MILLINERY OPENING

May we suggest to you, in an emphatic manner the utmost importance of acquainting yourself at the opening of the season, with the many new and novel effects in millinery which will be in vogue.

The real practical way is to visit a market where you can see the business stimulating creations, the tempting new shapes, the correct style of trimming and the new colorings. Hence our display and the invitation. We have spent more time than usual to familiarize ourselves with the prevailing styles. The small hat will be in vogue for the early spring, while fashion leads decidedly to the military shapes and colors. The prevailing colors are Belgian blue, Lard, Old Rose and Cherry Red.

Hilma Johnson will be in a better position than ever to serve you, you will be given our best courteous attention and your orders will be carefully, intelligently, and promptly executed. May we not look forward to a visit from you on or about Wednesday, March the tenth? Remember Hilma Johnson's next door to Monk's Studio.

Notice. Notice is hereby given to all teachers that applicants writing for teacher's certificates at the next teacher's examination, which will begin June 30, 1915, will be required to write in Physiology for a one year state certificate. No applicant will be required to write on Physical Geography for any certificate.

BRIEF NEWS OF OREGON

Ohio day was celebrated at Ashland March 2 by former Ohioans.

Oregon ranks 25th among the states of the Union in the number of automobile registrations.

The state railroad commission has decided to release four of its employes in order to cut expenses.

This week marks the gathering of representatives at Portland of all the chapters of the Daughters of the American Revolution in Oregon.

Property of an estimated value of $5000 changed hands Saturday at Albany's first public sales day, attended by 3000 persons from all parts of the surrounding country.

Barring unforeseen delays, work on the construction of the new wing to the eastern Oregon state hospital will be started in 90 days, according to Superintendent W. D. McNary.

Mrs. C. M. Phillips, aged 84, one of the members of the Whitman party which crossed the plains in 1843, died at Clackamas, near Oregon City, following an illness of a few days.

Senator Chamberlain is advised by the secretary of agriculture that the department will detail a drainage engineer to Oregon on April 1, to assist the Oregon drainage commission.

The lodge of the Knights of Pythias at The Dalles has appointed a committee to arrange for the erection of a four-story, reinforced concrete lodge and apartment building in that city.

Thomas Dawson, 75 years old, an inmate of the state insane asylum, stabbed and probably fatally wounded Thomas B. Waldo, another inmate of the institution. Waldo is 71 years old.

The State of Oregon expended $30,216.48 during 1914 in assisting the various orphanages, founding asylums and similar institutions which draw financial aid from the state. This is shown by the annual report of those institutions.

The state highway commission has advertised for bids for constructing the Mitchell's Point section of the Columbia highway. The stretch of road is about a mile long and because of the topography of the land will cost in the neighborhood of $50,000.

Unless there is unprecedented spring rainfall, Silver Lake will be dry before the end of the summer of 1915. This is the prediction of 600 settlers who cultivated ranches in the late '70s on the 11,000 acres of land over which water now stands.

Mrs. Frank Kasper was instantly killed and her husband and two children were seriously injured when in-bound passenger train No. 1 on the O.W.R. & N. line crashed into a wagon in which the family was driving at East Sixth, near Glisan street in Portland.

Discovering three burglars robbing the general merchandise store of Joseph Gooding at St. Paul, Daniel Girdle, a citizen, opened fire with a rifle and killed an unidentified member of the trio. Deputy Sheriff Needham later arrested James Grady and Frank Undermeyer.

Carlos L. Byron, a timber operator of Seattle, and Frank E. Alley, an attorney of Portland, were indicted at Portland by the federal grand jury, charged with having presented to the Roseburg land office false affidavits and claims relating to timber and stone lands, with intent to defraud the government.

Representative Sinnott announces appointments for U. S. naval academy as follows: Robert Boller, Klamath Falls; Claude B. Hill, Klamath Falls, first alternate; Chris. Wetie, The Dalles, second alternate; Gerrill M. Dowell, The Dalles, third alternate. The civil service examination will be held April 29.

Invitations and menu cards printed on Union county pine boards sawed by the George Palmer lumber company will play an important part in adding novelty to the dinner which the La Grande commercial club will give its members March 5. On that occasion nothing but made-in-Union county articles are to appear on the table.

One of the largest projects for development of the dry district of eastern Oregon was announced as ready for construction work some time this spring by Asa B. Thompson, president of the Oregon Irrigation congress. The project calls for the reclamation of 19,000 acres of land near Echo, Umatilla county, on what is known as the Teel project.

Because the cost of the buildings to be constructed for the state institutions will not total more than $125,000 for the biennium, the state board of control has decided to dispense with the services of State Architect W. C. Knighton after he completes the wing for the eastern Oregon insane asylum, the pay for that job to be on a commission basis.

The budget giving estimates of the financial needs of state institutions and departments, prepared by Secretary of State Olcott for the members of the last legislature, is the first comprehensive one ever issued by a state, according to James E. Boyle, head of the department of economics of the University of North Dakota, and a recognized authority on state government.

W. S. Buel, Supt.
