EVENTS IN BASEBALL.

Jimmy Galvin Pitched the First No Hit No Run Game.

Salaries first were paid to ball players in 1898 by the Cincinnati club. Roger Connor, the famous old slugger, in 1871 games in ten consecutive seasons had a grand batting average of .325.

Richard J. (Ducky) Pierce is credited with introducing the bunt hit in the summer of 1876.

The first 1-0 game on record was played by the Chicago and St. Louis teams in 1875, the former winning the contest.

O. Nicholson holds the record for the greatest number of stolen bases in a season. When with the Frankfort team of the Blue Grass league in 1912 he pilfered 111 sacks in 123 games.

In 1912 the Meridian team of the Cotton States league was defeated in twenty-six consecutive games, the record.

The first no hit game, no player reaching first base, in the history of baseball took place in 1876. James Galvin of the St. Louis Reds was the record making twirler, and he pitched against the Cass club of Detroit. The battle took place at Ionia, Mich., on Aug. 17. The feat was repeated twice in 1879 by J. L. Richmond of the Worcester National league outfit on June 2 against Chicago, and on July 28 against Springfield. Again, on June 12, 1880, Richmond performed the same stunt against Cleveland, and in the same year, on June 17, John M. Ward, twirling for Providence, beat Buffalo in this kind of a contest.

No additions were made to these names until Mar. 5, 1904, twenty-four years later, when D. T. "Cy" Young of the Boston American league team defeated the Athletics in a no hit, no player reaching first, game, and A. Jess similarly beat the White Sox when he twirled for the Cleveland American league club on Oct. 2, 1908.

F. W. Thayer of Harvard invented the catcher's mask in 1876. He was catching for the Crimson team at the time—Ed A. Gosswey, in Leslie's.

SWING OF THE WIND.

Thirty-five years ago, while making a four months' voyage, I was frequently impressed by the unerring accuracy with which Captain Crosby, one of the best known captains sailing from New York, forecast the state of the weather. In reply to my queries he answered: "Doctor, as a result of fifty years of seagoing life, I can assure you that almost invariably, I might say without exception, the wind in its shifting follows the course of the hands of a clock—that is, from left to right.

"Of course," he added, "one cannot say how long the wind will remain in any one quarter, but when it changes it will, almost without exception, take the course I have stated. For instance, if the wind is in the northeast, instead of going to the north and then to the northwest, it will on the contrary go over to the east, southeast, south, southwest, west, and finally reach the northwest."

When I asked him why that should be, he said he had never been able to obtain an answer to that, but that it was an absolute rule as far as the experience of his life went.

One other observation I have made through all these years, although it is not by any means as exact as the first, is that the winds have a fairly accurate length of time in which they remain in their various quarters. For instance, northeast and east winds are generally two or three days in duration, gradually shifting to southeast and south, then after a day's interval, or less, reaching west and northwest. These remarks apply only to the Atlantic coast and contiguous states and are inapplicable to the Pacific, where the conditions, in some respects even more remarkable, are entirely different.—Dr. Frank Abbott in New York Times.

Wills In Ancient Greece.
Wills were introduced into Athens by Solon, though in many other parts of Greece they were discontinued. Diogenes Laertius gives copies of the wills of several celebrated men, such as Plato, Aristotle and others. Before Solon's law no man was allowed to make a will, the wealth of the deceased belonging in certain proportion to the members of his family and even after Solon only an Athenian citizen and the privilege of bequest, the estates of both slaves and foreigners being confiscated for the use of the public.

Island of Manhattan.
In other days there were the Island of Manhattan and Manhattan Island. They were different bodies. Island of Manhattan was applied to the land occupied by the old city of New York, now the borough of Manhattan. Manhattan Island was a little knoll of land in the limits of what is now Third, Houston and Lewis streets and East river. At high tide the knoll was an island.

Two Houses.
"That's a pretty nice house you've built there, Subbuts, but it's rather thrown in the shade by that new mansion next door."

"Yes; that's the contractor's house, built out of the profits he made on mine."—Boston Transcript.

Friendship.
In the hour of distress and misery the eye of every mortal turns to friendship. In the hour of gladness and convalescence, what is our want? It is friendship.—W. & Landon.
