The Sophomores, in their enthusiasm, have been collecting boxes and planks for a big bonfire Friday night, previous to the Astoria game Mr. Ketch donated a truck to haul the material.

Helen Hoover, Corinne Baker, Jim Harrison, Joe Heyd, Louis Anderson and Otis Wright became members of the Philokolan society Monday afternoon when they repeated the Philokolan pledge after the president, Muriel Wiley, before the assembly.

Tuesday night these new members, together with the old ones met at Mrs. Heyd's home, where they were initiated into the society.

The first part of the evening was given over to the election of officers and discussion of plans for the literary work of the society. The officers elected were: Veda Smith, president; Walter Severance, vice-president; Corinne Baker, secretary; Joe Heyd, treasurer; Otis Wright, journalist; Muriel Wiley and Thelma Hoover, curators; and Marie Messersmith, parliamentarian.

The remainder of the evening was spent in having a social good time, after which refreshments were served by Mabel Harrison and Thelma Hoover, hostesses.

COOPERATIVE BUGS AND A GIANT FIR

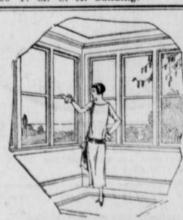

Portland, Oregon-One of the expensive processes in paper making is barking the logs, for no bark should get into the wood pulp. Director Thornton T. Munger of the Pacific northwest forest experiment station has recently been informed by Dr. F C. Craighead, of the bureau of entomology of the department of agriculture, that bugs can sometimes be persuaded to perform this work for the paper companies for nothing.

One southern lumber company gets the bugs to work, Mr. Munger was told, by girdling close to the ground the pine to be cut for pulpwood. If this is done in the late summer, a multitude of bark borers and other beetles are attracted to the trees and in a few weeks have the bark so completely loosened that it can eaily be slipped off when the trees are felled. At this point, however, the truce between beetle and forester is at an end, for logging during the winter following destroys the insects harbored in the bark, and this one abundant feast is their last.

Junior forester McArdle of the experiment station recently measured a sizable Douglas fir standing near Mineral, Washington, and found the diameter at breast height to be 15 feet 4 inches. In spite of a broken top, the tree is about 225 feet high and over 100 feet to the first limb. chimney fires, and urged the students, Nearby firs six or seven feet through look like second growth in comparison. Mr. McArdle is wondering if he significant the fire may seem when has found the record Douglas fir. Coach Sheeley has been explaining eight feet deep into the base of the

Announcing the WINNERS in the Star Car Slogan Contest

"Tomorrow's Car Today"

Is the unanimous first choice of the jury of awards. The winning slogan, "Tomorrow's Car Today," was suggested by George L. Hammond, East 2919 Thirtyfourth Avenue, Spokane, Washington, and by Evo DeConcini, 1301 East Speedway, Tucson, Arizona. Each as an individual entry in the contest.

As both suggested the same slogan, in the judgment of the jury both are entitled to and were awarded a Special Sport Star Touring Car.

The double first award eliminates the second prize, and the third prize of Fifty Dollars in Gold is awarded to Clarence W. Cooke, Hotel Portland, Portland, Oregon, who suggested the slogan, "Successful from the Start."

"Tomorrow's Car Today," the winning slogan, exactly expresses the advanced engineering features of the New Star Car. The New Star Car is so far in advance of its competitors that there is really no comparison. As an example, today the Star Car offers as one of its many exclusive features a smooth, easy-working Disc Clutch. No other car in its class has a Disc Clutch today.

The executives of the Star Motor Company of California and the jury of awards take this means of extending their thanks to the entrants in the contest for their interest and enthu-

250,000 slogans were carefully examined and checked, and the task of picking the winner was not an easy one. The winners may well feel proud in their distinction. But, in justice to those who did not win, the decisions were close, very close, between many contestants.
