FRIDAY DECEMBER 26, 1913.

Republicans as well as Democrats tell us that the Democrats have just passed a bill which has been passed by the majority for years. This seems to be a strange thing to say, for the fact that the Republican party had complete control of all branches of our government for years. Why did not the Republican party give us relief long ago? The answer is easy. The interests have always had too firm a grip upon the G. O. P. The Republican party has been long on promises but mighty short so far as actual accomplishments have been concerned. It is our opinion that the people will take little stock in Republican promises for some time to come.

This week's Headlight contains language that should be considered beneath the dignity of the most conventional newspaper in the United States. Some think Mr. Baker used the expression in question in an endeavor to carry out his usual low-down tactics. We do not carry this view, however. We consider it an exhibition of pure ignorance. It has been quite evident on many previous occasions that Mr. Baker, at times, neglects to consult his dictionary, and we believe that in regard to his latest "break" he has again done so.

Since our last issue the new currency bill has been signed by the president and has become a law of the land. It will not become effective, however, until the organization and machinery necessary for its operation has been provided. Substantial business men and bankers throughout the length and breadth of the land are declaring it to be a good law and the most important piece of legislation that has been enacted in this country during the past fifty years.

The editor of the Herald has interviewed our local bankers in regard to the question. President Taft of the First National says, that in his judgment, the bill is a good one and that the First National will take part in the new banking scheme. President Harrison of the County Bank, which is a state bank, says, that for the present the County Bank will not change its charter, but that if the new banking law, after a fair trial, demonstrates that its provisions will be of benefit to his bank, he will advise going into the proposition.

ACCURATE JUDGING DONE BY STUDENTS OF STOCK

That College students of animal husbandry are learning to judge and place livestock with great accuracy is shown by the closeness of the scores made by four Agricultural College teams at the Portland Livestock Show. The Idaho team won first place with a total of 2351 1/2 points out of a possible 3000, the Oregon team was second with 2346 points, Washington State was third with 2331 points, and Utah fourth with 2287 1/2 points. There was a difference of five and a half points between the Oregon and the Idaho teams, and of sixty-five between the highest and the lowest.

Points are made by first placing four animals of one class in order of their excellence and then giving orally to the committee on contests the reasons for so placing them. In order to make 100 points the student must be correct in ranking the animals and correct in delivering his reasons, which must be done without notes. Should every man in a team do this without an error in any one class of livestock, the team would receive 500 points. As there were six classes of stock to be judged, each team would have made 300 on a perfect score.

The six classes were as follows: Shorthorn breeding cattle, fat catt e, dairy milkers, dairy breeders, Hampshire breeding ewes, and pigs. The best score by a single member of any team was made by Mr. Schnelby, of Washington State, with 515 points. The second highest was reached by W. K. Peery, of the Oregon College, with 504 points.

The following members of the Oregon team won first in the specific class: I. M. C. Anderson, of Drewsey, pigs, 99; (Mr. Anderson tried for first place in sheep, 98.) Neil C. Jamison, Shorthorn heifers, 99; and W. K. Peery, fat steers, 98. The O. A. C. team last year with five classes made a total of 1715 points equivalent to 2068 with 6 classes, which is 288 points below their latest score. And the high man last year had but 405 points to his credit, as against 504 points made by Mr. Peery. Also last year there were 200 points between the highest and the lowest marks as compared with the 65 points difference this year.

The other members of the Oregon team were George R. Johnson and L. A. Whitstead, of Enterprise, H. C. Lambie, was alternate.

THE BUTCHER'S LAMENT

The meat inspector is mine enemy, I shall not like him. He maketh me to show out the flies and cover the sausage mill. He showeth me the meat I shall sell, and that I shall not. Yea, verily tho' I scrub the ice-box twice yearly, he sayeth it is not clean. He kicketh if I keep hogs in the back yard and sayeth it is unsanitary. He smelleth of my sausage and heaveth it in the slop barrel, even though it be but slightly sour. He demandeth that I use not the larva and mammae for sausage. And he speaks in harsh tones if I disobey him. I bringeth my meat to his office for inspection, wrapped in tree tops. He turneth it down and insists that I wrap it in clean, white cloths. Yea, verily tho' mine hog grew up in mine own orchard, he condemneth it for cholera, and fly blows and I lose twelve dollars and a half. He huris threats at me if I bring out the livers and "lights," and if I am slow about paying my bill at the month's end, he maketh me bring the money at the time of inspection. He appointeth my livers with kerene and insisteth on seeing the holes and ear-marks even tho' I tell him there is none. Surely, the words "Clean up and stay clean" will be huried at me, all the days of my life, and I shall live in the fear of the inspector for ever and ever. Amen.

A CONSISTENT LAYER

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Ore., Dec. 15.—A hen that produces 504 eggs in three consecutive years is a triumph of the breeder's art. Hen No. A. 27 of the Oregon Agricultural College Station, has made this marvelous record. During the first year she laid 210 eggs, the second 222, and the third 272. Like most of the other remarkable layers in the champion flock, she is a cross bred hen of the Barred Rock and White Leghorn breeds, and belongs to the new strain or breed that is being developed by Professor James Dryden for increasing egg production. The value of her three years' work, 554 dozen eggs at 25c. per dozen is about $14. The cost of her feed three years is about $4.50. This leaves a margin of $9.50 to pay for investment and labor.

People in the News

Cardinal Rampoldi, ex-papal secretary of state, died at Rome.

The board of directors of the Cincinnati baseball club refused to ratify Garry Herrmann's sale of Joe Tinker to Brooklyn for $25,000.

Ex-President Taft states that by means of diet and avoiding quack doctors he has reduced his weight over 70 pounds. He weighs 271 now.

Two thousand Chicago women, at a mass meeting, expressed their wrath at the forced resignation of Ella Flagg Young as superintendent of schools.

Francis J. Honey announced that if Governor Johnson became a candidate for United States senator, he himself would be a candidate for governor to succeed Johnson.

J. T. Conway and Frank Riebet, prominent real estate men of Portland, were convicted in the United States district court of using the mails to defraud and exploiting a land lottery.

Mayor Albee dismissed former Chief of Police Slover, now captain of police, and Captain Rieby, three sergeants and seven patrolmen, for conduct unbecoming an officer. The dismissals are results of charges made against certain members of the department.

In a sweeping decision, in which Mrs. Coe was scathingly criticized, Judge McGinn granted a decree of divorce to Dr. Henry Waldo Coe, a prominent Portland physician, although Mrs. Coe had asked for the divorce, and held that all the property involved in the suit is his.

Aaron R. Cooley, 47, a brewer in San Francisco, was arrested there as the alleged slayer of Thomas Van Pelt Sr., in Curry-county, Oregon, 15 years ago. It is said here that the arrest may involve prominent families in this state and Washington. It was intimated that the homicide was the outgrowth of a feud, and that the slayer probably was employed to commit the act.

C. A. Rudell, of The Dalles, who disappeared last Saturday, following the issuing of a warrant for his arrest on the charge of having misappropriated funds of the Moose Lodge, of which he was treasurer, killed himself in a Portland hotel by taking poison.

Brief News of the Week

The New York assembly passed the direct primary bill.

Massachusetts state grange decided against woman suffrage at the closing session in Boston.

Foreigners here have sent through the mails alone $1,400,000 to the folks at home for Christmas, according to figures compiled by the New York postoffice.

Pock, the comic weekly, has been taken over by the Masses, a Socialist publication, according to a report from New York.

The City Council of Independence, Or., raised the local saloon license fees from $1500 to $2000 each, with the limit placed on two saloons as heretofore.

A test of the woman suffrage law in Illinois has been commenced in form of a suit filed to prevent the election commissioners from permitting separate ballots for women and to prevent women from voting.

Dunton, Ohio, the largest city in the United States to operate under the commission manager form of government after January 1, 1914, selected H. M. Waite, Cincinnati, Ohio, city engineer, as its city manager.

Representative members of the progressive party from every congressional district in Illinois met at Chicago, adopted a platform and informally agreed that Frank G. Allen, of Moline, should be the party's candidate for the United States senate next year.
