TUESDAY MARCH 10, 1914.

Two powerful advocates of the repeal of the free Panama canal tolls have come to the support of President Wilson. One is Col. Goethals, the head of the canal administration, who does not hesitate to say he stands squarely against exempting American vessels from payment of tolls. The other is Hon. Henry White, former American ambassador to Italy and to France. Mr. White was a secretary of the embassy at London in 1898, and in the absence of Ambassador Hay, opened the negotiations for the repeal of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty, which the Hay-Pauncefote pact supplanted. Mr. White affirms that there is no doubt the words "all nations" in the Hay-Pauncefote treaty were intended to include the United States as well as others. Mr. White's testimony ought to be conclusive on that matter, since he practically negotiated the treaty. It looks as though congress might as well back down first as last. Our honor as a nation is at stake, and is of vastly more importance than the granting of a subsidy to American shipping, which the free tolls practically amounts to. It is beyond us to be able to see the good logic in building a canal, paid for by the whole people, and then turn it over to a few ship owners who by some hook or crook, will surely combine and keep all the benefits of free tolls to themselves. And then the treaty clearly states that "all nations" shall be on an equal footing in regard to tolls and as this was understood by those who formulated the treaty, we do not see where we have the right to go back on our word just because we are big and strong enough to bulldoze our way through and do as we like. When a sensible and honest man makes a mistake he generally endeavors to correct it, and this is what President Wilson is endeavoring to have his party do. We are sure that after the matter has been thoroughly threshed out and settled, President Wilson will have added another laurel to his many achievements, for the wisdom which he has displayed and the manly stand he has taken.

OREGON NEWS NOTES OF GENERAL INTEREST

Events Occurring Throughout the State During the Past Week.

Good Samaritan is Well Repaid.

Eugene.—James Hemenway, of Cottage Grove, was surprised upon opening his morning mail to find a letter containing a draft on a Wyoming bank for $300 and the offer of the management of an oil enterprise at Castle, Wyo., the letter being signed "James Mullen." For some time Hemenway could not remember anyone by that name, but finally he called to mind a man without money who called at his office 18 months ago and offered to work for his dinner. Hemenway allowed him to repair the sidewalk in front of his home and gave him a meal.

Afterward, believing him to be worthy, Hemenway gave him $5. The man promised to return the money "some day" with interest.

Trap Owners War on Tax.

Astoria.—The owners of fish traps along the north shore of the Columbia river are excited over the way licenses and taxes are being imposed upon them. At the present time these trap owners pay the customary property tax, a license fee of from $25 to $50 a year and an additional fee of $1 on each 1000 fish taken. Now comes initiative measure No. 11, prepared by the Washington state grange and filed at the statehouse in Olympia a few days ago. It is to be voted upon at the coming November election, and if approved will impose another and still heavier burden on that class of fishing gear.

Big Celebration Planned.

The Dalles.—The Dalles Rodeo, the wild west show which was inaugurated here last fall with such great success, will be staged July 2, 3 and 4 this year, making it include a celebration of Independence day.

The Rodeo was held last year combined with the county fair. The farmers objected to the wild west show in connection with the fair, contending that it detracted from the exhibits and other features. So it has been decided to hold the county fair in the fall and the Rodeo in July.

GOVERNOR ON EASTERN TRIP

Land Matters Will Demand Attention and Will Speak on Prison Reform.

Salem.—For the purpose of advancing the state's interests in various land matters pending before congress and the various government departments, Governor West left for Washington, D. C., and expects to be gone from the state three or four weeks. Secretary of State Ben W. Olcott will be acting governor in his absence.

In addition to looking after state land matters at the national capital, Governor West will be the principal speaker at a mass meeting and convention on prison reform to be held in New York, under the auspices of the National Prison Reform association.

One of the principal measures in which the governor is interested is the bill pending in the house of representatives which authorizes the exchange of 50,000 acres of timber land in the Santiam national forest for an equal number of acres in scattering sections of school land. This bill has passed the senate and the governor hopes to see it put through the house at this session of congress.

Safety Rules are Issued.

Salem.—Labor Commissioner Hoff has prepared a number of rules for persons working in factories. The object is to keep them from being injured. While simple, they are important. Mr. Hoff says, and if observed will save many legs, arms, fingers and lives. His object is to have the rules printed and copies framed and placed in conspicuous places in the factories.

Cool Settlers May Get Land Claims.

Marshfield.—Twenty or more Cool county men will be affected by a recent decision of the interior department regarding the Hyde-Benson alleged fraudulent forest land selections. The department in one case decided in favor of actual settlers contesting such land and holds that such actual settlers are entitled to preference rights of entry of the tracts involved after the cancellation of the selections.

Linn County Will Go into the Past.

Albany.—To ascertain the origin of the names of towns, streams and mountains, and to look up all the historical sites throughout the county, is the plan formulated at a meeting of the Linn County Historical society.

Announce Strawberry Festival.

Roseburg.—This year's annual Roseburg strawberry carnival will be held on May 21, 22 and 23. The committee in charge of the 1914 carnival announce that several novel features are under consideration.

The Distance Between WHEELER And Nehalem City

Is less than 2 miles. Between these two towns there is more traffic than between any other two towns in the county located but that distance apart.

Yet to drive a team from Wheeler to Nehalem you would have to drive over 10 miles around through the valley.

A wagon road between the towns of Wheeler and Nehalem should be built at once and thus eliminate the waste of time and money occasioned by forcing traffic over a 10 mile haul instead of over a two mile haul.

We believe work should be started on this project at once.
