BRIEF NEWS OF OREGON

Hillsboro's saloons must close at 10 o'clock hereafter, instead of at mid night.

The Oregon supreme court holds that workman's compensation law will not become operative until June 26 of next year, owing to restrictions of the constitution.

The Booth-Kelly Lumber company's machine shops at Wendling, said to be the largest of the kind in the state, were destroyed by fire at a loss of perhaps $15,000.

At a meeting of stockholders at Dallas it was decided to erect a $10,000 hospital. Frank J. Caid was elected president of the association, and Miss Edith Starbuck secretary.

Ashland citizens are considering the plan of installing water meters throughout the city. A dozen of the meters have been ordered from the Washington company for trial.

Completion of preliminary surveys for the development of 48,000 horse power within the next five years at Clear Lake in the Cascade mountains, near the coast of Eugene, is announced.

The state water board has extended the time for the completion of Port Linn reservoirs and canals at Clear Lake on the Suddy river, from which water supply is assured, to June 1, 1920.

State Engineer Lewis will not recommend that approximately 20,000 acres of land in the central Oregon irrigation project be patented until he is convinced that the land can be reclaimed.

Ten thousand turkeys have been shipped from Douglas county to San Francisco, the farmers receiving about $2000 for the birds. The birds were sent to San Francisco because of the higher prices prevailing there.

As a result of assessments by eminent engineers of the county and inhabitants of rural districts for better roads, many miles of public highways in Polk county are ready for winter use by automobiles.

A plant for the pasteurizing of milk, the first in Eugene, will be opened about the first of the month by a corporation formed by five men, four of them Danes, and the project backed by over 40 Danes of the colony west of Eugene.

Secretary Lane has ordered a public sale at Hermiston, December 27, of several hundred acres of Maxwell land on the Umatilla irrigation project. All the lands to be sold are centrally situated and each tract has an adequate water supply.

The campaign working for prohibition in the election at Albany expended $4635, according to a campaign statement filed by Mrs. Elizabeth Robinson, secretary of the committee. The prohibitionists won by a majority of 41 votes, but saloonmen may bring a contest.

Senator Chamberlain has introduced a bill authorizing the secretary of war to turn over the Sand Island revenues to the Oregon fish commission. Also resolutions from the Pendleton commercial association advocating flood control and reclamation of swamp lands in the south.

Although he has held various public offices in Marion county for more than 40 years, has served on juries and otherwise acted in public capacities, J. E. Landon was unseated as mayor of Woodburn by Circuit Judge Kelly on the ground that he is not an American citizen.

The Oregon State Sunday School association probably will meet in Albany in annual convention in April. The meeting place has not been decided upon definitely, but many of the members of the committee which will make the selection have indicated a willingness to come to that city.

Senator Chamberlain has introduced a bill appropriating $10,000 to aid the agricultural department in importing sheep for breeding purposes. The department desires to aid farmers and ranchmen in obtaining types most suitable to their particular requirements.

With a reserve of 34.8 per cent, which is almost 10 per cent more than required by law; with nearly $5,000,000 more loans outstanding, and yet over $3,999,999 more cash on hand or due from other banks than this time last year, the 170 state and 85 national banks of Oregon reflect the prosperity of this state.

Sunday performances at the moving picture shows in the Coquille valley cities will be a thing of the past if the wishes of some are granted. At Myrtle Point one faction made so much objection to the Sunday performances that the city council has passed an ordinance which prohibits the opening of the show house on Sunday.

Grading on the Siskiyou mountain section of the Pacific highway through Jackson county was started Friday under the provisions of the first contract to be let under the new bonding highway laws. The section of road covers 13 miles, and the contract price for the grading was $107,540, which is the largest contract for highway construction ever let on the Pacific coast.

SOLDIERS STILL AMMUNITION

Three Troopers Arrested and Rebel Officers Return Cartridges.

Douglas, Ariz.—As a result of the report that 2000 rounds of ammunition from Troop B, Ninth United States Cavalry, six arrests were made and it was said that 20 more might follow.

Three troopers and three Mexicans were arrested, charged with grand larceny and conspiracy to commit murders of war from the United States into Mexico.

Constitutionalist officers returned the ammunition, although it had been distributed among the soldiers at Agua Prieta. They declared it was not the first time troopers of the Ninth cavalry had sold them ammunition.

Limit For Women Clerks in Force.

Portland, Or.—Beginning Monday the employers of women clerks in Portland stores must not pay them less than $25 a week, or require them to work more than 8 hours and 20 minutes in a day, more than 50 hours in a week, or after 4 p. m. on any day.

The ruling by the industrial welfare commission is the first of the kind to be made in the United States.

MANY GOVERNORS OPPOSE INTERVENTION

New York.—In a poll taken by the New York Sun to ascertain the sentiment of state governors toward the administration's Mexican policy, of the twenty who answered, fifteen were against intervention, four for it, and one was non-committal. All, however, declared that their states were ready with militia to cope with intervention was unavoidable.

Governor West of Oregon said that "Oregon was getting ready for business" with two regiments of infantry, one battalion of field artillery and one ambulance corps, but he added that he was "with the administration."

Governor Lester of Washington declared that the situation was being "hotly handled" by the president, but that Washington, if called on, could furnish 2,500 troops in two weeks.

Governor Haines of Idaho believes that "intervention is inevitable" and offered one regiment of infantry immediately and a regiment of cavalry as soon as equipment can be gathered.

Des Moines Saloons Closed.

Des Moines, Ia.—Every one of Des Moines' 85 saloons is dark, following a decision of the Iowa supreme court. The court ruled unanimously that the saloon content petition is insufficient because it is based on the last general election instead of the municipal election.

3100 Ohio Saloons Close.

Cleveland.—Proprietors of more than 3100 saloons in Ohio closed their places of business in accordance with the provision of the state liquor license law, which limits the number of saloons in "wet" territory to one for each 500 population.

WILLIAM SHAKSPEARE, Born 1564, Died 1616 Tillamook Feed Company Born 1911 Still Doing Business

William Shakespeare must have been thinking of "DANNEBROG BUTTER" when he wrote in "Taming of the Shrew" Act I Scene I, "I pryth go and get me some." And again, in "Two Gentlemen of Verona," Act IV, Scene I: "Unequaled in Quality," "Of such Perfection as we do in our Quality Much Want," Whilst in "The Tempest," Act II, Scene I, we read: "It is the Quality," and in Act III, Scene I, he says: "So Perfect and so Peerless."

William evidently knew something when he said ("Henry the IV," Act I, Scene I.) "As Good as Heart can Wish." And in Act V, Scene V: "Loved of all Ladies," whilst he informs us in "Timon of Athens, Act V, Scene II, it is "For Thy Best Use." He also gives some good advice when in "Macbeth," he says that it has won "Golden Opinions From all Sorts of People." And also in "Henry VI," "Remember From Whence You had it," Tillamook Feed Co., Exclusive Agents.

In other words William says: "Don't forget the Tillamook Feed Co., Leading Grocers and General Supply Store."
