BRIEF WAR NEWS

One Berlin dispatch says that Russian who were captured near Jassy had been equipped only with iron clubs, instead of rifles for weapons.
The Italian filled Rome which was officially announced that Italy had captured the first territory in the war with Austria. Hundreds of thousands of Italian soldiers cheered in the streets. The news that four Austrian towns had been occupied in the Balkans was taken as a victory in the war with Austria. The towns of Copovera, Terzio, and Terzo, all in the Isonzo river region, already were under the Italian flag.
In the Turkish operations the allies continue their activities and the official report records further progress and confirms the dispatch sent by General Sir Ian Hamilton to Australia that in an attack on the Anatolian and New Zealand positions the Turks suffered a loss of 7000 men.
Both British and French say they have made headway at La Basse, but the Germans declare that all attacks have been repulsed and that the fighting is still in progress. Apparently the allies are engaged in straightening out their fronts to conform with the positions which they won in recent engagements—a task to which the Germans are offering stubborn resistance with numerous and cleverly placed machine guns.
A ministerial crisis in England has developed into a newspaper campaign against the Kitchener dictatorship. The minister for war is being accused of trying to exercise omnipotent powers, and of endangering the success of Great Britain's military operations.
Never before in the imagination of man has a battle gained such proportions and intensity as that brought about in Galicia and the Carpathians by the Austro-German drive from the west, according to reports reaching London from Berlin and Petrograd.
The total losses probably never will be known, but run into the hundreds of thousands. Berlin declares that the Germans alone have captured 104,000 Russians, 72 cannon and 252 machine guns since the engagement began, while Petrograd reports that 40,000 Austro-Germans were captured.
