NEW MONEY ORDER RULE

Washington, July 5.—On or after today domestic money orders drawn on a designated office are payable at any money office for the period of thirty days. At the expiration of that time if presented within one year from the last day of the month in which issued, they shall be paid only at the office designated in the money order as the paying office, or repaid at the office of issue. Postmaster General Burleson is seriously considering increasing the weight limit of the parcel post system to 100 pounds. Recent experiments with increased weight have proven satisfactory. "I think during the fiscal year beginning today, we will transport approximately 6,000,000 parcels and will derive a revenue of nearly ten cents each," said Burleson, speaking of this efficient service. A parcel post convention between the United States and Liberia was recently concluded, and it became effective today.

VALUABLE SHIPMENT

Shipping department makes big blunder and takes shipment to Tillamook instead of Tualatin. Rather than incur additional expense of returning these goods to Portland we will sell at wholesale price to any home in Tillamook county these beautiful Pianos and player Pianos. Bill Spivens of Cassa Music House who is stopping at Hotel Tillamook on his vacation will give further particulars and may call at your home in the next few days.

RELATED MARRIAGE NOTICES

Edwin Hansenkratt and Miss Maggie Kieder were united in marriage on Saturday, June 27, by Rev. Ebinger, of the German Congregational Church, at the home of Rev. Ebinger.

Jan. Feeney, of the firm of Feeney-Bremer Co., was married in Portland last month to Miss Margaret Brady of Salem, Mass. Jim, as he is familiarly known among us, is one of our most progressive business men and has many friends here who wish for him and his bride a long and prosperous married life.

Agitation at this season of the year starts looking for the biennial appropriation to fight the bubonic plague.

Tillamook County Celebrates Fourth

Wheeler, Barview, Bayocean, Netarts, Beaver and Cloverdale Make Eagle's Cream.

The celebration of July Fourth in Tillamook County passed off without any serious accidents, and all report a splendid time.

At Wheeler

Wheeler celebrated the Fourth? Well I should remark! It was some 4th, in the truest sense of the word. It was a sane 4th, as far as insane fire-works and exploding fire-crackers was concerned. But what the people did, the actions that they performed, and the stunts that were pulled off set everybody insane with roars of laughter and mirth. The program was well arranged and pulled off according to schedule so that there was no fire-some waiting. The Tillamook Boosters Band was there with the music and everybody enjoyed the day to the fullest, and it was some day to be remembered.

Judge Webster Holmes delivered the address of the day, vocal and instrumental music, recitation and flag drill by the little ones was heartily applauded.

The Tillamook County Boosters' Band was banqueted by the Wheeler organization and their ladies. Manager Watson passed complimentary remarks and then some. The business of the band was transacted in rapid-fire order and the next meeting place decided on was for Bayocean, the date set as Sunday, July 19th, which date will see the Tillamook County Boosters' Band entertained by the management of that splendid resort and the band will certainly do its best to entertain the visitors on that date.

Hurrah for the 4th at Wheeler! Hurrah, Hurrah for Bayocean on the 19th of July.

The boys of the Nehalem, Wheeler, Bay City, Tillamook City and Cloverdale Bands govern their affairs accordingly to be with the whole County Organization on the trip to Bayocean. Don't forget the date—Sunday July 19th. Arrangements will be made to handle the crowd from Tillamook City, Bay City and Garibaldi by boats.

At Cloverdale a fine program was rendered, Rev. F. S. Ford of the Presbyterian church of that place delivering the oration of the day. The Cloverdale band under the leadership of Andy Heater contributed much to the delights of the day. A good ball game was also enjoyed.

At Netarts there was dancing, some sports and a general good time enjoyed on the beach.

At Bayocean a fine entertainment was enjoyed, the opening of the Natatorium being the principal feature. A fine orchestra was present and everything possible was done to give the visitors a good time. A party of 150 business men and their families were present.

At Barview a good time was enjoyed. The Life Savers gave an exhibition. There were dancing and other sports.

At Beaver a good, old fashioned time was enjoyed. A picnic dinner was a feature and there were sports and other amusements.

While there was no celebration at Rockaway, still, quite a large party of Tillamookers enjoyed the beauties of that part of the beach.

A pleasant picnic dinner was given at the Bester's grove, and many of our farmer friends enjoyed the day there.

HUNTING LIME SUPPLY

Lime, so much needed in many sections of the Willamette Valley to sweeten sour soils, is the object of special search by two county agriculturalists, Floyd W. Eader, of Lane county, and Luther J. Chapin, of Marion. A suitable source of lime is believed to be found in quarries near Medford of good quality and large extent. Grinding is necessary to make it fit to apply to the field, and the two specialists hope to learn the exact details of operation and cost of product, and to arrange for the installation of necessary machinery. Its great value to the farm has been worked out by Professor H. D. Scudder, agronomist at the Agricultural College.

GEORGE J. POYSKY IS INDEPENDENT CANDIDATE FOR SURVEYOR

George J. Poysky, deputy county surveyor, has announced his intention to run for the surveyor's office as an independent candidate. Mr. Poysky has been in the County Surveyor's office for the past three years and is well qualified for the position. He is a graduate of the civil engineering department of the University of Oregon and has had considerable experience in that line outside of his work for this county. He was engineer for Diking District No. 1, of Clatsop County, Washington, and prepared the plans and specifications for dikes, pumping machinery and controlling works to be built at an expenditure of $100,000.00 to reclaim 3,000 acres of overflow land. He is still acting as consulting engineer for that district.

Poysky is a self made man. He earned his way through the University by fishing on the Columbia River and graduated from the school with honors. He has made a particular study of road building in this County and is well versed in the practical as well as the theoretical side of the work.

The County Surveyor's office in the future will require a far greater degree of ability than in the past. Under new laws that have been enacted by the legislature, the County Court is required to have plans and specifications including cross-sections and estimates, prepared for all work, whether new road or repair work, if an expenditure of more than $1,000.00 is involved. Each bridge built at a cost of $500.00 or more must be erected according to plans and specifications prepared under the direction of the County Court. It will be the duty of the County Surveyor to prepare all these plans and specifications. He will also be called upon to supervise the construction of road work and bridges.

COMMUNICATION

Tillamook, July 5, 1914
The Editor of the Herald:

The other day in Portland some of my friends spoke to me relative to the Lea-Haberlach controversy, initiated in the Oregonian, and subsequently mentioned in other newspapers. I took no controversial part in the conversation, but simply said in substance, "Carl Haberlach is the greatest benefactor of Tillamook County since I have lived in that county."

I grow heartsick when a man having done something worth while, finds nobody to openly express appreciation of his good work.

Hence, I wish to reiterate in Tillamook what I said in Portland.

Hillsboro Man Solves Loganberry Problem

Has Regular Young Cannery at His Ranch. Puts up Thousand Cans Per Day.

From Argos:

F. J. Williams, one of the pioneers in Loganberry culture, has solved the problem of taking care of his crop without depending on the demand by druggists or other cannery. He has a trifle over four acres in the fruit this season, and to market them was his anxiety. After inquiry, he concluded the safest way was to install his own plant, and he put in a "canner" that heats to over 250 degrees. Entering it, set up a running machine—and was ready for business. He has had from eight to twelve pickers, with four or five working at the canning house, and puts up about 1,000 cans per day, each can weighing about 25 ounces— heavier than the usual can found in the market. He has his berries all hand picked, or culled, as they come to the table, and all inferior berries or over ripe fruit, go to the refuse pile. His berries are sugared ready for the table, put in the can, and then 57 of the tins are placed in the cooker at each cooking, which requires about five minutes. At the end of the season he will use some of the fruit for the manufacture of juices, and this he will put in gallon jars.

The running machine is a good one, and does the work to perfection, and the equipment is practically imperishable.

Mr. Williams expects to put up from 12,000 to 14,000 cans this year, and next season his crop will be nearly double this, as his yard is now what they call "baby."

The fruit was sampled Friday at the plant, and it is very fine. A traveling man who visited Hillsboro the other day went out to look at over for his firm. He said he did not like Loganberries at all, but when Mr. Williams opened a can and asked him to sample it he said—"Gee, these are great! Send me a crate to my home address next week."

Mr. Williams is to be congratulated upon his enterprise. He expects to build a larger house for the work next year. His present quarters are small, but very sanitary. The place is screened in, and exceptionally clean. Mr. Fly, being noted for his absence, Sugar is bought by the hundred-weight—and it looks as though the Loganberry industry will be on a firm foundation, with a good profit at the right side of the ledger.

Three ounces of sugar are put into each can and this means some sweetening for the entire crop.

SHERIFF CRENSHAW

MAKES ARREST

On Monday Sheriff Crenshaw went to Timber and from there fifteen miles into the woods where he arrested Salvester Davis for whom a warrant has been issued since last January charging him with burning a barn, containing hay and stock and which belonged to Mrs. Smith who a short time before had secured a divorce from Davis. A short time after the fire Davis disappeared and his whereabouts have not been known until lately.
