STATEMENT OF OWNERSHIP

C. E. Trombley, Editor, Publisher and manager. First National Bank of Tillamook, mortgage holders.

FRIDAY JULY 3, 1914.

The Democratic, Republican and Progressive, state conventions which were held in Idaho this week came out squarely for state wide prohibition, each party placing in its platform a most sweeping prohibition plank. The liquor interests of Idaho have certainly received a most telling blow, getting it at both ends and the middle, so to speak, and thus the mighty grinding force of public opinion is slowly but surely forcing the liquor business to the wall, forcing it where its terrible blight will no longer be felt. The signs of the times are so plain that he who runs may read.

The attack which one A. H. Lea, of the Union Meat Co., of Portland, made on our cheese organization through the columns of the Telegram was a flat affair. The cheese industry of this county is organized in such a shape as not to be at the mercy of the interests. If we were unorganized and our selling was done in a haphazard way, allowing the interests an opportunity to get the cream of the profits of our industry, the Union Meat Co. would have no kick. Our farmers have placed themselves in a position where they are able to get what belongs to them, and Mr. Middle Man is not able to make something out of nothing. Mr. Lea had better go take a jump in the lake, as the boys say. A little cold water might possibly bring him to his senses.

Roosevelt tells us that the Democrats have not reduced the cost of living. There are many Republican papers that are contending the same thing. These Republican papers are also contending that there is a surplus of idle men and that the administration has caused many factories to shut down. Let us admit the contentions of the Republican press and then make some deductions.

In the first place why should the factories be closed in the face of the prevailing high prices? The industries of this country were run full force when prices were lower than they are now. The interests have been pouring letters and petitions in upon the administration by the wholesale in an endeavor to persuade the government to delay its trust legislation program. Now let us see what we find: Depression in the industrial world, regardless of the prevailing high prices and the fact that stocks along every line of production are low, which simply means that the interests are using every means in their power to force the administration to abandon its trust reform program.

Under present conditions it is a mighty uphill job to make a success of any reform measure, relating to the industrial world, no matter how good and just that measure may be, if the interests refuse to co-operate and work in harmony with it. However, many of us of the less radical sort have thought that, as a rule, big business would cooperate in a reasonable plan of trust reforms, and it is really a surprise to us that such a barefaced attempt should now be made to block the administration in its endeavors.

A few months ago President Wilson's trust reform program was hailed everywhere as being just the thing. Why this change of front? Have the interests decided on a rule or ruin policy, endeavoring in every way, so it appears, to bring a depression over the country, so that the voters may be influenced to return the standpatters to power? It certainly looks that way. In regard to this matter let us not forget Senator Chamberlain who is standing by President Wilson and his reform measures. Senator Chamberlain will be detained in Washington most of the summer looking after Oregon's interests, while his political adversaries are working night and day to take his senatorial seat from him. Let us stand by Senator Chamberlain and withstand the attacks of the interests who are by a policy of bulldozing endeavoring to elect a standpatter in his stead.

COMMUNICATION

Editor Herald:
Dear Sir, — I do not see why Mrs. Tucker takes up the fight for those preachers. If they can not defend their own case they are not worth fighting for. But I think if Mrs. T had a better knowledge of the Bible, she would not have done so. If she had read 1 Cor 14: 34, 35, also 1 Timothy 2: 9, 15 she would have known what the duty of a woman is. Well Mrs. T, I have not scoffed at the water of life. I leave that to you. The word of God is to dear to me to scoff. Yes, if all those things were taken out of existence some preachers and I think you also, would feel not much at home in this world. Now if an Auto would only "walk" up to a man there would be plenty of time to get out of the way, but it is that awful speed Mrs. T that kills a person. There are plenty accidents with guns without the man being drunk, as you state it.

I am truly surprised at your ignorance. But do not say again that 9-10 of the accidents is caused by liquor, as some one might ask you to prove it, and then where would you be? But another question Mrs. T. Did you ever get killed by a drunkard? I know you say no, and I believe it, but if you say in the breath, but I got my brains knocked out I believe that also. But have you ever thought on the other side of prohibition? Did you ever consider what it would be if all those people which make a living in hop yards, or the thousands which find their living in the vineyards, and how much capital there is invested in all these things and the taxes it brings, even how much it means to the farmers, by raising grain for the breweries which otherwise would be thrown upon the market lowering the price of those grains? You are talking of the comfort yourself would lose by prohibiting the things I mentioned, just by the way of illustration, but have you considered other people's comfort? And then Mrs. T, did you ever consider that all those people would be out of employment and income? Would you have something to put in the place so as those people could make a living? Name it! I guess you are a mother yourself and have children of your own. Have you ever put yourself in the place of those people? Suppose you were in that position, and your little ones would cry for bread and you could not give them any, and you had to tell them. Well my dear little ones mama has none to give. Those prohibition Christians will not let your father work any more in hop or vineyard, so we have to starve unless God helps. Don't you think that cry would go the throne of heaven? And what would the answer be? Or is your religion not of that kind. Can you not stand a little fear for things which might never happen to you just for the sake of your neighbor? Did Christ die for such people? Do you think if you love your neighbor and let him earn his daily bread in an honest way to feed his wife and children and keep them from starving to death, that the Christ which you profess to follow can not save you from the name of a drunkard. Then Mrs. T you do not follow the Christ of the Bible.

Has Christ preached the prohibition of wine or did he make some? Is every man a criminal which drinks a glass of wine or beer? Then you call Christ a criminal also. Are there no laws to punish the drunkard? What more do you want? But let us see a little farther; you say those preachers are studying past history. If that is true we might get better preachers. But how do you know? Let us do a little studying ahead of them, and see where we come out. I ask you first, who killed Christ? Were it not those fanatical preachers with the consent of the Roman Government? A mixture of religions and state. A beastly mixture as we see later. After the death of Christ there was a few years of calm and then the persecution started again of which Steven was the first martyr. But the clergy grew bolder and came in open rebellion against the Government. The result was, the destruction of Jerusalem as was foretold by prophecy to the letter. Of course the influence of the clergy disappeared also. But there sprung up amongst the Roman nation another Clergy of the same mixture as before, which persecuted the Jews and grew stronger and finally we have in history the persecution of the middle ages through this same power which is called the beast. But came to an end in 1798 just as prophecy had foretold. The head of this power died in captivity in the year 1800. But now the Bible says in Isa 23:15 that this very power shall be forgotten for 70 years, and it really was during this time. But the Bible says at the end of 70 years she shall sing as a harlot which she did in 1870 and shall commit fornication with all the kingdoms of the world (trying to get her old power). But now the Bible says that there is an image of that beast, which are they Mrs. T. They are those very preachers which you follow. They try to do the same thing as the beast has done before them, namely, usurp the power of the Government and force the people by law, instead of preaching to them the freedom and liberty of the Bible, and the result is that there are people today who have no respect for the word God and scoff at the water of life. The very knowledge of Jesus Christ which they profess to follow. This is truly the worship of the beast and his image, and do you know what will be the reward for those Mrs. T? See Rev. 14: 9, 11.

I wish Mrs. T that you see your mistake in following those preachers who do not understand the Bible. Everyone I asked of the preachers if they understood the Bible they said no. One of them was bold enough to say he did not understand a tenth part of it. Would you follow such leaders Mrs. T and expect to be saved! No sane person would. But study your Bible. Ask Christ for wisdom and you will receive abundantly. But before all discard such leaders. A wonderful and horrible thing is committed in the land. The prophets prophesy falsely and the priest bear rule by their means; and my people love to hear it so; and what will ye do in the end thereof. Jeremiah 5:30, 31.
