COMMUNICATION

The Editor of the Herald is glad to announce the publication of a new book, "The School of Life," by our resident librarian, Miss Grace Meek. The book is a collection of selected articles from Pastoral Outlook, her column in the Oregonian. It is intended to be a guide to parents in raising children, and is written in a lively, informal style. Everyone is invited to read it.

NO. 162

TILLAMOOK, OREGON, JANUARY 14, 1913.

THE ROYAL ROASIAN'S MISSION

The creation of the Winter Tourist Park at Portsmouth, Oregon, under the direction of the Royal Rosarians, was a great success. The park was located in a beautiful setting, with a variety of attractive features. The park was well attended, and the visitors were enthusiastic about the vacation spot. The Royal Rosarians' efforts were praised for their hard work and dedication.

"Wets" Poll Large

Votes today: 2,000 to 1,500 for Wets. The controversy between the "dry" and "wet" forces, though short, was a hotly contested issue. The vote shows a clear majority for the "wets," by a ratio of about 100 to 50.
A victory was won by the "wets" on the last day, 50 votes by a margin of 60.

SALOON BAN ANNOUNCED

On the 17th Ed Laughton was arrested and taken before County Judge. The charges of entertaining a woman in a saloon were supported by the evidence and were the result of a long investigation. Judge Laughton was not at his saloon when the evidence was obtained, and it was found that he was in the saloon. The arrest was made in the presence of the defendant. Judge Holman will get a new case for the defendant. The defendant was found guilty but was given a short probation. The case is to be tried in the Common Pleas Court.

COW TESTING ASSOCIATION MEETS

The afternoon of a public meeting devoted to the Continental Dairy Association's cow testing work will be held on Tuesday, December 12th. The meeting will provide an opportunity for those interested in cow testing to learn more about the methods and procedures used. The meeting is open to the public and will be held at the Tillamook County Fairgrounds.
