GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP MEANS LOSS OF TAXES IN TILLAMOOK COUNTY

Portland, Oregon (Special)-Tillamook county voters have reason to know that alienation of county property by the government means increased taxes on all property that remains, according to I. L. Patterson, chairman of the republican state central committee, in discussing the La Follett proposal for government ownership of railroads. Mr. Patterson said the effect of this policy would be to increase taxes on other property in Tillamook county since the burden now borne by the railroads would be added to the tax bills of other property owners.
