NEHALEM NEWS.

From Enterprise.
L. A. Uffers received notice from the U. S. Custom Inspectors at Portland that a fine of $200 had been levied against him for not having a bell and fire extinguisher in his launch when two officers of the service made a visit to these parts recently. He intends to go to Portland Saturday morning to adjust the matter with the custom office and avoid further trouble.
Dr. Randle reports the birth of 10 pound daughter to Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Mayer Thursday. As a result, Ward is exceedingly happy. He assumes the weighty obligations of parenthood very philosophically which is a very good indication that he will be an ideal parent. Mrs. Mayer and child are getting along very nicely.
Matt Olsen received notice that a fine of $200 was placed upon him by the customs inspectors for not having sufficient equipment for his fishing boat. It is possible that the fine will be reduced considerably when he comes to pay it. From our way of thinking, it will soon be a crime to own a motor boat.
We neglected to mention in last week's issue of the Enterprise that Ralph Eason, the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Eason, sustained a broken arm Sunday before last as a result of falling from an apple tree. Dr. Randle reports that he is recovering very nicely.
A note written in the Russian and English languages was found in a bottle on the Nehalem Beach April 8, 1913 by Rudolph Gail, one of the Miami survivors, it having drifted across the Pacific Ocean, and disclosed the fact that it was thrown overboard from the "H. L. R. M. S. Mandour" on October 11, 1909 in Latitude 49 degrees and 45 minutes North, Longitude 133 degrees and 3 minutes East. It has required three and one half year's time for the current to carry the bottle across the Pacific, the place of its deposit being less than five degrees south from the point where it was first thrown into the water. The news of its recovery will be forwarded to the Hydrographical Expedition of the Pacific Ocean in Vladivostok, Siberia, at once since they are endeavoring to determine by this means to study the course of the Japan current. The note in English reads as follows: "This note is thrown from H. L. R. M. S. Mandour for the purpose of studying the stream, October 11, 1909, Latitude 49 degrees, 3 minutes East. If anybody finds it, please inscribe the latitude, longitude, time and where it was found, send it to the Hydrographical Expedition of the Pacific Ocean in Vladivostok."

Mr. H. L. Sheldon, the new superintendent of the Oregon Anti-Saloon League, comes with years of experience in the most successful Anti-Saloon fighting in this country.
He was a member of the legislature of Illinois during the most intense battles in that body for local option legislation. He was leader of the temperance forces on the floor during his several terms and introduced the famous Sheldon-Berry local option bill and was chairman of the judiciary committee to which it was referred and succeeded in reporting it unamended to the House. He led the forces to its triumphant adoption by the legislature.

PREPARATIONS BEING MADE FOR GUARDS ENCAMPMENT.

The grounds near the depot are being laid out and water is being piped to them for the use of the Oregon National Guards who will hold their encampment here July 8 to 19.
The regimental band which will accompany the soldiers, besides giving several outdoor concerts, will give a special concert at the opera house on Saturday evening, July 12. The concert will be followed by a grand ball.
Arrangements are being made to give the officers a fine banquet during one evening of the encampment.
It is thought that some ball games between the soldier boys and the home team will be pulled off.
More definite announcements will be made later in regard to the doings of encampment week. However, we may rest assured that Tillamook will be treated to a novel entertainment during the time the militia is here and the people of the surrounding country should take advantage of this fact.

AMBERGRIS THOUGHT TO BE FOUND AT NESKOWIN.

On Wednesday, J. M. Myers, Bill Heater and another gentleman by the name of Green, all of the south end of the county, came to the city with some stuff which they thought was ambergris. They took their find to Portland on Thursday to have it examined.
Quite a large quantity of the substance has been found all along the coast from Neskowin to Pacific City. Forest Gist, Clint Miles and the Learned boys have each found pieces of it. It is estimated that about 40 pounds of the stuff has been found. If the substance is proven to be ambergris the boys have certainly struck it rich as ambergris is said to be worth in the neighborhood of $500 per pound.
While walking along the beach near her home, Miss Ethel Terry of Sayville, N. Y., found a lump of ambergris said to be worth $5000. It had been washed up by the tide.
Ambergris is a fatty substance, the product of a disease in the intestines of the sperm whale. It is very light, and floats like a cork. In its natural state it has a repulsive odor, but when it is largely diluted with either, volatile oils, or alcohol, this becomes a delightful perfume. A single pound of ambergris will make barrels of costly perfume. The material is rare and highly prized.
