Only a small fraction of the British litary writers profess to see in the erman advance at Solssons any new creat against Paris. They pay more montion, however, to the cumulative ndications that the Turks have de termined to attempt an invasion of Egypt. The general feeling is that any such raid could be checked, as the wided. Turks would have to reckon with not only the British troops, but with warships, which, operating in the Suez canal, off Akabali, Arabis and at other points, will be able to share in the work of opposing the invaders.

Aware of the fact that it is less difficult to cross the desert in winter than in summer, the Turks are said to be massing troops with all possible speed south of Syria.

Latest advices relative to the prospective Austro-German attack on Seris say that Bavarians and Prussians are on the way to Budapest to effect a junction with the remnants of four or five Austrian army corps which suffered so severely at the hands of the Servians.

THE PASSING OF H. B. MORGAN Like a herald of old to our borders he came-Alone and faithful and brave ; The wonderful gospel of love to pro claim With its limitless power to save.

His not a seeking for glory or gold,

His will but the will of the Infinite One

In whom he found daily supply.

Not in flowery metaphor taught he the word.

But in language simple and plain He brought us the message of love from the Lord;

Of Life thro' His marvelous name. His not a bondage to time-honored creeds. For he knew the Truth that makes free,

His was a voice that for unity pleads And for the Christ's liberty.
