FARMER MEETING AT NEHALEM

The farmer meeting which took place at Nehalem on Thursday afternoon was not so well attended as it should have been. However, those who did attend received much valuable information from the talks given by W. S. Brown, of the State Agricultural College and B. C. Jones our County Agriculturist. Mr. Brown discussed loganberry culture and Mr. Jones took up the question of better bulls.

Mr. Brown's discussion was very interesting. After giving considerable information and directions in regard to the growing of the loganberry. He dwelt in considerable extent on the benefits of co-operation and the necessity of marketing a berry that is in first-class shape. He stated that our markets in the east had been injured because of the fact that our producers had not been particular enough in preparing the fruit for market. He stated that berries should be picked after they become dry and not later than noon time, as they were less liable to break up at that time; that a broken berry is a detriment to the others about it; and in shipping the dried product great care should be taken that spoiled berries do not get into the shipment. He also said that we should guard against picking berries when they were green, as green berries had also injured the market for loganberries.

Mr. Jones talked on the subject of better bulls. He told of the great advantage a thoroughbred bull was to the community and advised the forming of bull associations, whereby a group of farmers could go in together and purchase a first-class animal. He advised against cross-breeding. Mr. Jones demonstrated his talk with photographs which aided his audience to understand the points he wished to make.

Near the close of the meeting three more speakers arrived, but the hour had grown so late that they had time to say but little.

J. E. Dorman of the U. S. Dairy Division, spoke on the advisability of better stock as did W. A. Bar of the State Agricultural College. J. W. Flumery, State Horticulturist also made a few remarks.

OPEN LETTER FROM TIMBERMEN.

June 11, 1914

M. J. Gersoni, District Attorney, Tillamook, Ore.

Sir— We hereby call your attention to the fact that about 124 warrants, supposedly for County bridges, aggregating approximately the sum of $20,000.00 (A list showing numbers, to whom issued and amounts being hereto attached and marked exhibit "A"), have been issued during 1913 and paid by the monies of the taxpayers.

An examination of the County Court's Journal will disclose the fact, that with one exception, a transaction made with the Coast Bridge Company for $4,000.00 for the "Tom Jenkins' Ranch" bridge, but $6,000.00 having been paid) no return was ever made for these warrants or for what purpose or what materials or labor same were issued.

As taxpayers we demand that you make a thorough examination and investigation of these warrants.

If for bridges, or bridge materials, or labor or both, we wish you to compel the County Court to show on the Journal of Record of County Court proceedings—

First— The location and general description of each bridge.

Second— The entire length and width of each bridge.

Third— The cost of each kind of material for each bridge.

Fourth— The cost of labor for each, with Fifth— Have the Journal show the certificates of inspection for materials as to their fitness, certificates for material and labor and as to their correctness, certificates and full details, with verified statements as to the name of the stream across which bridges are built, etc.

And further, if the laws have been violated we demand that the guilty parties be indicted and prosecuted as the law requires.

We ask you to perform this service for us as taxpayers, not as prosecutors. Our only purpose is to have you demand that the laws of the state made for our protection are properly enforced.

Respectfully,
The Whitney Company Ltd.,
By Russell Hawkins, Attorney in fact.

Hammond Lumber Company,
By George B. McLeod, Vice-President.

NOYES-FOLKS WEDDING

On Tuesday, June 9th, there occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Noyes, a well-to-do farmer living east of town, the wedding of their daughter Mabel Edna to Mr. Bert A. Folks from near Menlo.

The wedding ceremony took place at 2:00 P. M. and was conducted by Rev. Weber, pastor of the Methodist Church. After the ceremony a wedding lunch was served to some 44 persons who witnessed the ceremony.

On Wednesday morning the newly-weds left for their future home near Menlo where Mr. Folks is engaged in farming.

The happy couple were the recipients of many valuable and beautiful presents.

The bride has lived in the county some time and is one of Tillamook county's most talented and highly esteemed young ladies. She taught several years in the county and also taught elsewhere. The groom is highly respected by all who know him. The young couple have the best wishes of many friends.

The out of town wedding guests were Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Wilks, Mrs. Will Sales, and son of Barnville; Mr. and Mrs. Mary Hayes and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Thomas of Cloverdale; Mrs. D. Fletcher and daughter of Orestown; Mr. D. Ross Barclay and Mr. Becker; Folks of Junction City.

PORTLAND AD CLUB QUARTET AT CHRISTIAN CHURCH

On Thursday evening, June 11th, the Portland Ad Club Quartet will appear at the Christian Church and take the place of Gov. Healey who was to have appeared as a number in the lecture course.

In presenting the Portland Ad Club Quartet we are not relying on predictions concerning their future, but depending on their past, although their record is one that would commend any organization to the public.

No music is more popular than of a good male quartet. The depth and harmony of four male voices well blended is not found in any other form of vocal work, and in this organization the management is offering to the music-loving public four voices of grand opera caliber. The music used is the best written, and it is given with a dash and precision that comes as a result of their years of singing together.

Their programs are varied, and just enough comedy being introduced to give the right amount of spice and keep any audience in good humor but the fun is always of a high order. This quartet is a favorite with not only the parent organization, the Portland Ad Club but with all manner of conventions, Conventions and mass meetings, as the most critical audiences where it has appeared.

We make the bold assertion that there is not a better male quartet in America. We know it to be true. The managers of this bureau know all of the quartets on the platform today. This bureau handles "quality folk" only. We have added the Portland Ad Club Quartet to our list because we are acquainted with its merits, and we will stand sponsor for it anywhere.

LIBRARY BOOKS FOR FARMERS

There is now at the office of the County Agriculturist in the court house a free circulating library of farm books. These books are furnished by the State Library at Salem for the benefit of all the people of the community. At present the library consists of about 50 volumes but this will be added to from time to time and kept up to date. Books treating of all phases of farming are included, soils, crops, livestock, etc. Everyone should avail himself of this opportunity. The office will be open on Saturdays and Mondays.

X. C. Jones,
County Agriculturist.

FIRE COMPANY REORGANIZED

On Thursday evening several of our business men met and reorganized the fire company. The resignation of Chief Allen Page was accepted and Thos. Coates was elected to fill his place.

I. Clough was elected temporary president. W. G. Dwight, Ira C. Smith and Thos. Coates were appointed a committee to make arrangements with business men to provide firemen with a supper and a visit to the theatre on Wednesday, June 24.

It was decided that all old members who had been dropped from the roll should be reinstated without any charge.

W. G. Dwight agreed to buy a $5.00 hat for the one who brought in the most applications for membership with $1.00 for each member.

NEW FISH HATCHERY WILL BE CONSIDERED

R. E. Clanton will be here Saturday June 13, to discuss the proposition to establish a new hatchery on Gold Creek. Following is a communication received by Mr. Wm. Leach from Mr. Clanton, explaining the matter.

At a meeting of the Board here yesterday, the matter of securing a hatchery site at the mouth of Gold Creek, on the Trask river, was taken up. Mr. Wang being present. The price demanded by him for the 84 acres of land was $2,000.00, but the Commission refused to give this amount and instructed me to start condemnation proceedings against Mr. Wang for the land. If we are compelled to go through condemnation procedure, it is going to prevent us from building the hatchery this season.

It has occurred to me that it might be a good idea to meet with the fishermen of that locality and others who might be interested in the installation of the hatchery and discuss the matter with them. In view of this, I wish you would notify a number of the representative fishermen that I will be in Tillamook on Saturday evening, June 13th, and will be glad to take this matter up with them in person.

Thanking you in advance, I am,
Very truly yours,
R. E. Clanton.

BARVIEW NEWS.

Barview, Oregon,
June 10, 1914.

Barview is rapidly forging ahead. The improvements that are being made here are permanent and will greatly add to the convenience of those who wish to spend an outing at the beach.

The county deserves much credit for the fine gravelled road that is being built all along the beach here. The road is now open for teams all the way to Rockaway.

Edward Carter and L. I. Tolls have each erected a number of small dwellings for the convenience of summer visitors.

J. H. Oliver, proprietor of the Barview Hotel, has greatly improved the park by putting up new tents and rebuilding the dance hall.

S. D. Dorman has opened a new grocery store on Cedar Street. John Miller, the baker, is doing a good business for this season.

Mrs. S. Hawthorne will open a lunch room on Main Street the first of the week.

F. L. Brown, of Chicago, arrived last week to take up his duties as agent for the P. R. & N. Co. He says the railroad company will have a depot here within two weeks.

M. L. Bussard and wife are recent arrivals from Portland and will spend the summer at their cottage on the hill back of the jerry.

Mr. and Mrs. Crow arrived from Portland the first of the week and will spend about ten days at their summer home, Woodbine Cottage. Mr. Crow is a conductor on the Coquille line.

Mrs. J. C. Cox and daughter Laville, of Laurelhurst, Portland, are enjoying the sea breezes at their summer home here. Mrs. Cox is a sister of Mrs. Oliver.

M. B. Kincaid and Rodie Frazer have returned from Portland and resumed their summer haven on the beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Smith, recently married at their home in Monte Vista, Portland, arrived last week and will spend their honeymoon at the coast.

Joe Smith, of Smith and Hewitt, contractors, is in Portland this week on business.

Work on the jerry is progressing nicely. The third rail is laid from the upper quarry on the Miami to Barview. The two small engines have arrived and the narrow gauge rock cars are expected this week. Gibsch and Joplin expect to be moving stone within ten days. A blast of fifty tons of powder was put off Tuesday evening at the quarry of Gibsch and Joplin, but the charge was not entirely successful. After a thorough examination later in the evening, a blast was fired again with success. 150,000 tons moved. The charge represents in labor and powder an outlay of over $10,000, and is expected to move enough stone to supply the jerry for all summer.

Berry and Huston who are furnishing the rock for the Nehalem jerry are shipping daily about six cars from their quarry on the Miami.

Mrs. Captain Farley and son Rodney, and nephew James Max, spent the fore part of the week with friends in the Tillamook City.

Tuesday at high noon, the marriage of Gilbert G. Strachan and Miss Rose Cramer was solemnized at the Methodist parsonage in Tillamook City, the Rev. Weber officiating. The bride, whose home is in Council Bluffs, Iowa, is a charming young lady, possessed of all the accomplishments to make a good wife and happy home. The groom is the son of Mrs. J. M. Oliver, of the Barview Hotel, and is well known here. His ambition and enterprise began for him a successful and happy future. In the evening the young couple were given a good dinner at the Barview Hotel after which the company (about fifty) were invited into the spacious dining room and given a fine luncheon of ice cream and cake. Cigars were smoked the gentlemen. After the luncheon, all repaired to the dance hall, and tripped the light fantastic into the wee hours of the morning, when they all returned to their homes after wishing the happy couple a prosperous and happy voyage through life. The newly-weds will spend the summer at their home on the beach here.

Thursday F. L. Nitsch and Miss Victoria Melchior were married at Tillamook City, by Father Van Cattenbuck of the Catholic Church. The bride is an accomplished young lady with a sweet and charming disposition and came from one of Tillamook's most highly respected families. The groom is an exemplary young man who has for several years been a member on the Episcopal Church of Campbell at Portland. After a short honeymoon at the beach Mr. and Mrs. Nitsch will return to Portland where the groom has a cozy home awaiting. By a happy coincidence the bridal party of Mr. and Mrs. Nitsch joined the bridal party of Mr. and Mrs. Strachan at the Barview Hotel in the evening and both parties made merry together.

COUNTY CASES THROWN OUT OF COURT.

In the cases of the Whitney Company Ltd., Hammond Lumber Company and the Wilson River Lumber Company against the Howard Company Corporation, Furr Dodge Culbert Company and the Good Roads Machinery Company, Judge Holmes on Thursday handed down a decision in favor of the defendants and dissolved the restraining order which had temporarily enjoined the County Court from paying warrants for materials bought last year at a time when the County was $20,000 in debt. J. H. Hart of Portland, M. J. Gersoni and H. T. Botts represented the defendants and Clyde Fulton of Astoria and S. A. Johnson represented the plaintiffs. The burden of proof on the part of the plaintiffs depended on showing that the contracts which were signed on November 6, 1913, by the sales agents and the County Court were bona fide contracts, and that the County was bound at that time to create an additional indebtedness far beyond the constitutional inhibition. The witness stand when Judge Holmes was asked to produce shown to the plaintiffs on March 7 (stated he said, "I have lost those contracts. The last time I saw them was when Mr. Gersoni's office. I showed them last March and after the suits were filed I gave them to Mr. Gersoni. I have not seen them since." It was asked if he had the letters of acceptance of these contracts,

Judge Mason on the stand testified that he had received no letters of acceptance and that as the goods were not to be delivered 'till April, the County Court made formal acceptance at the time of arrival when the County was not in debt, and had cash on hand to pay for the goods. In his decision Judge Holmes criticized the case on the ground that the legislature had failed to place a penalty against the creation of a debt beyond
