CHEESE PRICES NOW UP

Butter fat payments for July milk ranged lower than during June. For one thing cheese prices were lower, July cheese having brought an average of about 15-10 cents f. o. b. Tillamook. Tests were higher and on account of the hot weather, the yield of cheese per 100 lbs. milk was lower than during May or June, July averaging about 10 1/2 lbs. cheese per 100 lbs. milk. Cheese is now selling at 16 1/2 cents Tillamook, a raise of 1 1/2 cents from lowest prices.

The Province of Ontario, Canada has presented the Imperial Government with 50,000 boxes of cheese, or about three million lbs., the same to be consumed by the British army.

PORTLAND LETTER.

Realizing the importance of the most intensive conservation of value of the great crops of fruits and vegetables now being produced in the Pacific Northwest, and feeling the need of the establishments of methods for changing perishable products into manufactured goods which can be placed on the market at any convenient time, a committee representing the four states of Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana was appointed last Fall to give careful consideration to this important subject. In order to enlist the aid of all classes interested in the production or disposition of fruits and vegetables in this section, the By-Product Committee has sent out the following call.

"Realizing the fact that the situation demands the most careful thought and consideration of all interested in the future of the fresh fruits and by-product industries in the Northwest of Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana in extending their markets, especially of those actually engaged in the manufacture of canned or evaporated goods, cider, vinegar and fruit juice a conference is hereby called to be held at Portland, Oregon, Thursday, September 10, 1914, at 9 a. m., at the Commercial Club, for an exchange of views and suggestions of those present as to the best solution of the problems confronting the by-products industries of the Northwest."

All the railroads have granted a reduced rate for this meeting from points in the four states named. To secure the advantage of this rate, buy a one-way ticket to Portland and at the same time secure a ticket from the agent. This will entitle the holder to a return ticket on payment of one third fare after attending the meeting. Tickets to be on sale Sept. 7-10, return tickets Sept 10-12.

During the past week a party of Portland business men have been touring the Coos Bay country, visiting every town in the district. In addition to forming many new acquaintances and renewing old ones, the party was so much impressed with the advantages of that part of the state that an organization called the Coos Bay Tourists Club was formed and arrangements made for the purchase of ten acres of land at West Lake, on the line of the new railroad. A corporation will probably be formed as soon as the party returns to Portland.

Medford is said to be in line for a splendid addition to its industries in the form of a sawmill to cost approximately $1,000,000. It is expected the mill will be built at an early date and will employ a great number of men. This will probably be followed by the construction of sawmills in other parts of the Willamette Valley.

The Booth-Kelly mill at Springfield was formerly opened for business last Saturday although it had been running for a few days previously in order to get the machinery in smooth running order. This mill has a capacity of 150,000 feet each day of ten hours, and make use of the most modern safety and labor saving devices in every department. It will employ about 125 men at first.

Dahlia Exhibit

At Nehalem

Nehalem's Annual Fair Better than Ever. Large Crowd Attends

The dahlia exhibit and general produce fair which was held at Nehalem last Saturday, was the best exhibition of its kind ever held in that city.

The Dahlia exhibit was good, 2500 plants forming the centerpiece of the display. The people of the Nehalem district have put much thought and consideration in the culture of the dahlia with the result that they are now able to produce an exhibit that cannot be surpassed anywhere.

The exhibition of other products was very good. Vegetables of wonderful size and quality were on display. A fine display of celery was in evidence, as was also a good display of cheese.

A fine display of workmanship of the different crafts was also to be seen.

The Nehalem band under the leadership of W. C. Trombley furnished the music for the day.

The people of Nehalem and vicinity have every reason to be proud of their fair, which is certainly getting better every year. We understand that many of the Nehalem exhibits will be shown at our county fair which will be held here this month and, no doubt, some of their exhibits will be taken to the State Fair.

PRISON MONTHLY TO

AID "DRY" CAMPAIGN

Prisoners at the Oregon State penitentiary are preparing to help the cause of "Oregon dry." The September number of "Lend a Hand," the prison monthly, will be devoted exclusively to the prohibition campaign containing letters from prisoners and the editor's own story—that of a murder caused by drink. A supplement of cartoons by "Pen Parker" will be a feature.

The editor of the magazine is a life-terminer whose sentence was commuted from death by the intervention of Governor West. The magazine is published entirely by the prisoners themselves and none of the prison officials has any hand in it whatever. The anti-saloon league is sending copies of this number to all the pastors of the state and to the workers in the "dry" campaign.

WOMAN DIES SUDDENLY.

A sister of C. E. McAlpin of this city, died suddenly at her home on Sunday afternoon. Mr. McAlpin had gone out to saddle their horses for a ride and on returning found his sister lying on the floor in an unconscious condition. A physician was called and neighbors came in at once to minister unto her but she never gained consciousness. A sister from California is expected here this evening. Deceased was along towards middle age in years.

Later: It has developed that the circumstances surrounding the death of the deceased are of a very grave nature. Physicians made an examination of the body this morning and an inquest was held this afternoon. It now appears that the deceased was not a sister of McAlpin as many supposed.
