WEST EXPLAINS ROAD FUND PLAN

Salem, Or., May 19.—Governor West said there was a misunderstanding as to the use of the state highway funds to be made by the state highway commission, and in explanation he gave out the following statement:

"The highway commission has not declared its intention of giving state aid only to counties issuing bonds. All counties contributing to the highway fund are entitled to share in its benefits. Counties have a right to build roads without bonds if they see fit.

"It is the commission's desire, however, to put the limited amount of money at its disposal into roads at an early date, and to this end it desires to build through cooperation in several of the counties, demonstration roads. It is not likely, however, that many counties other than those that have issued bonds and thus have funds on hand will be able to cooperate with the state just at this time. In time both the state and other counties will have additional funds and further cooperation will be possible.

"The state is constructing a stretch of road in Sherman county and has declared its willingness to cooperate with Washington county in the construction of a permanent section of the Ke-Tigardville road. Neither of these counties have issued bonds. The bonded counties which have funds on hand are in a position to cooperate at this time are Jackson, Clatsop and Columbia."

CONTRACTS LET

Deisman & Dolan secured the contract for the construction of a half mile of cement pavement north of the Hall Slough, their price being $6,717. The bid of F. C. Feldshau was $8,615.90; and the bid of Geibisch & Joplin was $9,157.25.

For the construction of the farm buildings the bids were as follows: Minich & Winters $2,135; M. Melchoir $2,271; J. F. Stranahan $2,370; Bales & Erskine $2,100; Frank Heyd $2,100. Bales & Erskine & Frank Heyd will take the contract.

Geo. Vardeser secured the contract for the delivery of 75 cord of hemlock wood at $3.80 per cord.

NEWS FROM OUR NATIONAL CAPITAL

East and South Threaten Important Western Land Measures.

Washington—Two bills of great importance to the west are threatened with defeat because of opposition by eastern and southern members of the house of representatives. One proposes to modify the cultivation clause of the homestead law by reducing the area that must be cultivated prior to the submission of final proof, and the other grants to settlers on government irrigation projects 20 years, instead of 10, in which to pay for water.

Consideration has been given by the senate and house committees on public lands to bills proposing to amend the homestead law, but neither house has passed such a bill.

So far as the 20-year bill is concerned, that has already passed the senate, but the house has refused to consider the senate bill allowing settlers on government irrigation projects 20 years instead of ten, in which to make water payments, and providing for graduated payments.

House Begins Work on Trust Bills.

Formal steps to start the administration anti-trust legislation through congress were taken by the house rules committee, when it formulated a special rule for the expeditious passage of the three bills which make up the anti-trust program.

House leaders were interested in a report that in case the senate finds it impossible to put through all the trust legislation which the house will pass and get away from Washington about July 15, an effort will be made to effect a compromise, put through part of this legislation and go home.

According to this plan, the senate would provide nothing further than the creation of an interstate trade commission, with authority to investigate and make a report at the next session of congress.

There are many democratic senators who are convinced that the senate cannot hope to put through the sub-committee's trust bill inside of two months at the least.

Statue to John Barry is Dedicated.

With the dedication and unveiling of a monument to Commodore John Barry, the Irish patriot of the American revolution, President Wilson eulogized the early settler and hero who "brought his heart to America when he came from Ireland."

The president said Barry and Washington were the men who first saw that America must live her own life without "entangling alliances."

"We need not," said the president, "and should not, form alliances with any nation. Those who are right, those who hold their honor above their advantage do not need alliances. You need alliances only when you are not strong. You are weak when in the wrong and when afraid to do right."

Referring to Barry's heroic work as "the father of the American navy," on his coming from Ireland, the president said:

"The test of us all is whether we will assist America to live her life, retaining our ancient interest and affection for our native land."

National Capital Brevities.

Senator Borah offered an amendment to the river and harbor bill, asking for a loan of $50,000,000 to be used in reclamation projects.

A further urgent deficiency bill, appropriating upwards of $6,000,000 because of army and navy activities in Mexico, will be passed by the house.

President Wilson will oppose the changes in the pending anti-trust bills advocated by labor leaders to make

SUPPORT OF RIVALS PROFFERED DR. SMITH

From Journal:

Congratulatory messages are pouring in from all sides upon Dr. C. J. Smith, the Democratic nominee for governor. Among the first was a telegram from Judge A. S. Bennett of The Dalles, his late rival for the nomination, in which he said: "I congratulate you on your nomination and wish you success in the election."

Colonel Robert A. Miller telephoned a message of congratulation as soon as it became apparent that he himself was not to be the victor in the primary election, while Senator Harry Lane sent his personal good wishes by wire last night.

MEXICAN NEWS NOTES

The Mexican rebels under Zapata are said to have reached a point within ten miles of Mexico City.

British residents of Mexico City have gathered in concentration districts in the foreign residence quarter in the capital city in fear of an attack upon them.

Notice is said to have been given foreign owners to reopen their mines in Parral district, Mexico, in 15 days. The Mexicans will seize the mines if the order is not obeyed.

Rebel commander Villa is said to have put the lid on at Torreon. Soldiers are not allowed to use intoxicating liquors and citizens are compelled to keep within proper bounds.

Dictator Huerta is said to be surrounded by the best men in his army for his own private body guard. The soldiers wear blue shoulder straps, indicative of their service to their president.

The Brazilian Minister at Mexico City reported to the State Department that the liberating of Consul Stillman at Saltillo had been confirmed by Americans who reached the Mexican capital.

The size of the expense of the present Mexican undertaking is shown by the deficiency appropriation bill for $2,701,327, in the house providing for the army alone. More than one-half of the amount is for transportation.

Official reports show the constitutionalists rapidly extending their field of occupation. Consul Canada at Vera Cruz reported them in possession of Tuxpam, the important east coast town with extensive oil industries.

The reported execution of Private Samuel Parks, an American soldier who strayed through the Mexican lines, will be investigated immediately, it was said in a message from Mexican Foreign Minister Ruiz to the Spanish Ambassador Mr. Riano.

more explicit the exemption of labor unions from the operation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

The diplomatic and consular appropriation bill aggregating $5,000,000 was passed by the house. It provides for the acquisition of embassy sites and buildings at Tokio at $150,000; in Berne, Switzerland, at $140,000 and in Mexico City at $150,000.

The Charles S. Mellen, former president of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, told him the whole political story of the New Haven road was the assertion here of Joseph W. Folk, chief counsel for the interstate commerce commission, which is probing the affairs of the New England railroad system.

A new regulation governing weights on carload shipments of berries by express from points in Oregon and Washington to destinations as far east as Chicago, Ill., by which the transportation charges were increased, was suspended by the interstate commerce commission. The suspension holds until September 17.

Democratic leaders in the senate aligned with the president for repeal of tolls exemption expect to see the bill closed by Sunday, but the most optimistic house leaders do not believe the three trust measures can be passed in less than three weeks.

MILLIONS SPENT AT MORGAN'S COMMAND

New Haven's Ex-President Re-counts How Subsidiaries Were Purchased.

Washington.—The story of absolute domination by the late J. Pierpont Morgan in the affairs of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad system, of the spending of millions at the command of the all-powerful financial ruler, was told to the Interstate Commerce Commission by Chas. S. Mellen, ex-president of the railroad.

Members of the commission, counsel and spectators listened with amazement as he related how he had stood in awe of Mr. Morgan, how he had consulted Theodore Roosevelt, then president of the United States, regarding the purchase of the Boston & Maine railroad; how he had prevented the late E. H. Harriman from acquiring the Boston & Maine by getting it himself, and how he had dealt with the late Police Inspector Byrnes of New York to obtain the West Chester stock held by persons whom he assumed to be connected with Tammany Hall.

Particular interest was aroused by Mr. Mellen's account of his conference with the then president Colonel Roosevelt, respecting the acquisition of the Boston & Maine. He explained he was a great admirer of Colonel Roosevelt and frequently conferred with him about important questions.

Colonel Roosevelt said to him at that conference, according to the testimony, that he was not a lawyer and was not prepared to advise what he would do about the proposed purchase, but on Mr. Mellen's statement of the situation, he thought there might be nothing objectionable in it.

Mr. Mellen added that the president said he would countenance no illegal action and suggested that he confer with Commissioner Lane, of the Interstate Commerce Commission. From Mr. Lane, he said, he got no expression of opinion.

COLONEL ROOSEVELT HOME

Denies Having Expressed Himself as To 1916 Presidential Probabilities. New York.—Theodore Roosevelt returned home Tuesday after many months in South America.

With a few crisp sentences, punctuated by decisive gestures, the Colonel reaffirmed the verity of the "River of Doubt," curtly denied having expressed himself as to presidential probabilities of 1916, declared he would not run for governor of New York, made a few deprecatory remarks about his critics and, with harbor craft tooting and flags fluttering, was taken on board a tug, which proceeded to Oyster Bay.

PRIMARY ELECTIONS HELD IN OREGON

Portland.—That Dr. James Withycombe, of Corvallis, and Dr. C. J. Smith, of Portland, will be the republican and democratic candidates, respectively, for governor in the November election was indicated clearly by the figures received from the state at large.

It is probable that Dr. Withycombe will have a plurality of about 4000. Dr. Withycombe, it is believed, will come up to Multnomah county with a lead over Gus C. Moser of about 10,500 votes.

Dr. C. J. Smith is nominated by the democrats in all probability by a plurality between 1000 and 1500. His closest competitor is A. S. Bennett, of The Dalles, who is second in both Multnomah county and the state outside.

C. N. McArthur has won the republican nomination for representative in congress in the third district, comprising Multnomah county, by a plurality over A. W. Lafferty, the incumbent, that probably will total 2100 votes.

United States Senator George M. Chamberlain was renominated by the democrats, R. A. Booth received the republican and William Hanley the progressive nomination for United States senator. All were unopposed.

HOW FOR CONTROL OF HOG CHOLERA

way to the cholera-free herds, every owner of hogs in Oregon should guard against the invasion of cholera germs by each and all of the following methods as outlined by Dr. B. T. Simms, veterinarian of the Agricultural college:

- 1—By direct contact with hogs suffering from cholera.
- 2—By carriers; that is, by hogs that have recovered from the disease but still pass germs with their droppings.
- 3—By humans that have come into contact with infected hogs or premises.
- 4—By dogs, coyotes, buzzards or other carrion feeders that have eaten carcasses of hogs that died from cholera.

5—By stock yards, stock cars, etc., in which have been put hogs that were infected with cholera.

6—By infected water—as from an infected hog lot or pasture.

7—By slop, swill or garbage that contains uncooked bacon rinds or ham bones of hogs that were affected with cholera when slaughtered.

After infection takes place the only prevention is the injection of hog cholera serum. But most severe outbreaks may be averted by observing care with regard to spread by the foregoing means.
