TUESDAY, JANUARY 4, 1915.

The state of Oregon has launched into its first year of prohibition regime and the hearts of thousands of our citizens who have worked and sacrificed for many years for a principal have been made glad. Tillamook City and county gave large majorities in favor of the prohibition law, which means of course that there is a strong sentiment in the city and throughout the county for the enforcement of the law. This sentiment our officials are bound to respect. In fact they most respect it. There seems to be a disposition on the part of our city officials to handle the law enforcement question in a decided manner. We are pleased to note this sentiment in the city council. We are sure our city officials will have the backing and encouragement of a very large number of our people in the matter of law enforcement. The Herald would recommend a stringent application of the law. We believe that where a man of mature age is convicted of violating the prohibition law, that a jail sentence should be inflicted on first offense. If we take up the work of enforcing the law with a strong hand right at the beginning, the law will prove a success, but if we dilly dally along with law violators as we have in the past, the law will be a failure. The Herald will stand back of and encourage in every way any official who does his best to enforce the prohibition law.

SEA LIONS MUST NOT BE KILLED.

Washington, Jan. 3.—(Washington Bureau of the Journal)—National bird reservations are intended for the preservation of all wild life, so the slaughter of sea lions at Three Arch Rocks reservation on the coast of Oregon cannot be permitted, unless it is conclusively shown that the seals are causing serious injury to the fisheries. Such is the report made to Senator Chamberlain by Secretary Huston of the department of agriculture concerning a request by W. F. Ford of Bay Ocean that the killing of sea lions be permitted. Secretary Huston says that while sea lions are often accused of destroying food fish in large numbers, this has not been proved. He suggests the Oregon state biologist arrange to have a number of post mortems performed on seals along the coast to determine just what food the seal does select. (Note: There is no question but that the sea lions along the coast eat a great many salmon. It is an ordinary thing to see sea lions fish for and catch salmon. Many of the salmon caught in nets show marks of being bitten by sea lions. There is no question but that many fish would be saved if the sea lions were put out of the way.)

TEMPERANCE

"Many a patient of mine I have been unable to help, or have seen lose his life, because alcoholic liquors destroyed powers of recuperation."—Dr. Wilfred T. Grenfell.

Gov. A. O. Stanley, of Kentucky, who was elected by the wets in a close run with a candidate who stood for state wide prohibition, announces that he will abolish the uses of all liquors at the governor's mansion for all functions whether public or private.

In Nebraska the party Prohibitionists by unanimous action of their state committee, have decided to put no ticket in the field for the coming elections. This is done, for the first time in twenty-eight years, to conserve the temperance strength for the prohibitory amendment to the state constitution.

On Monday, December 6, for the first time in the history of the United States, a Prohibitionist took the oath of office as a member of congress. Hon. Charles H. Randall, representing the Ninth California district, comprising the city and county of Los Angeles, bears the unique distinction of being the first Prohibitionist thus honored.

France's principal temperance society, "the Alarm," has just been put on a more comprehensive basis with President Poincare as honorary president and under a patronage committee. The extension of the scope of the society is viewed with particular interest and is considered significant, in view of the recent legislation and the decrees limiting the sale of alcohol.

DREAM OF WORLD

PEACE SHATTERED.

The late Cecil John Rhodes, "the uncrowned king of Africa," had a beautiful dream of world peace and in his will provided for an educational bond of union to be established between the United States and two other great nations which are now fighting each other to death. In the codicil to his will he said:

"For a good understanding between England, Germany and the United States will secure the peace of the world, and educational relations from the strongest tie."

This will itself provided for the establishment of numerous scholarships at Oxford, in England and her colonies, for the benefit of students of German birth and two of them for each of the present states and territories of the United States.

Mr. Rhodes believed that the United States, Germany and Great Britain being then in one accord, with international sentiments for peace and progress, could control the political destinies of mankind, abolish war and compel universal peace. He believed that a practical method of creating this bond of union and cementing the bond forever, was through a system of education that would bring together young Germans, Americans and Englishmen into a common educational field.

In its beginning the Rhodes scheme has promised much, and until the war broke out there was a fair prospect that his dream of universal peace might through this educational compact ultimately come true. Alas! how has the dream now been shattered!

Hundreds of young Americans in recent years have pursued post-graduate studies both in Germany and in England, and the trend of popular thought has been toward "apatriotism of race," rather than toward a patriotism of nations; but the war has humiliated this trend and turned the stream of higher international education completely out of its channels, at least as to Germany.—Ex.

LOGANBERRY JUICE MAKERS

TO EXPAND TRADE.

From Journal:

Loganberry juice manufacturers of Oregon have decided to proceed at once to a permanent organization for the standardization of their product and system in the finding of markets. At a meeting held at the Chamber of Commerce last week, a number of manufacturers discussed the plan as outlined by George D. Lee, secretary of the industries and manufactures bureau of the chamber, and a committee was appointed to complete the organization.

The commerce is composed of O. L. Ferris, chairman, C. L. Featherstone, Frank Schmidt and S. E. Gray. At a previous meeting, Mr. Harris and Mr. Featherstone were delegated the general task of outlining some basis for organization. These men recommended that the organization when it is accomplished be conducted on these lines: Pooling in the buying of packages; pooling on shipments of carload lots to distributing centers; pooling in public demonstrations of loganberry juice without regard to brand; unite action in whatever advertising campaigns may be launched to educate the public in consumption of the juice.

Mr. Ferris reported that he had suggested the coupling of the loganberry juice movement with the activities of "Letter Writing Week," and suggested the use of a poster stamp symbolical of the juice upon all letters sent out during the week. The proposition was eagerly accepted by the manufacturers present and $100 was subscribed to put out the stamps.

A later meeting of the manufacturers will be held at the call of Chairman Ferris.

LUMBER BOOM IS ON.

(Oregonian, Dec. 30.—)

That the Pacific Coast lumber market is in healthier tone than it has been for a long time, and that the prospects for Spring and Summer are flattering, was the consensus of opinion among 100 or more lumbermen who attended the quarterly meeting of the West Coast Lumber Manufacturers' Association at the Hotel Portland yesterday.

Close students of the logging situation reported that there will probably be a log shortage until next May or June at least, and one Portland lumberman said that he figured there were fewer logs near Portland for sale than at any other time during the past 11 years.

Lumbermen from all parts of the Northwest reported that their mills have been pretty well cleaned out of stock, and that they were not in a position to take on many new orders even at the present advanced prices which were recommended recently at the Tacoma meeting.

A Happy and Prosperous New Year To All TILLAMOOK DRUG STORE

Those who recently visited the Eastern market centers informed the association that the entire trade is optimistic, the most hopeful signs being the certainty that the railroads are about to recommence heavy buying, and that the Mexican field is about to be opened advantageously.

Rumors were afloat at the meeting that the Northern Pacific, Great Northern and other railroads had already quietly started buying, and that these roads, together with the Southern Pacific, in Oregon, would probably require large deliveries within the next 30 or 60 days. It is said that the Northern Pacific Company is in the market for 40,000,000,000 feet and that some of it will be purchased for January delivery.

"The business of the present month has been the best December for seven years," is the way one Puget Sound lumberman expressed it yesterday. "A good many of the heavy buyers have been delaying urgent purchases for several months in the hope that the market would sag, as it usually does at this time of the year, but instead the prices are growing stronger and stocks are in such shape that the mills are in splendid position."

Council Meeting

The matter of paving Second Avenue East from Ninth Street south to the city limits was undertaken and most of the paving has been put in. The work has not been fully completed but it is expected that it will soon be done, and the cost will then be assessed against the abutting property.

The bridge over the slough has been almost completed, but the approach to it on the south is in a very unsatisfactory condition. The owners of the adjoining property have promised to take care of this but have been slow in doing so, and the same requires attention.

The paving suit to which the city is a party is still pending in the Supreme Court of the state. Negotiations looking towards a settlement of the case are under way. A settlement of this case, if a settlement is reached, will bring up for consideration payment for the sanitary sewer which was constructed at the same time, and some action will then have to be taken on that.

For the present year it is thought that some action should properly be taken looking toward the improvement of Third Street from Stillwell Avenue West to the city limits, and I consider it very desirable that this street should be paved if the same can be done without imposing too great a burden upon the adjoining property owners.

In the matter of the city's finances, the city's assessed valuation for the present year is about $1,150,000.00. As the city will be deprived of revenue from saloon licenses it was necessary that a larger levy should be made for taxes, and a levy was made by the council of 14 mills, distributed as follows: For street purposes 2 1/2 mills, for library purposes 1/2 mill, for water purposes 1/2 mill, for sinking fund 1 mill and for general purposes 9 1/2 mills.

This includes provision for the payment of interest on the city's bonds, amounting to $31,000.00, the total interest being $3,660.00 per annum. It was deemed advisable to establish a sinking fund and a one mill levy was made for that purpose.

The library will be conducted for the present year in the new city hall and the expense of rent will be thereby eliminated, so that a smaller levy was made for that purpose.

The levy for water purposes was made for the purpose of distributing the cost of the water system over all the property in the city, requiring it to be paid in only by users of the water.

It may be that the question of paving Fifth Street from Stillwell Avenue East will again be presented to you for consideration during the present year, but it is not known definitely whether the property owners affected will desire to have the improvement undertaken at this time.

There are a great many dilapidated sidewalks in the city which should be either re-built or repaired, and I would call the particular attention of the street committee to this for their action.

The closing of saloons in Tillamook City with the beginning of this year deprives the city of revenue which it has heretofore had from that source, and also brings before the city the question of the best way to dispose of those who may be inclined to violate the prohibition law.

would recommend that establishments dealing in soft drinks be put under regulation, that they be required to give bond to conduct orderly houses, and that it also be provided by ordinance that any person found guilty of selling liquor in violation of the law be deprived of any license which they may have from the City to carry on business in the City.

I believe that if these matters be properly regulated along these lines, that we should have very little complaint as to illegal sales of intoxicating liquor in this City.

The expense of the City being increased by the construction of the City Hall and bridge, raising the interest charges and the City's reduction of revenue as mentioned, will require that the City's affairs be managed with strict economy, and I recommend your careful attention to the details of the City's business and the expenditure of its money during the year.

If the same be properly attended to I am confident that the revenue provided for will be sufficient to keep the city's affairs on a cash basis, which is very desirable.

S. A. BRODHEAD,
Mayor.
