TUESDAY AUGUST 18, 1914.

Belgium, the war in Europe, has brought about some strange alignments. On the one side is the Protestant Germany and Catholic Austria-Hungary on the other side, Greek Catholic Russia, Protestant England, France, partly Catholic and partly Catholic Belgium, and Protestant Holland. All, however, who pray at all, pray to the same God, though it may be difficult to see how the Ruler of all the nations can answer prayers and justify confidence so diametrically opposite. But all, everywhere, of whatever creed, ought to be able to say a heartfelt "Amen" to the request of Pope Pius, when he exhorts the Catholics of the entire world to pray that "God may take pity and remove as soon as possible the fearful shadows of war, and that he may mercifully insure in the minds of the rulers of the earth thoughts of peace rather than of affliction."—Michigan Christian Advocate.

SIT TIGHT! DON'T ROCK THE BOAT!

Sit tight! Don't rock the boat! That's the watchword today. That's the first duty of every American at this moment. That's what this country needs to keep it straight and safe and true to its course—absolutely all it needs.

Business conditions are sound. We have one of the greatest grain crops in history. Its value has already greatly advanced. We have a sound financial system, backed by the greatest store of gold in the world. Our banks are solid, safe. There is nothing the matter with the United States.

War will mean an unprecedented demand for supplies. Experts declare American business will feel a great impetus. While other nations destroy, this country will produce. While others are armed camps, this country will be a farm, a factory, a forge. Trade extension is predicted in all directions. The immediate future is plain.

The national administration is acting wisely, promptly. The sum of $500,000,000 is available under the Aldrich-Vreeland act for an emergency. The organization of the reserve board will soon be complete. This will enable us to deal more effectively with the outflow of gold. Plans are perfecting to permit American registry of foreign vessels. This will protect and develop our commerce.

We are prepared to maintain strict neutrality. Questions may arise with foreign nations as to what constitutes neutrality. Such questions can not conceivably involve us in difficulties. They will be settled by the ordinary processes. The general principals of neutrality and neutral commerce are plain. The United States will adhere rigorously to them. Friendly intercourse, as far as circumstances permit, will be its rule and its procedure.

Stock exchanges have closed—a wise precaution. This country cannot be the dumping ground of the whole body of securities that war-mad Europe is anxious to convert into money. The closing is temporary. Elsewhere there is no prospect of interference with the orderly processes of American business. Stable conditions are here. All we have to do is to keep them stable.

The administration has decided to appeal officially to the public to help maintain satisfactory conditions. The public cannot fail to respond. The only danger is one which may create itself. Its course is simple. All it has to do is to sit tight, to do nothing to disrupt the fortunate condition in which this country happily finds itself.

Don't rock the boat—that's the central idea! The swell from the great battleship, "Europe" will be felt. But it will not hurt us. It need not even break over the sides. There's nothing the matter with the boat that we are in. Straight and strong, well-seamed, well-caulked, well-tempered, with reasonable guidance it will bear us safely and prosperously through.

Sit tight! Don't rock the boat. Keep its head well up against the sea! Don't let it get into the trough of the waves! Let every one realize that at this moment calm confidence and calm thankfulness are the first duty. They are also justified by the favorable situation in which we find ourselves. They are the certain guarantee of a continuance of those conditions.—Chicago Herald.

TILLAMOOK CHEESE TRUST

From Oregon City paper.

News dispatches announce that one man controls the entire output of Tillamook butter, cheese and other covetous products. It amounts to an outrage. Like 'twas ones said years ago to the mighty sea, "Thus far and no farther, shalt thou go," so likewise doth this man of Tillamook say to the butter, cream and cheese, "Thus shalt thou go and thus shalt thou not go." We do not find a satisfying comparison in this age of dollars and cents between ocean waves and Tillamook butter fat. If the ocean stops, it does not make so very much difference to those living inland, but when some one says "stop" to the butter and cheese, then we are sorely crippled gustatorially.

That this unholy condition has existed for several years is well known to travellers in that rich county. Just why residents have permitted the market to rest in the hands of one man is mysterious when there are so many hands in which it should rest. Eating at the principal hotel in Tillamook City a hungry traveller naturally asked for some famous Tillamook cheese. Being from New York he was ready to bite into that cheese like 'twas never bit into before or since. To his surprise the waitress said they didn't have any Tillamook cheese. No, she couldn't go out and buy any, since there was no Tillamook cheese for sale in the stores. Well, Well, in Tillamook and not a bite of cheese to eat! Like the ocean again, "Water, water everywhere, and not a drop to drink." All right, if we can't have any cheese, we will have a little Tillamook cream for the strawberries. Nothing doing in the cream line! No cream in the market for hotel use? All right, how about your Tillamook butter, also famous the world over? No Tillamook butter. To shorten the tale, he didn't even have cream for his coffee! In the big hotel in Tillamook City and couldn't be served with Tillamook cheese, cream or butter! It was learned afterwards that the butter he ate was shipped into Tillamook City from Portland where it was bought from Front street commission houses. Oh! ye gods! And still we wonder at it about time for this one-man band to cut loose and let a little cream, cheese and butter charity begin at home?

Later news dispatches state that Tillamook is preparing to make an exhibit at the Panama fair in San Francisco. One wonders what for. The only way to enjoy their wonderful products is to stay away from there. It is no inducement to come and live in that country when you can't even get cream for your coffee. It seems no particular use to advertise their famous cheese when we know vastly more about it than the people who make it do themselves. This exhibition is to be in a form of a great big band. From a one-man band who has cornered the butter market they propose to contract the evil influence by passing around San Francisco with a band of 100 men. There is one good thing in store for the band boys of Tillamook. They will have an opportunity probably for the first time in many of their lives, to taste their own famous products. The finer the taste to these patriots the less liability of their ever returning home. To live where they can eat this cheese may cut home ties forever. It is a good way of losing 150 citizens.

ROAD MEN SCORE SAM HILL

alleged Plan to Change Pacific Highway Route Criticized.
Medford, Or.—Severe condemnation of almost 100 for attempted destruction of the good-road policy of Oregon and his alleged effort to change the route of the Pacific Highway from Willamette valley to eastern Oregon and the launching of a campaign for the state themselves to go into the road-making business marked the second annual convention of the Tri-State Good Roads association, in session here, with 100 delegates from California, Washington and Oregon.

Although Sam Hill was also attacked for his alleged interference in road building in the state of Washington by J. B. Ruffell, of Seattle, who said road construction in that state had been delayed two years by the Pacific Highway president's dilatory tactics, the organization adopted no formal resolutions condemning Mr. Hill and no official recognition of the dissatisfaction of the delegates was taken.
