FRIDAY FEBRUARY 20, 1914.

TELL TALE "STRAWS"

The prohibition forces of Oregon have plans well under way for a battle royal in an endeavor to put the state in the dry column at the coming November election. While it is a question as to whether the state can be voted dry on account of the great preponderance of influence which the city of Portland may exert in favor of the wets, there is no question but what the dry vote of the state will be greatly increased at the coming election, and the prospects are that the wets will have all they can do to carry the state.

The cause of prohibition is marching on; it is gaining ground every day. The demands of the times are slowly but surely putting the liquor traffic out of business. The fight against the rum shop, we are told, began with the sentimentalists. This may, or it may not be true. It makes little difference. The sentimentalist has his place and he has no doubt filled it in connection with the war that has been waged against the liquor traffic. At any rate the cause of prohibition has been agitated and kept alive through many defeats until the hard-headed business world has begun to sit up and take notice in no uncertain manner. The business world has come to the conclusion that "booze" and business will not profitably mix. As evidence of this fact we publish the following:

"Pittsburg, Jan. 19.—The Pittsburg & Lake Erie railroad dismissed 126 men for drinking yesterday, and is said to have about 500 more on the list to be dropped."

The above dispatch is short; it is of but few words, but contains a world of meaning and much food for thought.

It has the ordinary prohibition speech of an hour condensed into twenty-nine words; it dwells upon the success or failure of scores of men; and it takes into consideration the happiness or sorrow of scores more of those who are dependent upon the men involved. How that little dispatch does sweep things. It will literally knock a hole in any argument the liquor men can possibly advance. The force of its logic is invincible.

One of the biggest "straws" showing how the wind is blowing prohibition-ward may be seen in the unprecedented action of the Pittsburg Board of Trade the other day. This was no less than the adoption, by a nearly unanimous vote, of a resolution favoring the proposed prohibition amendment to the constitution of the United States. This resolution follows a lengthy preamble setting forth the evils of the liquor traffic, and the benefits of prohibition as illustrated by the experience of those states and cities which have tried it. Then the Pittsburg Board of Trade squarely resolves: "That this organization places itself on record as favorable to the passage of the resolution now before congress submitting the question of national prohibition to the several state legislatures, that the matter may be settled in harmony with the will of the people." Another resolution urges the license court of Allegheny county meanwhile to grant licenses "to as few saloons as possible." This, and other reforms are urged "on moral, economic and patriotic grounds." All this is "going some," for an organization like the Board of Trade in as great a city as Pittsburg. It means that the hard-headed business men of the country are coming to see that, to insure economic efficiency, good government and stable prosperity, the saloon and the liquor traffic must go. The action noted is one of the "signs of the times" with big import.

Another "straw" which tells how the fight on the liquor traffic is going from a world wide standpoint is the recent stand taken by the Czar of Russia in regard to the business in his own country. Up to the present time the license from the liquor business and the revenues brought to the government through the direct sales of liquor has caused the government to encourage the consumption of liquor, and this thing has been carried to such an extent that its results viz: the depravity, poverty and degradation of the Russian poorer classes has increased to an alarming extent. This fact was brought to the Czar's notice during a late journey throughout the country, and the result has been that the Czar has recommended reforms which will greatly restrict liquor drinking in his country. The Czar recommends that it is better for Russia to be supported from revenues derived from proper, healthful lines of endeavor, than to be supported by revenues derived from methods which are breaking down the bone and sinew and moral fibre of her people.

When we get at the bottom of things we discover that Russia is now facing the liquor problem in a great deal the same light that we are facing it. The signs of the times are very encouraging to the prohibition forces, and there is every reason to believe that with continual hammering and stick-to-itiveness victory will be ours within a reasonable length of time.

SPARKS FROM "UNCLE RUBE'S" ANVIL

The Democratic administration is giving Tillamookers fine weather.

Who could complain in Tillamook, but a dyspeptic, disgruntled Kenbucan?

Some people would complain if they had a quarter section in paradise fenced in with gold brick.

O ye Tillamookers, why are you not howling about that "free cheese" that's coming down here from Canada???

We are glad that the election is coming on maybe the "Snap Shot Man" will give us a rest on the "Pavement" while he gives it to the Democrats.

"Gee," won't that Republican band wagon in the coming election be a "whopper" with Editor Baker aboard, full of hot air?

It is said if Governor West can be induced to run for governor again it is doubtful if anyone would run against him, it would be useless for them too.

We wish some of that cheap butter and cheese would come this way, we need a roll or two of butter since old boss went dry (or the Democratic hard times set in. I guess that is what made her go dry).

The unemployed are still hunting work. When they find it they don't want it, when they can't find it then they want it. But they are traveling south where that free butter is being shipped in from Australia.

Will it effect Tillamook cheese, if American coastwise ships have to pay toll to pass through the Panama canal? Is it vessels that belong to the U. S. that were granted free passage through the canal under Taft, or was it free tolls to rich companies that would operate boats from the Atlantic to the Pacific? If the former, they should come free, if the latter let them pay tolls.

The Democrats should do the right thing about vessels passing through the Panama canal whether it pleases the rich corporations, Johnnie Bull or even the Tillamook Headlight or not. We consider the men at the head of our government as men that will do the right regardless of the pleases and displeases.

The Distance Between WHEELER And Nehalem City

Is less than 2 miles. Between these two towns there is more traffic than between any other two towns in the county located but that distance apart.

Yet to drive a team from Wheeler to Nehalem you would have to drive over 10 miles around through the valley.

A wagon road between the towns of Wheeler and Nehalem should be built at once and thus eliminate the waste of time and money occasioned by forcing traffic over a 10 mile haul instead of over a two mile haul.

We believe work should be started on this project at once.

A MESSAGE TO WOMEN

Who Are "Just Ready to Die"

When you are "just ready to die" when you feel so weak that you hardly drag yourself about—and cause you have not slept well, get up as tired-out next morning when you want to bed, you need Vinol. Miss Lea Dumas writes from Ione, N. Y., saying: "I was in a very run-down condition for several weeks but two bottles of Vinol me on my feet again and made me strong and well. Vinol has done more good than all the other medicines I ever took."

If the careworn, run-down and the pale, sickly children and feeble folks around here would follow Miss Dumas' example, they, too, soon be able to say that Vinol, delicious cod liver and iron, had built them up and made them strong.

It is a wonderful, strength giving and body-builder, and we sell it under a guarantee of satisfaction. Get your money back if Vinol does not help you.

P. S. For any skin trouble try Sazo Salve. We guarantee it.
Chas. I. Clough, Druggist.
