VISCOUNT CHINDA

Viscount Chinda, Ambassador to the United States from Japan, who protested against passage of the California Alien land bill.

TURKISH VESSEL HITS MINE

"Nevada" Strikes Three Torpedoes in Gulf of Smyrna.

Smyrna.—More than 100 persons are believed to have been killed when the Turkish steamship Nevada successfully struck three torpedoes in the Gulf of Smyrna and was sunk. The French warship Bruix, which was nearby in the gulf, picked up 80 of the passengers and crew of the stricken steamer. The Nevada carried about 200, and so far as known none but those rescued by the Bruix was saved. The first explosion tore a large hole in the bottom of the steamer, and almost before those on board knew what had happened the vessel struck two more of the submerged mines in quick succession, and almost the entire bottom of the ship was blown out. She sank almost immediately, and those who were saved said they hurried themselves overboard without thought of life or death.

Boise Mayor Exonerated.

Boise, Idaho.—The Idaho district court decided in favor of Mayor Arthur Hodges in the case brought against him by J. I. Mills, in which it was asked that Hodges be ousted from office because of his alleged failure to enforce certain laws. The court held that while evidence showed the existence of disorderly houses and the illegal sale of liquor in Boise, it had not been proved the mayor had any knowledge of such conditions. It was held also that responsibility for the enforcement of the law lies with the police department.

LUTHER M'CARTY IS KILLED IN PRIZE RING

Calgary.—Luther McCarty, white heavyweight champion of the world, took the count of 10 from Referee Ed Smith, which marked him the loser in the 10-round fight with Arthur Peikay, and eight minutes later was dead. His death was caused by a chance blow, exactly one minute and 45 seconds after the fight began.

Referee Smith separated the men during a clinch and both squared off. Suddenly McCarty was seen to double up in a crouching attitude. To the spectators it looked simply as a fighting pose. He crouched lower and lower, however, and his eyes rolling; then he collapsed and fell full length on the floor.

The referee, assuming that McCarty had been knocked out, stood over him to count off the seconds. Arthur Peikay stood at one side of his fallen adversary. He scarcely realized what had happened. By this time the referee had become alarmed and called for a doctor. The physicians worked over the stricken man for eight minutes, when they pronounced him dead, but continued their efforts for more than an hour.

A coroner's jury exonerated Peikay of blame for the death. The jury deliberated only a short time before returning the verdict, which also exonerated all principals in the staging of the contest.

TEDDY'S SOBRIETY IS MADE AN ISSUE

Colonel on Stand Tells of Drinking White Wine, but Whiskey Only When Chilled.

Marquette.—Theodore Roosevelt, former president of the United States, took the stand here as his own first witness in his suit for $10,000 punitive damages against George A. Newett, a newspaper editor, who accused the former president of "lying and cursing in a most disgusting way," and further declaring that "he gets drunk, too, and that not infrequently."

His direct testimony lasted about an hour and cross-examination, which was very brief, followed.

In substance Colonel Roosevelt defended himself as a man of complete sobriety, although not a total abstainer. The leading points in his testimony may be quoted as follows:

"I am not a total abstainer."

"I have never drunk a highball or a cocktail in my life."

"I don't smoke and I don't drink beer, and I don't drink red wine."

"I have never drunk whiskey nor brandy except when the doctor prescribed it, or possibly on some occasion after great exposure when I was chilled through."

"The only wines I have drunk have been white wines, Madeira, champagne or very occasionally a glass of sherry."

"At home at dinner I often drink a glass or two of white wine and Poland water."

"At public dinners, I sometimes drink one glass of champagne or perhaps two. On an average I may drink one glass of champagne a month."

"There was a fine mint bed at the White House and I may have drunk half a dozen mint juleps there in a year."

"On the African trip the expedition took along a case of champagne, a case of whiskey and a bottle of brandy. The brandy was for me, for I don't drink whiskey. In the 11 months of the trip, the doctor administered just seven ounces of it to me for medical purposes. I never touched it except on his advice. The champagne was used for three of our party, who were ill of dysentery and for some sick strangers whom we met."

"On speaking tours, by direction of Surgeon-General Rixey, I sometimes took a goblet or two of milk before retiring, and in each there was a measured teaspoonful of brandy."

"Since leaving the White House, I think I have tasted mint juleps twice—part of a glass at St. Louis and a sip from a loving cup at Little Rock, Ark."

Much of the succeeding testimony was presented to indicate the witness' physical vigor and that his functional perfection, his violence of exercise and his immense capacity for work could not exist in the person of an individual who "got drunk and that not infrequently," as the alleged libelous editorial in the Iron Ore charged.

Brief News of the Week

The opening of a new fissure in the crater of Vesuvius has caused great alarm at Naples.

The portion of the Chinese loan issued in Germany was oversubscribed five times.

The initiative and referendum resolution which recently failed of passage in the lower house at Springfield, Ill., is to be rewritten and given another chance before the legislators.

The breach block of a 4.7 inch gun at Fort Moultrie, defending Charleston harbor, was blown out in target practice. Privates Baxter, Christian and Dalton of the coast artillery corps were killed and nine men seriously injured.

A temporary balcony in the Central high school building at Akron, Ohio, collapsed and 100 boys and girls were thrown 20 feet to the floor. Fifteen students, the majority of whom were girls, sustained broken arms and legs.

Candidates for the police force of San Francisco must possess the same physical requirements demanded of volunteers for the United States army. This fact debars the appointment of three police women provided for by the San Francisco board of supervisors.

At the Northern Baptist convention in Detroit, 35 new missionaries were appointed for foreign fields. Women delegates have been given the right to hold places on nominating committees and the privilege of holding office, which they regard as an important victory.

A high pressure cylinder casting blew out of the port engine on the torpedo boat destroyer Stewart on a speed test near San Diego, Cal., killing two men and seriously injuring one man.

Stockmen in parts of northern and central California have on their hand about 245,000 head of cattle and sheep which they are unable to feed because of two years of drought. The government will not allow them to graze their stock temporarily in the Yosemite National park, and many of them are moving their droves temporarily out of the state.

PANAMA CANAL CUT THROUGH
New York.—The first through cut of the Panama Canal from east to west was completed when two steam shovels working from the opposite directions met at Culebra, according to a special dispatch from Panama.

With the meeting of these great steam shovels the canal was opened at grade from ocean to ocean.

Hundreds of workmen quit work and cheered when the big shovels scooped out the last bit of earth that joined the two continents. There is still to be excavated in broadening the canal about 8,000,000 cubic yards of earth.

Cough Medicine for Children.
Too much care cannot be used in selecting a cough medicine for children. It should be pleasant to take, contain no harmful substance and be most effective. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy meets these requirements and is a favorite with the mothers of young children everywhere. For sale by all dealers.

OREGON NEWS NOTES OF GENERAL INTEREST

Events Occurring Throughout the State During the Past Week.

Armed Men Defy State.

Malheur.—An armed force of water users of the Jamieson and Brogan irrigation districts gathered at reservoir No. 3 of the Willow river, and prevented Warren Reeder, state water master from raising the gates and releasing the water, as had been ordered by the state board of control, in upholding the ancient riparian rights of early settlers. The water users declared the action would have meant irreparable damage and almost total ruin to the lower country.

Fatal Auto Accident Near Pendleton.

Pendleton.—One was killed and three were badly injured on the Athena-Weston road near the Dudley place when an automobile carrying four residents of Milton and Helix, Or., skidded, crashed off the side of the road and turned a complete somersault.

The dead: Leslie Edwards of Milton. The injured: Carl Engdahl, mayor of Helix; Guy Smith, of Helix; Clarence Shuel, chauffeur, of Helix.

LIMIT KLAMATH PROJECT

Government Expected to Complete Present Work But Not Extend It.

Washington.—There is serious question whether the government ever will reincorporate in the Klamath irrigation project about 90,000 acres of land that were eliminated after the project was first adopted, either because of excessive cost of irrigation or because of the doubtful success of irrigation due to peculiar soil conditions. The probabilities are that the project will be completed according to present plans, and then stopped, at least until the development of the country justifies an expenditure of about $50 an acre for irrigation.

At the hearings had before Secretary Lane, it developed that the government went into the Klamath country with the intention of building a project that would reclaim in the neighborhood of 160,000 acres. After the work was well under way, the high lands, where the cost of irrigation will be in excess of the department's views, were dropped out and about the same time the lower Klamath lake unit was dropped because of the discovery of a prevalence of black alkali, which made that portion of the land suitable only for the growing of grasses.

Oregon Lands Restored to Entry.

Portland.—President Wilson restored to entry 75,000 acres in eastern Oregon that had been withdrawn on the presumption that it contained valuable deposits of oil. Investigations by the geological survey showed that while small quantities of gas exist, it is not of commercial importance and only slight traces of oil have been found.

Captives Beat Sheriff.

Roseburg.—Attacked by three prisoners as he entered the county jail to feed the inmates, Sheriff George Quine was struck over the head with a stick of stove wood and painfully injured.

According to Sheriff Quine, he was handing a basket of food to the prisoners through a partly opened door of the jail, when John McDevitt grabbed him by the hand and pulled him within the cage. Eugene Smith then grasped the officer from behind and held him while Stanley Gilbert struck him a violent blow over the head.
