On his return, he dis- ried to a Mr. Robert Bird, one of covered that his house had been broken into, and all his provisions and blankets stolen. He came and informed me of this and the news soon spread and about 10 of us got together and from hints we received, we believed that it was a party of the Miami Indians who had committed the deed. We armed ourselves with guns, etc., took our boats and pulled down the bay. Old chief Kilchis was out near the Kilchis point, and witnessed our departure, but said nothing. We soon reached our prospect_ ive battle ground and landed. We soon gave them to understand our business was concerning the robbery and that we were there to fight them. A few of the old bucks stated they were many, and we were but a few, and therefore did not want to fight. We told them that was all right, we would take chances and they had better defend themselves as we had no desire to slay them in cold blod. We were getting our shooting irons into position, when one old buck remarked, pointing up the bay, "Wait, Chief Kil, chis coming, he will tell you." We then waited for his coming. Upon his landing and learning our errand, he at once told us that it was not the Miami's but the Nestucca Indians that did the robbery. He stated that if we would go back home, and le: him manage the affair, he would bring the offenders before us for us to deal with. We knew we could depend upon him, so we returned.

On the morning of the third day after this occurrence, Chief Kilches came up to my house, and told me that the two Indians who had stolen given up when demanded by Kilchis. The ends of two beams projected from the house, we obtained a piece of rope, fastened the wrists of the men and pulled the rope over the beam, then we got a piece of rattling (tarred cord) knitted and stripped We all came down on the sloop next them to the waist and began the laymorning.
