Help Tillamook Prosper

Let's start the year right by helping our own community prosper, for that helps us all.

There are two ways: pay outstanding bills as quickly as possible; buy Tillamook-made products, and patronize home merchants.

As the general level of prosperity is raised, your 'Nationalized' Account will grow too.

We've found a GOOD plumber. In the window next to The Herald office reads a sign: "On and after February 1 this will be the home of good plumbing." We thought good plumbers like good printers, were dead, but we'll have to admit that Burkhard is anything but dead.

William Jennings Garrett was in town for a few moments last week, just long enough to bring back fond memories to the plates of the pluggers of twelve years ago and to rip things wide open with his mouth and fangs.

John Johnson is in the cold down and boarded the S. P. for Bay City next Sunday. Says he goes down there on account of the chicken, explaining that chicken and dumplings is his favorite dish.

John is worried. Folks about town have got to calling him "Colonel," "Johnny" and other things that we are not going to print. John says his faithful manniker is John Ross, Junior. We'll try to forget it.

The town is mayoral—long live the Mayor! But in the meantime while his honor is looking in Sunkist land and interviewing the notables of the chicken and movie world, things are moving right along at the memorial emporium. Nothing like having a couple chips off the old block around.

Teacher, to third graders: "And where does the best honey come from?"

Teacher: "From Honey & Henssen's!"

Teacher: "Then I suppose the best wutton comes from Lamb's!"

Eureka! we got an eye for the other day. A lady of the female species—perhaps she was young and perhaps she wasn't, came tripping down the streets with the South end of her skirts considerably North of where they ought to be. Pedestrians could not help but notice the color of her parrot. Traffic was almost blocked while she ambled her way up Second. It's a good thing the wind wasn't blowing.

And now the latest fad is pockets on the outer edge of silken hosiery. Will be some sight when we see 'em coming down the Main Stem with their hands in their pockets, eh?

In one of the Great Moral Weakles we read of a modest editor. If Barnum & Bally's advance man comes through and hear of him he'll sure get a nice fat offer from the exhibitor of freaks. 'Twill be the first one ever captured.

Dear B-U-N-K—You're so con-founded free with your advice—tell me: how can I earn a thousand dollars?"

In the words of John D. Oil we reply: "Save a thousand." Can't stump us.

A well known man about town walked into Halton's bent on making a purchase asked for by friend wife. He walked from department to department, stammered and hemmed and hawed and then confessed: "To save me I can't remember whether she said camisole or catsurola." The clerk waiting on him asked, in all seriousness, "Is it for a live chicken or a dead one?"

Drink Plenty of Good Milk --it's the Cheapest Food

—Say physicians, expert nurses and food authorities everywhere. Buy less meat and more milk and your family will be healthier. Furthermore, ten cents worth of milk has more actual food value than twenty cents worth of beef.

Our milk is rich and very pure. It is our CLARIFIED MILK which means that it's milk of the best quality obtainable, which is then put through a process that removes every trace of dirt, dust and also the dangerous bacteria—leaving milk that's all milk and all food. And it keeps sweet six hours longer.

You'll enjoy it, and when once you've tried it, you'll always want it. Phone us for free sample today.
