INTEREST PAID ON TIME DEPOSITS

AN UNDESIRABLE DOES

DIRTY WORK.

When the subscription list was being circulated last week in behalf of Mrs. Dudley, Rev. Meese put his name down for $10 with the understanding that he would pay the amount later. On Monday the day on which Mrs. Dudley left, a stranger, who in some manner learned that Rev. Meese had not paid his subscription, called at the U. B. Parsonage and stated that Mrs. Dudley was about to leave and asked Rev. Meese to turn the money over to him. After a little delay the money was turned over to the stranger who gave a receipt signed G. P. Nichols. On Thursday Rev. Meese discovered his mistake and officers have been put on the case. The prospects of getting the fellow, however, are very small, as he probably got out of the county at once.

BRICK LAYER SERIOUSLY INJURED

This forenoon at about 10:30 o'clock Will Noble of Portland, who has the contract to lay the brick work at the new bank building, fell about 30 feet from a defective scaffold, striking on his back and shoulders, injuring himself seriously. Some bones are broken but just how serious his condition is is not known at this time.

Better Farms For The State. Plans On For County Demonstration Farms. Pupils Interested.

Portland, Ore., Jan. 28 (Special)—Further expression to the sentiment in favor of "earth education" that is so strong throughout Oregon today will be given February 12, which has been made children's day in the Country Life movement. At that time schools of the state are expected to pay special attention to the subject of the development of Oregon's soil, the improvement of our farms and the betterment of country life generally.

Special programs will be arranged in the various schools, and in many towns and villages parades will be held by school children. The slogan decided on for the occasion will be: "Better Farms Will Build the State."

The idea to be worked out everywhere is that the movement to make better farms and to improve the farm homes of Oregon is a step that makes for the prosperity of all the people. Life on the farm, if made more profitable, will become more attractive and happier homes mean more contented people and an increased country population.

It is desired that Senate Bill 72, a measure before the Legislature to provide for extension work by the Oregon Agricultural College, be discussed by the pupils of the schools on February 12 and teachers and school boards are urged to make the necessary preparations. A copy of this bill will be sent them in time for this event.

This measure plans to extend the benefits of the Oregon Agricultural College to every county in Oregon. Co-operative demonstration farms will be one of the chief means used. Each county or district of the state will be supplied with these institutions and the experts from the O. A. C. in charge will go into partnership with the farmers in solving soil problems and in exploiting agriculture to the limit of its possibilities.

Senate Bill 72 asks that the state this year appropriate a sufficient amount to start this work on a satisfactory basis, the counties to share in the benefits also being expected to set aside funds to carry the project along. The Federal Government, too, will be drawn upon for money, it having made provisions for extension work of the various states.

It is only by such an arrangement that the government funds can be obtained to further demonstration farm work in this state. To get what it is entitled to in this direction, the state must show its interest by taking this movement up in earnest and all those who favor the development of Oregon's agricultural possibilities, its biggest asset, are behind the proposed measure.

At a recent meeting held in Portland, the Central Oregon Development League, which drafted the bill, the Oregon Development League, the State Bankers' Association, the Superintendent of Public Instruction, the Oregon Agricultural College, the livestock interests, the railroads and the business men of Portland were all represented and agreed that the need of the hour is agricultural extension work that shall reach to every part of the state. All present pledged their support to the bill now before the Legislature and pointed to the widespread benefits that will follow its passage.

TRAIN SERVICE TO BE

RESUMED SUNDAY.

Agent Vickers tells us that he has been notified to the effect that Rail transportation will be resumed next Sunday, in case no serious mishap takes place between now and that time.

The first train over the road since December 28, arrived here Wednesday night and was composed of engine, five cars and a caboose. Three of the cars contained merchandise long overdue, and two of the cars contained fuel oil.

It has been estimated that the cost of maintenance of the P. R. & N. during the past month has been $150,000, with no income. It is safe to presume that had the railway people known what it was to cost them in first construction work, and maintenance the

The president appointed Ralph Cady, S. M. Kerron and B. L. Beals, Jr., to arrange the meeting.

Dairy Industry

Is Threatened.

Recent Ruling Of State Supreme Court Opens Way For Fraud. Big Loss to State.

The supreme courts decision that it is unconstitutional to prosecute the creamery man who brings butter from Wisconsin in a tub here to be sold under a dairy wrapper as "Made in Oregon," clears the way for sending $7,000,000 of Oregon money annually away and continues the opportunity to deceive the people, according to the biennial report of the Oregon dairy and food commissioner, J. W. Baily, now succeeded by J. D. Mielke.

It is predicted that if the practice continues, the dairy industry will be destroyed, because Oregon Dairymen cannot compete with the cheap tub butter, renovated after reaching Portland and sold at the high market rate. This, in its turn, it is stated, will paralyze the development of Oregon, because men will not attempt to operate dairies and subdue land who make a loss of it because of unfair competition.

The report states that during two years the dairy industry has made material gain in the state, that food regulations have been successful in keeping nearly all adulterated stuff off the market, and that the embalming of meat is almost a dead practice. Prosecutions of vendors of adulterated lard has compelled some necessary reforms. Inspection of dairies has been less in number and efficiency than during years previous, and this is charged to the fact that the dairy commissioner's inspector only worked half of the period. But three dairy men were fined for dirty dairies and separators.

One section of the report is occupied by the report of the chemist, A. S. Wells, who made a large number of examinations of food products during the two years, and another section is occupied by the reports of Deputies Duncan and Nelson.

Baily credits himself during two years with 123 prosecutions, of which 115 were successful. Fifty-nine condemnations were made during prosecutions, of which 33 were dairies, and which resulted in the condemnation of 18 cans of cream, 3 veals, 3 slaughter houses and 2 boxes of grapes, together with the confiscation of 6 milk pails, as the work of the dairy and food commissioner in two years.—Budget.
