EDITORS TRAVEL ROADS OF THE COUNTY.

Monday and Tuesday of this week was spent by the editors of the county in looking over the county roads in company with Judge Mason and Commissioners Farmer and Edner. On Monday Judge Mason took Editor Kefenberg of the Nehalem Enterprise, Editor Baker of the Headlight, and Editor Frombley of the Herald as far as Cloverdale, where they were joined by Commissioner Farmer and Editor Taylor of the Cloverdale Courier. On Tuesday the party was joined by Commissioner Edner and a trip made into the northern part of the county. Editors Merritt and Hamilton of the Bay City Examiner were not able to make the trip on account of illness.

South End Improvements.

The first improvements noted in the south end of the county were the building of the bridges over the Neastuca river on the Blaine road. The construction of two new bridges and a change in this road will facilitate the marketing of the products of some 600 acres of fertile land, and will eliminate some bad grades.

There are improvements of substantial nature all along until we arrive at Hebo where a contract has been let to Martin Jenck and A. Arstiel for the construction of a road from Hebo to Cloverdale on a much better grade than is now traveled. This road will eliminate the hills and will be a fine level road. Its completion means much to those traveling from Cloverdale to the North.

At Cloverdale we found Mr. Feischau putting in a cement structure over the small stream which runs through the town. We understand that Chas. Ray is standing a part of the expense of this bridge which is indeed quite an improvement to the town. Mr. Feischau is getting considerable work to do about Cloverdale in the way of cement improvements. Some fine residences are now under construction at Cloverdale and that place is now taking on quite a citylike appearance with its new water and electric lighting systems.

On the trip to the new piece of road between the school house and Orlov over the tide flats, Chas. Ray and Mr. Logus of Cloverdale accompanied the editors. This new piece of road is one of the best improvements that has been made in the county for years. It is 1 1/2 miles long and makes the distance nearly five miles shorter than the road that has been traveled in the past. This road is a very scenic one and when completed will be much enjoyed by the tourists. It will also be of vast benefit to the people living in the south part of the county. The bridge that spans the little Neastuca at this point is a fine one and is of the jack knife type and is easily raised by means of weights.

The Krebs Brick Yard.

On their return from Cloverdale, the editors visited the Krebs brick yard which is located about seven miles south of Tillamook. They found Mr. E. G. Krebs, the manager of the yard, busily at work making tile. The Krebs Bros. have a fine equipment and have the best kind of clay for the products which they are putting out, which are at present brick, tile and building blocks. Later on a facing block will be produced.

With his present equipment Mr. Krebs can make 30,000 brick a day. On Thursday of last week he started fire in his first kiln of brick which contains 35,000 brick. He anticipates that the brick will be ready for market on Saturday of this week. He states that one party has offered to take every brick of his first kiln, but he could not let him have them because so many others have been waiting for brick and have their orders in ahead. There is a great demand for this kind of building material, and there is no question but that the Krebs Bros. will do fine.

Milk Sugar Factory.

On Tuesday morning before starting for the Nehalem country, the editors visited the milk sugar factory which is located at the Maple Leaf cheese factory. The milk sugar factory is utilizing the whey from the cheese factories and is at present turning out large quantities of the crude product. Machinery for refining the crude product is about to be installed and it is only a question of a short time until the markets of the Pacific Coast and the East will be supplied with our product.

Road Improvements North.

After looking over the sugar factory the party proceeded north to Garibaldi where they were joined by Commissioner Edner and proceeded from Garibaldi on to Nehalem and Neah-kah-nie Mountain. On the way we noticed considerable work done in Mr. Edner's district. A fine improvement is the stretch of improved road leading into Nehalem. The roads on the North Fork of the Nehalem have also been improved considerably as has also the road to Neah-kah-nie. Considerable improvement has also been done on the road between Mohler and Wheeler.
 Henry Tohl, one of Nehalem's pioneer business men, accompanied the party to Neah-kah-nie, where the hospitality of S. G. Reed, proprietor of that splendid resort, was enjoyed. One of the many enjoyable features of the visit was a trip up the mountain side where one of the grandest views imaginable is obtained. Mr. Reed has a fine new hotel at his resort which furnishes every comfort to the tourist. Its architecture is pleasing to the eye and it is located so that a fine view of the ocean can be obtained from its broad verandah.

Wheeler And Its Big Mill.

After taking luncheon at Neahkahnie, the party returned to Nehalem and then proceeded to Wheeler where the most improvements of that growing city were viewed. Chief among the improvements that are at present under way is the large new mill that is being constructed by the Wheeler Lumber Co. When running, this mill will employ 100 men and it will take 300 men in the woods to supply the logs for it. Besides this force there will be a large number of clerks and bookkeepers in connection with the mill and large general store that will be run by the company.

Mr. Fred Patchel took us about the big mill and explained many of its workings. It will have five engines and three boilers which will produce 100 h. p., and each of the smaller machines will be run by individual electric motors. A large band saw will cut up the logs upon their first entrance into the mill and the material from the large saw will in turn be cut up by smaller band saws. Everything has been planned to eliminate waste. A large consumer 107 feet high and 40 feet in diameter is being constructed, the outer wall of which will be sheet iron and the inner wall brick. Between the two walls a reservoir will be constructed and the waste product will be utilized in heating water for the boilers and for use about the town. It is estimated that about three-quarters of a mile of dock will be built from the mill towards the mouth of the harbor, for the handling of lumber.

The company is preparing ground for building purposes by using water from up in the hills. By this process one man with a hose can do as much as a hundred under ordinary conditions. The sluicing process has the advantage of causing the dirt to wash down and fill in the low places while the high places are being torn down.

Many new residences are being erected at Wheeler and there are many evidences that that city will grow into a thriving town of large proportions in a short time.

The Garibaldi Improvements

On their return from the north the party went over the improvements on the Miami-Garibaldi road, where the road is being straightened and the grades lessened. It will take some days more of nice weather to complete this road.

Editors Well Treated

Wherever the editors went they were treated with every courtesy, which fact they greatly appreciated. It is hoped that at some future date they will be able to look over the improvements on the Dolph road and other roads of the county.
