TUESDAY MARCH 31, 1914.

While it is expected that the measure reposing from the Tillamook Herald will pass the house by a substantial majority, in the senate the vote will be close. President Wilson is keeping his supporters in hand, however, and it is believed that he will win out. The direct frankness of the president found characteristic illustration the other day. Senator Jones of Washington, Republican, made a speech against repeal, repeating a newspaper illustration that the tolls upon the price to be paid as the result of negotiation with Great Britain for non-interference by foreign powers in Mexico, and for England's defense of the Monroe doctrine. Mr. Wilson promptly called Mr. Jones to the White House, convinced him that there was no ground for the illustration, and he went back to the senate and manfully said so.

and how to milk cows. Somebody says big timber boss he knows everything. Some fellows tell me de funny man, for timber boss thinks mister Farmer had mans, me thinks mister Farmer he good mans. Whats the matter, tell me mister Herald. Me pay big taxes, everybody on ranch pay big taxes. Mister Herald does big City man who lives in Portland pay big taxes in Tillamook County? Me have 100 acres ranch worth $8000.00, me pay $72.00 dis year taxes, somebody say big timber boss have 100 acres timber worth $12000.00, he pay $72.00. Big timber boss lands worth twice as much as me land but he pay same tax I do, whats the matter, please mister Herald tell me if funny man somebody say is gumshoe man get some my moneys. Somebody tells me shut up, nother fellow tell me big fool, some say me crazy, me all time worry, please Mister Herald tell me all about dis big trouble. Your friend J. Johnson.

PLANS OUTLINED FOR COAST DEVELOPMENT

San Francisco.—The department of commerce is going to do much during the coming summer for the benefit of the Pacific Coast. Something of the department's plans was outlined before the San Francisco chamber of commerce in a speech by Secretary Redford.

Two great undertakings at least, it is said, have been determined upon. The first is to determine how much they can contribute to the food supply of the coast, and a more careful survey of the coast is to be made. The second is to determine how much they can contribute to the food supply of the coast, and a more careful survey of the coast is to be made.

Ord. Tax Delinquency Date September
Portland.—There is no legal duty resting upon the taxpayers to pay taxes prior to August 31, and there is no default until September 1. Circuit Judge Clifton ruled in the case brought by the president of the Portland Taxpayers' association, in which an order restraining County Treasurer Lewis from collecting penalties against persons who have paid one-half of their taxes before April 1 was asked.

COMMUNICATION

Roseburg, Oregon,
March 24, 1914.

Editor Herald:
Tillamook, Oregon.

Dear sir,
I would like to have my old friends in Tillamook County know that Hon. George M. Brown, my former law-partner, is a candidate for the office of Attorney General of the State of Oregon, seeking nomination on the Republican Ticket at the coming primaries. Mr. Brown is in every way qualified for this office and has made a fine record for the past 29 years as a prosecuting officer. He stands for law enforcement, and I am satisfied he will make good as Attorney General, if chosen for the office.

Yours very truly,
B. L. Eddy.

COMMUNICATION

Cloverdale, Or., March 25, 1914.

Dear Mister Herald:
Me in big trouble, the other day me go to town and hear some bad stories. Me walk up main street and see some very funny lookin man, him look like my dog when me go huntin in woods on other side my barn, he all time lookin for something. He got funny face; me ask some mans on street who dis funny man was. Some man he says this funny man his good man fer farmers, some other mans he say this funny man he ben big gum-shoe man for big timber boss. Me watch him close, me see him write in book every time he talk to some other man on street; me guess he ben big gum-shoe man for big timber boss alright; me dont know what gum shoe man is. Somebody say this big gum-shoe man for timber boss he gets big moneys if he makes everybody in Court House out bad mans. He makes big lawsuit, the other day please tell me Mister Herald all about dis funny man, some mans says is big gum-shoe man for timber boss, me dont understand. Somebody says big timber boss he joins Grange and he show farmers how to make grass grow how to make fat hogs
