On Your Own Account

Have you any money in the bank? A part of your earnings ought to be placed there, anyway. Everybody can afford to save something, however little. Have a bank account of your own and you will feel happier, better, more independent. Make your little money earn more, and so grow bigger. Better than hoarding it where fire or thieves can reach it. Your bank-book is a receipt and an evidence of your wise economy.

NEWS FROM OUR NATIONAL CAPITAL

Administration Positively Refuses to Recognize the Huerta Regime.

Washington.—A two hours' conference between President Wilson, Secretary Bryan and the senate foreign relations committee brought about no change in the attitude of the administration toward Mexico.

The president took the senators into his confidence far enough to outline the following:

That John Lind, his special envoy to Mexico City, does not bear any solution of the present situation, but goes to continue this government's effort to induce Provisional President Huerta to redeem his promises for free and constitutional elections.

That under no circumstances does the administration propose to recognize the Huerta government.

That Mr. Lind has gone to Mexico City to be the "eyes and ears" of the Washington administration on the ground and to explain the attitude of the government when he had fully familiarized himself with the situation.

That by withdrawing Ambassador Wilson and sending Mr. Lind, the president planned to have a man on the ground who was in sympathy with the administration here and was in no sense a factor in the situation in Mexico City.

The meeting was entirely friendly. The president did most of the talking and Secretary Bryan and members of the committee added a word here and there.

While the president disclosed a definite plan for the pacification of Mexico, the implication remained that on Lind's reports would depend to a large extent the future policy of the country.

Mexican Situation is Much Relieved.

Distinct relief is apparent in official circles here over the course of events in Mexico. The statement of Frederick Gambos, the new Mexican minister of foreign relations, that he had "great faith in the reasonableness of the judgment of the United States," holding the conviction that the difficulties between the two countries "soon would be adjusted," produced a very favorable impression in administration circles.

President Wilson pointed out to callers what seemed to him conspicuous efforts on the part of persons unknown to him through published misrepresentations to involve the United States in intervention. He reiterated that the attitude of his government toward Mexico in the present situation was one of peace and friendliness solely.

With the air cleared of rumors of hostility in the Mexican capital, Mr. Lind's presence there officials were disposed to believe the programme of the American government would be carried out quietly and in such manner as seemed most expedient to Mr. Lind and the embassy at Mexico City.

Espionage Over Judges Charged.

Replying to a senate resolution demanding the information, Attorney General McReynolds admitted and defended the course of the department of justice in conducting investigations into certain judges. He refused, however, to say which judges were subject to inquiry, declaring it "inconvenient with the public interest" to make the information public.

This report aroused a storm of protest, which Senator Borah, of Idaho, led.

"I know this is a very serious charge," said he, "but I am so reliably informed that I make the statement that within the last four or five years special agents have carried on such investigations with a view to influencing judges."

National Capital Brevities.

The death of Senator Johnston, of Alabama, has reduced the Democratic majority on the bill to one vote.

The first of the international peace treaties embodying Secretary Bryan's plans has actually been signed. It was between the United States and Salvador, and soon will be sent to the senate for ratification.

The end of the senate lobby committee's investigation is not in sight, according to Senator Reed, a member of the committee.

It pays to advertise in the Herald.

ARTHUR ATTERBURY DEAD

On Saturday Arthur Atterbury who has been ill with tuberculosis for some time died at the tuberculosis hospital at Salem on Sunday. The father and brother Clarence were with him at the time of his death. Interment took place at Salem on Monday.

SCHOOL CHILDREN ATTENTION.

All students and children of school age are requested to meet at the court house grounds, Tillamook City, at three o'clock in the afternoon of September 1 and 2, at which time and place plans will be made for the school children's part in the parade which is to be a part of the program for the last day of the fair, being September 5.

Exhibits should be left at the McGhee building, which is now being fitted up for the occasion.

We hope there will be a large display of garden products, sewing cooking, canned fruit and vegetable, wood work etc. that the offering of prizes for products of boys and girls may be encouraged and thus continued from year to year. If you have made or grown anything that is good place on exhibition and thus help to make the fair a success.

County Supt.

BEAVER ITEMS

Last Sunday evening Rev. Bertha Peoples of Salem, preached a very interesting sermon at Beaver Church and asked the ladies and girls to meet her at the church Monday afternoon in the interest of mission work. Some thirty responded and an organization with thirteen members was affected, with several more in prospect. The following officers were elected: President Mrs. E. L. Kinnaman; Vice President, Mrs. Jack Davis; Secretary, Mrs. M. E. Godrey; Treasurer, Mrs. Henry Davidson; Secretary of Literature, Mrs. E. F. Gilbert; Collectors, Messrs. I. W. Hines and S. C. Woods.

The day chanced to be the birthday anniversary of Rev. Dora Young who has been taking a vacation on her homestead this summer. Friends had planned to surprise her by way of presenting material of nice gray serge for a dress, also many good eatables for the table. Mrs. W. E. Godrey made the birthday cake and Mrs. E. H. Godrey the birthday pie. Grandma Huston sent a large collection of choice flowers and Ralph Davidson a pretty bouquet. Mrs. Anna Ebberson was present and did her share in making the occasion a pleasant one.

SKIN GRAFTING SUCCESSFULLY PERFORMED.

Last week Dr. Beals successfully grafted skin to the scalded body of the two year old child of Thos. Edwards, which was so seriously scalded about two weeks ago. The mother made the sacrifice for the little one. Both mother and child are doing fine. The child received its injuries by sitting down in a pan of hot water.

CHEESE MARKET FIRM.

Cheese market is in pretty fair shape, with price just holding its own. Owing to the tests going up and the hot weather causing a considerable shrinkage in the yield per hundred pounds of milk, July prices will be considerable lower than June.

BERRY JUICE KEEPS.

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Oregon, Aug. 25.—Among other remarkable qualities loganberry juice has the property of retaining its freshness for several weeks without any sterilization whatever, according to recent investigations conducted by Prof. C. I. Lewis, horticulturist of the Oregon Agricultural College. About the first of July Professor Lewis took considerable quantities of loganberry juice, without heat, sweetened it to taste and poured it into bottles which he set away in the basement rooms of the Horticultural building. The bottles were not sealed, nor was the temperature of the room cooled below normal. At the end of six weeks an examination of the juice showed that its appearance was unchanged and that fermentation was just beginning to set in. Upon tasting, the juice was found to be sweet with no more than just a "sparkling" taste to enrich its flavor. Professor Lewis considers its self-sterilizing power very unusual and destined to make it a popular beverage wherever loganberries are grown.

Fishing Boat Burns and Goes Down

Gray's Harbor Boat Goes to Bottom Off Cape Look-Out. No Lives Lost.

On Saturday evening the fishing boat Sunshine of Gray's Harbor met with an accident two and one-half miles off Cape Lookout which resulted in her destruction. At about five o'clock the gasoline tank exploded, blowing Captain H. Hansen out of the pilot house into the water, and at the same time setting fire to the boat. The other members of the crew, H. O. Halverson and H. Peterson launched a life boat and picked up the captain and later landed south of the cape, making their way inland to Hemlock where C. I. Crook fed them and kept them over night, and in the morning brought them to Tillamook where they took the train for home.

The boat was 41 feet long with ten foot beam and was valued at $5,500.

The captain was quite sorely injured.

GOING TO THE FAIR?

From Hoard's dairyman
"The fair season will soon be at its height. There is something for every member of the family. In whatever direction their interests may lie, they will find them represented. The fair is a great museum of the progress of the year and age. In its exhibits of machinery, live stock, and products of the farm are the latest improvements in manufacture and breeding. Among its fine arts and household equipment the women and men, too, find the most up-to-date and making-home-attractive and convenient appliances."

"To every one who goes in the spirit of the student there is something new and interesting. The fair is a short course in farming, in breeding, in farm mechanics, in dairying, in domestic art, in domestic science and in good, wholesome entertainment. One takes away from the fair just what he takes to it. That is, if one goes to criticize, there will be much to criticize; if one goes to learn there will be much to learn. If one's hobby is not up to his standard of excellence he is apt to say the fair is degenerating. The fair is a broad gauged symposium of the year's progress. There is something for all and all things for every one."

"Go to the fair in the same broad gauged spirit that has directed the managers in their effort to bring together a great demonstration laboratory suited to many men of many minds. If one is at all disappointed in his own particular hobby, look about and see how the other fellow is making out."

"As this will be read by dairy farmers who will be interested in dairy stock, dairy machinery and dairy products, we hope they will pay special attention to these exhibits and if they are not up to the ideal, go to the management and state to them just where they fall short. Do not fail to commend where commendation is due. Fair managers need the assistance of friendly, intelligent criticism. It is only by having the weak spots pointed out that improvement can come. Don't go home and knock. The knocker never accomplishes any thing worth while."

"It is encouraging that the fair and exposition managers are giving the dairy business a greater place in the exhibits, and why should they not do so? Dairying occupies a great big place in American agriculture."

"Go to the fair with a receptive mind, get all there is to get, and then go home content to have only the best at home."

CARD OF THANKS.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwards wish to thank those who have so kindly helped them during the illness of their child.
