Tillamook County Makes Fine Showing.

Tillamook Cheese Makers Win Several Prizes at Oregon and Washington Fairs.

At the Oregon State Fair last week Tillamook County made a fine showing, considering the obstacles we had to contend with. We took sixth prize of $100 for general county exhibit by the following scores: 26 points out of a possible 30 for arrangement; 7 out of a possible 10 on arrangement; 13 out of a possible 15 for garden produce; and 12 out of a possible 15 on field products. Our weak points were on grain and orchard products, of which we at present have comparatively little. Our county exhibit was unique in that we exhibited fish and other sea food products that other counties did not exhibit.

The Co-operative Association factories received first prize of $5.00 and the Red Clover factory received second prize of $3.00 for their cheese exhibits.

An entrance fee of $10 was charged for the county exhibit.

We understand that the giving away of cheese at the cheese exhibit proved quite a drawing card. It is said that at times many people were in line to receive the small pieces of cheese given away.

Tillamook Cheese Makers Win Prizes

At the Southwestern Washington Fair held at Chehalis, Wash., H. W. Thomas, of the Cloverleaf Creamery, won first prize among seven entries, his score being 97.6 points out of a possible 100.

The scores on cheese at the Inter-State Fair held at Spokane, Sept. 1913, were as follows: Hazelwood Co. of Spokane, 96; H. A. Kalk, of Sheboygan, Wis., 96; H. W. Thomas of Tillamook, 95; Andrew Christensen of Tillamook, 95.

GIRL MARRIES AGAINST PARENTS WISHES

On Tuesday Miss Anna Christensen was married to Jack Evans. This marriage was consummated against the wishes and unknown to the bride's parents. The bride being only 16 years of age it was necessary for the contracting parties to secure a permit signed by one of the parents before a license could be secured. This permit was secured by the girl getting her mother to write her name on a piece of blank paper some time ago, after which the wording of the permit was written above the signature. The signature to the permit was "Mrs. Dora Christensen." Mrs. Christensen does not know how many other signatures the couple may have, or if they have any more, to what use they may put them, and for that reason she wishes to inform the public not to take any notes from her daughter or anyone else until they have conferred with her.

Orley Kellow was indicted for drawing a gun on Alex. Imlah. It will be remembered that the trouble between Imlah and Kellow occurred last July at which time Kellow stopped Imlah in the road near Beaver and drew a gun on him.

Julius A. Erickson was indicted on two counts for beating his wife.

In the damage suit which Ed. Leach, game warden, brought against W. O. Chase, for slander, same was settled by Chase paying Leach $250 and costs.

PORTLAND LETTER.

Portland, Ore. Oct. 7 (Special)—Planning to organize a movement for the development of the territory surrounding each of the commercial clubs throughout the state, Tom Richardson, who has probably engineered more such undertakings than any other one man in the United States, has been engaged by the Executive Committee of Portland Commercial Club to give the greater portion of his time to this line of work in the future.

With the development of each community in the state to its greatest possible extent as his object, Mr. Richardson will devote his energies and his experience to assisting each individual commercial body in raising funds and in inaugurating a campaign wide in scope and aggressive in character for the betterment of their own home territory. One of the main ideas in this work will be to place the idle lands of state within reach of homeseekers at reasonable prices and, when established on the land, the newcomer will be assisted in every possible way to make a success of his venture. If Oregon is to profit by the great movement of tourists to the Coast in 1915, each community should commence preparations to that end at once.

At the Salem State Fair, which has just closed the most prosperous session ever held, Douglas County took first prize for the best county display, forcing Benton County, five times winner of the annual contest, to take second place. The decision was a very close one, the judge having been for some time undecided as to which display was the best, the splendid showing of corn in the Douglas County booth being the final deciding factor. Clackamas County was third, Washington County fourth, Linn fifth, Tillamook sixth and Polk County seventh. Certainly no better county exhibits have ever before been made at the State Fair.

Development of the country tributary to the Sumpter Valley Railroad is now in full swing. Mining and logging are extremely active, but probably the most hopeful sign of future prosperity in that section is the great interest being taken by the farmers in stock raising and dairying. Two carloads of high grade Holsteins were recently imported by the First National Bank of Frairie City and these cattle have been distributed among the farmers at reasonable prices and on easy terms. It is expected that within a short time the output of the dairy will be among the most important products of that section.

After several years of litigation involving claims in the Siletz country, the announcement has just been made that the settlers have finally been victorious and that patents to the land will immediately be issued by the Government. With all uncertainty as to the future removed, development will certainly proceed with great speed. The railroads have long been anxious to tap that rich timber section, and they are now free to go ahead with the work.

A remarkable record has been made the past Summer in keeping down forest fires in the great timber areas of the Northwest, it being stated on good authority that the total loss will fall under 5,000,000 feet with a valuation less than $5,000, this in comparison with the former low record of

Sandlake Country Visited By Editors.

Many Things of Interest Noted; Great Need For Good Roads Plainly Seen.

On Saturday, Editor Baker of the Headlight and Editor Trombley of the Herald made an excursion into the Sandlake country on a boosting trip. After enjoying a splendid road as far as Hemlock, it was with much discomfort that we bumped over the rough Sandlake road as far as the Atkinson place where we were royally entertained by Eugene and Chas. Atkinson. At the Atkinson home we were joined by Fred Robitsch of Hemlock, and Fred Teuscher of Portland, who were also on a sight seeing trip.

During the forenoon we looked over the fine 240 acre farm of the Atkinson brothers and were shown over their cranberry lands, where they now have some fourteen helpers picking cranberries. They have about thirty-five acres of Cranberry land but have only about four of it under cultivation.

We were told that there are about 300 acres of land in the vicinity of Sandlake that is suitable for the raising of cranberries, which fact must eventually mean much for that locality and Tillamook county in general.

The Atkinson Bros. have raised as many as 700 bushels of berries on an acre of land, and we have been told W. C. King at one time raised 1000 bushels on an acre. The average price per bushel has been, for some years, $3.00 laid down at Tillamook. Thus it will be readily seen that the cranberry business is a very profitable one, and that cranberry lands are valuable.

Lack of good roads has been the one retarding influence in the cultivation of the Sandlake Cranberry lands. It takes money and ability to buy and prepare cranberry lands for yielding, and patience too, for it is necessary to wait for three years after the plants are set out before a yield is secured, and as a rule people with money and ability are not going to plant themselves into a country that is almost inaccessible at times and wait three years for returns. That is the reason why the Sandlake country has not gone ahead as it should have done.

After looking over the farm we enjoyed a splendid chicken dinner prepared by Mrs. Eugene Atkinson, after which we were taken to the beautiful ocean beach and then over the lake to the island that is owned by John Wahlin who is making improvements and fixing up his place. He has a site for a fine resort. From Wahlin's we drove back to the Atkinson place and then on home.

The Sandlake community has about 30 homes with 100 inhabitants, and there are thousands of acres of fine agricultural and grazing lands in that vicinity.

The trip to Sandlake was a very enjoyable and profitable one in that it gave us a knowledge of one of Tillamook county's beauty spots that is rich in resources.

26,000,000 feet in 1911. This splendid showing was made possible by the active co-operation of railroads, loggers, campers and land-owners with the Government rangers and the promptness with which all small blazes have been located and put out.
