FRIDAY SEPTEMBER 10, 1915.

If John Smith and Bill Jones get into a law suit over a brindle cow, would they have to seek permission from Bro. Baker before they could settle the fracas out of court? We guess they would—nit.

The Secretary of the Portland Land Products Show organization is making an effort to secure an exhibit from Tillamook County. Free space will be given. As many visitors from all over the country will be in attendance at the show this year, it is quite proper that Tillamook County should be represented. It is quite possible that much of our county exhibit which will be sent to the state fair could be held intact for the Portland show.

Henry Ford the automobile manufacturer, has offered to take in hand the ex-convicts of the Jackson, Michigan, prison and put them to work in his factory at $5.00 per day. We have not much use for the "rush" and mispent charity that is bestowed on many prisoners these days, but we do believe that when a man has paid the penalty of his crime he should be given a chance. Mr. Ford's latest move is certainly charity placed in the right place. He is helping the helpless to help themselves, for who is more helpless than a man who has spent a term in prison. Few people ant him around and many times he is driven back into a life of crime. Henry Ford is demonstrating and carrying out in a practical way some fine things these days. He is certainly entitled to all the free advertising he gets.

We are in the midst of another school year, which we trust will be a successful one in every way. To the men and women who have made a success of life, their school days were the most serious periods of their life. A successfully conducted school is no joke or combination of jokes, but rather, should be a matter of great concern, not only to the teachers, but also to the pupils. Boys and girls can not expect to be out at all hours of the night three or four nights in a week and do good work in school. This state of affairs should not be allowed and then the taxpayer is concerned in regard to this matter. A considerable amount of our tax money is swallowed up by our school fund. We believe in good schools, because we think they are one of the best paying investments. In all fairness to the taxpayers an endeavor should be made to see that every scholar gets full benefit for money expended. A reasonable amount of recreation should be given to the scholars, but care should be taken to see that the matter of amusements is not carried to extremes.

THE FIRST BASEBALL MITT

About 1867-68, a baseball team came to Rockford, Illinois, writes an "old timer" in "All Outdoors," to play our nine. They called themselves the "Unconquered Clippers of Illinois," and plastered our town with big posters. We made up our minds to give them a drubbing, and at the end of the game the score was, Rockford 26, Clippers 0.

There was a little chap playing third base who grabbed everything that came near him, and held it too, I noticed that he wore a kind of glove. When the game was over, I went to him and asked what it was he wore on his hand. He told me that he was a machinist, and got his hand badly hurt a week before, and he showed me the wound in his palm. He said the boys did not want him to play in that game, but he got a piece of thin sheet steel and made it slightly concave, but so that it did not quite touch the sore place. He then made a short glove to cover all the hand excepting the first joints of the fingers, and doubled the leather in the palm so that he could slip the plate between.

I asked him if it hurt, and he said it did not, and that he could take a hot one and hold it better with the glove than without it. That is the whole story. I don't think that Spalding ever talked to the little chap with the iron flat, as the boys dubbed the third baseman, but everybody in Rockford knew about the mitt; and he may have got the idea from him. Anyway, that was the first glove that any ball player ever wore.—Youth's Companion.

TO COMMEMORATE JETTY COMPLETION

Wheeler Reporter: A movement is now on foot to celebrate the dumping of the last rock at the Nehalem River Jetty, which is thought to be within about two months, after which the construction of the north jetty will be started. Such a celebration would prove a great advertisement to the Nehalem Valley and the proposed clam bake to be held on the beach that day will be extensively advertised.

A meeting will soon be held, possibly at Wheeler, to outline plans for the celebration, which has the backing of all of the citizens of Nehalem, Brighton and Wheeler. The Brightonites are particularly enthusiastic over the movement, as a completion of the jetty will prove a great help to that town.

There are many claims to the effect that nearly all soundings of the bar by the government engineers have been detrimental to the Nehalem Harbor and Valley. Efforts to procure exact figures as to the depth of the bar will be made on the day of the celebration and many Nehalem Valley people promise a great difference between the figures of the government engineers and those of the people. The celebration is planned to be held rain or shine.

GILFORD STILLWELL WOULD TAKE BACK GIFT

Suit has been filed in the Circuit Court, Gilford Stillwell, vs. Tillamook City and Stillwell Park Board—E. E. Daniels, Mrs. A. G. Beals and Thos. Coates, to recover the Stillwell play ground which Mr. Stillwell gave the children of Tillamook some six years ago. Mr. Stillwell alleges that the conditions of the bestowal have not been lived up to. That the grounds have not been kept, that the proceedings of the board and accounts of expenditures have not been properly recorded. There are also other complaints.

Just what action the city and board will take is not known. It is estimated that over $1000 has been spent by the city, the school district and by donations, and it is not likely that the people will take kindly to the idea of losing this amount. At the last meeting of the school district, $500 was voted to improve the park, and there can be no doubt as to the intention of our people in regard to keeping the park in proper shape.

CHICAGO BUYS BERRY JUICE

From Oregonian: Loganberry juice extracted in Oregon is to be the special drink served in the dining-room of the Blackstone Hotel in Chicago.

Orders have been received from Drake Bros. managers of the Blackstone, for a number of cases of the Oregon loganberry juice to be sent immediately to Chicago. This order was the result of a chance order made by their sister while taking luncheon at the Benson Hotel in Portland a few weeks ago. She called for a glass of loganberry juice from the menu and sampled it for the first time.

She immediately requested the management of the hotel to send a case of the juice to her brothers, declaring it to be the finest thirst-quencher that she had ever tasted.

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT EXPOSITION

At 11:45 a. m. August 23, 1915, the eleven-millionth visitor passed through the gates of the Exposition. Within the last thirteen days 1,000,000 persons visited the grounds. E. C. Conroy, director of the Department of Concessions and admissions, predicts that before the closing date, December 4th, there will have been an attendance of more than 18,500,000.

"Within the next two weeks," Conroy said, "another million" should be affixed to the eleventh figure. No less than 100 conventions and societies will celebrate in the next ten days.

The last two months of the enterprise will mark a multitudinous onrush of visitors. To-day begins the twenty-seventh week of the Exposition and a splendid programme of events has been arranged.

YOUR CHILDREN'S EYES

The examination of children's eyes call for special tact as well as professional skill. Now that school days are here with their additional strain on the eyes, every parent should heed the complaints of the child about its eyes. If necessary consult Dr. Wendt for good glasses at reasonable prices. I prescribe the excellent Rhodon Lenses.

JENSEN MILL TO START WORK SOON

From Wheeler Reporter: Mr. F. R. Sturgis, lessee of the Jensen shingle mill at Wheeler has been busy the last three weeks getting the mill in running order. Operations will be commenced next Monday and a full crew of men will be employed. No new improvements have been added to the mill as yet, although Mr. Sturgis has several such improvements in mind, permission from the railroad company being necessary in order to make such alterations or improvements.

Mr. J. A. Jensen, owner of the mill, has been engaged with a crew of men cutting cedar "bolts" and preparing them for rafting for immediate delivery to the mill.

A dam on the Zimmerman creek has been built, from which creek a long six inch pipe line has been laid, furnishing water to both the Bailey and the Jensen mills. As the water supply ran very low during the last month, an investigation was made which resulted in the building of the dam, which took about three days to construct. Ample water at all times is now assured, with very strong pressure.

The capacity of the Jensen mill is about 50,000 shingles per day, the entire working crew numbering about 12 men.
