officers elected for this semester are: Rowena Hanson, president; and Octavia Ware, secretary and treasurer.

Freshmen Enjoy Bath in Trask River

The annual Sophomore-Fresh of-war occurred south of town near the Trask river school house, Friday afternoon. The entire assembly gathered to witness the struggle between the two classes. For five minutes each team pulled with all its might, but their strength resulted in a tie.

According to the rules, if at the end of five minutes work neither team had been pulled into the river, the Freshies must enter the water.

Coach Sheeley blew the whistle and the Freshmen took the plunge amid much cheering from the rest of the high school.

Dramatic Club Organizes

The T. H. S. dramatic club has been organized and the play has been selected and will be given some time before Christmas.

Miss Larson is director again this year and the following officers have been chosen: Warren Dunn, manager; Leonard Bales, property man; Olga Tucker, property girl, and Wanda Halton, treasurer.

The play selected is "The Lion and The Mouse" an interesting little comedy.

Professor Bennett and Mrs. Bennett enjoyed a week-end trip with their father at Philomath. They were accompanied as far as Corvallis by Miss Mae McDonald, who spent an interesting time visiting with college friends.

Dorothy Eason returned to school Tuesday after a week's absence at the Pendleton Round-Up.

Miss Agnes Arney departed for the State Fair at Salem Wednesday. This trip was the reward for winning the blue ribbon for sewing at the Tillamook county fair.

Michael Miller, a former Tillamook football hero, returned Monday to high school after a year's absence. He entered the Junior class.

SOME DIFFERENCE

European telephone experts met at Paris some weeks ago to discuss the establishment of an international advisory committee on long-distance telephony in Europe.

From a technical standpoint there is no reason why long-distance telephone communication should not be made as easy and universal in Europe as it is in North America; but the financial and political difficulties of co-ordinating the telephone systems of a dozen different countries are considerable.

This is in striking contrast to the American system which enables a telephone subscriber to use any Bell phone whether in farm house or city office to speak to practically any point in this nation.

Telephoning in this country is as much a matter of daily routine as eating.

ENDEAVOR ELECTS OFFICERS

The high school endeavor of the Christian church elected officers Sunday evening to serve until the beginning of the new year. Catherine Gabriel was elected president, Elizabeth Mowry, vice-president, Luella Hollett, secretary, treasurer and Mabel Harrison, pianist.

They will hold a home coming social Friday evening at the home of Sheldon Johnson. A home coming program will be given at the church the first Sunday in October. All young people of high school age are cordially invited.

AMERICAN LEGION ENDORSES REFORESTATION

The annual convention of the American Legion of the state of Washington, held at Walla Walla in August, went on record strongly endorsing reforestation as a national policy; the district forester at Portland, Oregon, has just been informed.

This resolution was presented to the convention by the Cashmere, Wash., and so far as known is the first time in its history that any state convention of the legion has expressed itself on a national forest policy. The state convention is now in session at Saint Paul, Minn.

This resolution has had an interesting course. It originated with the forestry committee of the Cashmere post of the American Legion during forest protection week last April. In August it was passed by the ninth district legion conference at Entiat, Wash., later being endorsed by the state convention at Walla Walla, and now has gone to the national convention. Foresters state that it is peculiarly fitting that such a resolution should come from Washington, a state that has led now for several years all other states of the Union in the total of lumber produced.

The Washington resolution reads: Whereas, our timber supply is being used up four times faster than it is being grown, and as two thirds of our forest producing lands have already been burned, culled, or cut-over, and

Whereas, we as American citizens residing within the last great stand of timber, now being rapidly depleted, realizing our duty as custodians of the forests which belong to the future generations, and

Whereas, the Clarke-McNary Act passed by the last congress is a great step in advance in the formation of a national forestry policy,

Be It Resolved that we commend the federal congress and urge upon the coming legislature of the state of Washington to take the necessary action to cooperate with the federal government in carrying out the provisions of the Clarke-McNary Act, and

Be It Further Resolved that copies of this resolution be transmitted to the governor of the state, the state supervisor of Forestry, the lieutenant governor, the speaker of the house of representatives, and the editor of the American Legion Weekly, and be instructed to present this resolution to our national convention for action.

Be It Further Resolved that ourand Export company sawmill to re-delegate to our national conventionopen October 1st with 80 men.

Cheaper to paint than to repair

THERE'S no denying the fact. Take a look at some of the homes and buildings in your locality and you'll admit that repair costs would be far greater than the cost of many coats of paint.

Paint saves material and labor bills. Paint saves worry. It's cheaper to paint than to repair.

Rasmussen Pure Paint gives you the fullest surface protection. We have it, and other Rasmussen products, too.

Out in front and nothing can stop 'em!

Such popularity must be deserved. WHEN the favorite really hits his stride, it's all over but the shouting. And in a race for sales it's the same story. Some months ago, Chesterfields hit their stride. And they have kept up a record-breaking pace ever since—gaining over 1000 more smokers every day. A cigarette of such high quality, such untiring good taste, certainly deserves to win. And Chesterfields are winning—nothing can stop 'em!
