FRIDAY, AUGUST 15, 1913.

Everyone is in harmony with a booster or should be. But there are different kinds of boosters, just the same as there are different kinds of knockers. No one is in harmony with a knocker, except of course he is a knocker himself. Boosting is sometimes estimated by the blatant noise of a so-called booster, but the real booster, the genuine article, the man whose boosting counts is the man who makes his surroundings better, who makes his business greater, who by dint of energy creates a new revenue, commercially or otherwise. The school teacher who makes his school the best is a booster, the merchant who brings trade to his town from the outside territory is a booster, the rancher who makes his place more productive and profitable each year is a booster, and so on, all along the line. Therefore it is a pleasure and a profit to be a booster. Weighing the knocker on the same scales we find that while a knocker may blot his head off in declaring he is a booster and too, he may fool some into believing he is a booster, he is the one who allows his business and his belongings to deteriorate, always blaming the other fellow, demoralization and degeneration do not appeal to his sense of justice or honor and so long as there is an uproar or noise whether made by a base drum or a howling lunatic, he is perfectly satisfied—for he isn't a booster.—Cloverdale Courier.

TO THE BOYS AND GIRLS.

I hope you are all having a good time during vacation, playing some, working some, and reading some; and not forgetting to prepare your exhibits for the school fairs. Had you thought about how soon they will be here? Only a few short weeks now, and the time will pass quickly. Procrastination is said to be the thief of time. Do not let it be the thief of those prizes you have no doubt had your heart set on winning. It is so easy to waste time and get slack in our habits, especially during vacation. Everyone ought to set apart certain hours each day for play, for work, and for reading. You will be surprised how much more you will accomplish.

If you are raising garden stuff to exhibit, do not neglect it. The weeds will keep growing these hot days just the same, and if you do not keep them hoed or pulled up they will rob your pumpkins or potatoes of the moisture they need, and they will not grow to be prize winners. If you are raising poultry, do not fail to feed the fowls regularly and well and handle them carefully so they will be gentle and in good condition.

If you expect to exhibit sewing and win that sewing machine, gold watch, or some other attractive prize, you have no time to lose. If you would win in the breadmaking contest, you cannot practice too much. Do not be afraid of soiling your hands with the dough. It is no disgrace to work, and horny hands are honorable.

Do not overlook the fact that the railroads will carry your exhibits to and from the State Fair free of charge. The children of no other state are so generously treated by the railroads, so far as we know. Do not fail to read the rules and regulations in the State Fair Prize List which tells you what you have to do in order to get the free rate.

Some boy or girl who reads this may say "I have to work hard all the time and never have a vacation, and do not have time to prepare anything for the fair." I hope very few of you are entirely deprived of a vacation, but as to having to work hard, you really ought to be thankful for that. Hard work does not hurt you if you do not chafe and worry about it. Our best and greatest people have had to work hard. Surmounting difficulties brings out the best that is in you, and develops strength of character. The best exhibits at the school fairs were generally made by children who had to work hard. Loafers do not win prizes at fairs nor in the battles of life.

Perhaps you are not yet acquainted with Mr. Churchill, our new state Superintendent, but you will have an opportunity to meet him some day, I hope. I am sure you will like him; he says he is very much interested in the boys and girls of Oregon, and especially in seeing them learn the practical things of life. He is anxious to see definite results from the Industrial Department. It is up to you to show such results, boys and girls, and I am sure you will do your part.

Very truly yours,

N. C. Maris,
Field Worker Industrial Fairs.

PROMPTNESS
in Plumbing Service

The time that good plumbing equipment is most appreciated is usually when the equipment is temporarily out of order.

Then we realize how much the plumbing equipment enters into our modern living.

That is when you want a plumber and want him quickly.

Don't put up with exasperating delays when you can have prompt service from us. Give us your next hurry call and see how quickly the repair, large or small, will be accomplished.

We use quality fixtures, the "Standard" make, on our work. Booklet free.
