GERMANY REGRETS LOSS OF AMERICAN

Request is Made for Suspension of Judgment Until Germany is Heard From.

Washington.—Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, announced to the state department today that from his government, expressing great and sympathy, if Americans lost their lives in the sinking of the Arabic and asking that the United States delay taking a definite stand in regard to the affair until Germany could be heard from.

This was the first word from official German source concerning the Arabic on which two American lives were lost. Its receipt was followed by evident relaxation of the tension which had been existing here as it passed with no indication of a change on Germany's part to disturb the position of committing an act "unfriendly" toward the United States.

No attempt was made either at the state department or the white house to interpret the ambassador's communication, the secretary having stated that he did not intend to give to the ambassador's message any significance. He said he had no comment to make.

Particular attention was attracted here by the assertion in the German communication that in the opinion of the imperial government the sinking of the Arabic was unjustified. Reports have come from England, but not from official sources, that the Arabic was torpedoed without warning while she was attempting to escape after having been ordered to stop for examination. The German communication, however, does not refer to the manner in which the Arabic was sunk, but only to the fact that she was sunk.

39 PERSONS ARE LOST WITH ARAB

Only two Americans of the list of passengers are unaccounted for. They are Mrs. Josephine Salmon Brooks of New York and San Francisco and Dr. Edmund F. Woods of Janesville, Wis. It is certain that are lost.

Captain Finch and the other officers of the Arabic assert that the ship gave them no warning. They state the torpedo was fired while they were going to the rescue of the steamer Leinster, which had been torpedoed, presumably by the same submarine.
