

Milions Visit World's Great Panama-Pacific International Exposition at San Francisco

ALL RECORDS FOR ATTENDANCE BROKEN BY MARVEL EXPOSITION CITY AT THE GOLDEN GATE.

VAST CROWD GATHERED BEFORE THE HUGE TOWER OF JEWELS. ARE YOU GOING TO VISIT THE HUGE EXPOSITION?

THIS remarkable panoramic photograph shows part of the vast crowd that gathered on the opening day of the Exposition, Saturday, Feb. 20. The crowd was not only the greatest ever brought together in the west, but in vastness it broke all previous exposition attendance records. The grounds were thronged with visitors from every part of the globe and the big attendance still continues. The opening day crowd was remarkably peaceful, and no arrests were made by the Exposition guards or military during the day, and but one child was lost, and it was returned to its mother within fifteen minutes. There were no accidents. The photograph above shows, on the left, the Italian towers guarding the entrance to the Court of Palms, next the Palace of Varied Industries and in the center and on the right the huge grand stand built before the Tower of Jewels. Here Secretary of the Interior Franklin K. Lane, acting in behalf of

President Wilson, President Charles G. Moore of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, Dr. Frederick J. V. Skiff, director in chief, accompanied by the thirty Exposition directors, welcomed the vast throng that assembled in Van Ness avenue and its lateral streets and, headed by Mayor James Rolph, Jr., walked on foot through the streets of the city and into the Exposition grounds through the Scott street entrance to the grand stand. At the time this photograph was taken Lincoln Beachey, aviator, had just appeared above the horizon in his flying machine, and the throng was awaiting Mr. Beachey's approach to circle the huge Tower of Jewels.

Since the opening day the Exposition has been crowded with visitors from all parts of the world. Long road rates, the sunny skies of California and the opportunity to see wonderful displays of the future, together with the fact that the Exposition is drawing thousands of

This completes the list of delegates for whom credentials have been received to date. This is the second year under the new system of electing delegates by the subordinate Granges entitled to representation in the state Grange. The rotation will be completed next year, then each Grange will know its turn and be governed accordingly. There seems to be some confusion in regard to the number of representatives to which a Grange is entitled. The bylaws provide that "Each Grange shall be entitled to one representative," but further provides that if representative has a wife and she is a matron, she shall be a voting member of this body, or if the representative has a husband and he is a husbandman, he shall be a voting member of this body. It is evident from the by-laws that the basis of representation from each Grange is one representative, with the provision that the husband and wife have equal privileges if they are both 4th degree members in good standing. The same conditions apply to the alternate. If the alternate has a wife and she is a fourth degree member in good standing she shall be a voting member. No one can be substituted for the wife or husband, in either case.

The usual convention rates on the certified plan for all members of the order who attend the session have been ordered by the following transportation companies: All stations in Oregon on the O. S. L., O. W. R. & N. and S. P. & S., except Columbia River points, Southern Pacific lines, including Klamath Falls, C. & E., P. E. & E., P. R. & N. Co., I. & M. Ry., S. F. C. & W. Ry. We have not been able to get interchange between the Oregon Electric and S. P. lines as yet, hence those coming over the Oregon Electric will buy to Portland or Hillsboro, then to Tillamook. The P. R. & N. train leaves Hillsboro at 10:27 a. m., and as there is but one train each way daily. It will be necessary to leave Hillsboro on that train Monday morning in order to be on time for the opening session Tuesday morning.

All persons purchasing tickets on these lines will pay full fare to Tillamook or as far as a ticket can be purchased, getting a certificate each time. Do not neglect to secure a certificate. If the agent has no regular form of certificate, require him to give a receipt; if nothing is secured to show that a full fare was paid it will be impossible to get the reduced return fare. Upon presenting of the certificate properly signed to the agent at Tillamook, the holder will be entitled to a return ticket at one-third fare.

All members should give careful attention to the subject that will come under consideration by the committees to which they have been assigned.

Chairman of all important committees should communicate with the other members and discuss with them the general features of their report so as to have the matter well in hand before going to the session.

Opportunity will be given at least by the morning of the second day for introduction of resolutions to be referred to committees, and any resolution of importance should be prepared in duplicate form, ready for introduction at this time, in order that the committee may get to work.

Delegates should be on hand promptly Tuesday morning and not expect to leave until Saturday morning, as there are four full days' work to be done, and all delegates are expected to attend the full session.

On Saturday following the session the Grange Committee on arrangements, of Tillamook County, propose an excursion to the beach, and a clam bake, then the excursion train will take the members to Portland in the afternoon.

Making the Little Farm Pay

By C. C. BOWSFIELD

Successful marketing does not consist of getting noise for an article that it is worth, covering up defective goods or using practices of any kind.

It depends on giving a good quality of produce at a fair profit, serving customers promptly, dealing honestly and as far as possible checking waste and methods of shipping and delivering. The most direct dealing that can be brought about between producers and consumers is desirable as a means of lowering the cost of living and adding to farm profits.

The majority of farmers are so situated that they can supply a great deal of produce to private customers, thus cutting out the expense of middlemen and securing a double profit for themselves. The parcel post adds greatly to their facilities for sending choice edibles to town families, hotels, restaurants, clubs, hospitals and other public institutions. To gain this end farmers must raise a variety of commodities and handle them in a clean and tasty manner. Slovenly or careless methods will not do.

Experts claim that the carelessness of farmers in handling eggs is often responsible for their financial failure. It is shown by government statistics that the difference in market value between eggs that are properly gathered, packed, sorted and shipped and those that are carelessly handled amounts to $20,000,000 in the United States and $2,000,000 in the separate states—that is, the egg production of the country would sell for $20,000,000 more than it does if the product were sent to market in more desirable shape.

The people who are working for a better marketing for farm produce say that the common faults which take the blow about a strictly fresh egg that dealers and housekeepers look for. This blow disappears with time or is rubbed off with careless handling. Owners of poultry should ship the eggs promptly and regularly.

Not only should different kinds of vegetables be provided for, but particular attention should be paid to the desires of the customer with reference to quality. While it will not be possible to cater to all the whims of the consumer, it must be kept in mind that when a customer orders from a farmer he expects to get produce of a quality which he has in mind and every endeavor should be made to meet his reasonable requirements so that the business may be established upon a mutually satisfactory basis. Give a purchaser what he or she wants and is willing to pay for.

Not only will this plan provide an outlet for vegetables, but it will also establish a contact through which various other farm products may be marketed.

Tankage a Safe Feed.

There is no danger of tankage carrying the virus of foot and mouth disease in the tankage itself. In the preparation of tankage the most scrupulous care is made to insure that the high steam pressure for a long period will destroy absolutely all forms of germs of bacteria. The only possible danger that tankage could be a source of infection of foot and mouth disease would be in the contact of the tankage with the shipping container. Tankage with a guaranteed analysis from a reliable packing company should be used. National Stockman.

Beautify the House Yard.

The many that like to see flowers around the house and other things to correspond and help to make them a really a good farmer in other respects. The same thing is the best that farmers can do to give their place and home a better look and to have the yard look pretty and attractive.
