ASSASSIN KILLS GREEK KING

Tragedy Features as Monarch is Murdered in Saloniki

King Constantine of Greece was assassinated while walking in a park in Saloniki. The victim was a Greek of low birth who gave the name Alexander. He was the king of Greece for four years, and was the first king of modern Greece. The assassination followed a brief struggle between the king and his secretary, who was also his bodyguard. The bodyguard, a Buddhist monk named Alexander, was at the park when the king was killed. The bodyguard then shot himself.

TURKISH REFUSE PEACE TERMS

The Sultan Refuses to Agree

The Sultan of Turkey has refused to agree to the terms of peace presented by the Allies. The terms include the abandonment of the sultan's power and the establishment of a republic in the Ottoman Empire. The Sultan has also refused to recognize the independence of the Armenian and Arab nations. The Allies have threatened to take military action if the Sultan does not agree to the terms.

WOMAN KILLED LEADING CHARGE

MUD THROWN AT LONDON WOMEN

A woman was killed leading a charge of women against the police in London. The women were protesting against the mud thrown at them by the police. The mud was thrown at them as they were trying to prevent the police from interfering with a demonstration in support of the women's suffrage movement.
