W. S. M. Says:

"Pretty daisies and daffodils would be blooming over me, if I tried to make folks happy by bursting into song. But I do run a smile shop, and get good results in a different way. I've cut out all battery separator troubles for my friends by putting Willard Threaded Rubber Batteries on their cars."

Willard Threaded Rubber Insulators last the life of the plates and are found only in the Willard Threaded Rubber Batteries which we sell.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

March Weather!

Read the advertisements—and you will buy at home.

Wheeler mill opens! Schultz mill running! Garibaldi mill to reopen! Looks like the good old times are back, eh, folks?

Absolutely right, is the old North Carolina editor, who recently declared that it will be easier to beat all swords into plows than swordsmen into plowmen.

The man who digs in the soil, day in and day out, is entitled to a fair remuneration for his toil. He must not only work but fight for his rights.

The Herald is primarily a country newspaper and prints more brief local news from city and county than most weeklies. So much news reaches the office on Thursday that it is impossible to print it all. When you have items, and we do like to publish them, make an effort to get them in early in the week.

The fight against the sale of certain magazines alleged to be indecent, and which, it is charged, have exerted immoral influences on immature readers, is nation-wide and it's going to be a winner because the news dealers themselves are cooperating to discontinue the sales of these questionable periodicals.—News Reporter.

An Evanston, Illinois, justice of the peace has decreed that university students, high school pupils and just kids are fit subjects for parental spanking when misdemeanors are committed by them. If parents will not perform the requirements in cases of need the court will see that the spanking is administered anyway. The court has decided that the minimum spank be five and the maximum spank twenty-five. That justice has the wisdom of a son of David, and it's a bet that peace will prevail in his bailiwick if his edict be carried into effect.

PROBLEMS OF LUMBERING

The two great groups of lumbering operations may be roughly defined as the coast region that has access to water shipments as well as rail, and the great interior lumbering operations confined to rail distribution alone.

While the interior mills are nearer eastern markets and have more nearby distribution, the sawmills having both rail and water shipping advantages are in direct competition with British Columbia sawmill and logging operations.

Both groups of this primary western industry have the same labor problems and both terribly handicapped by over-taxation. In fact, the lumber industry has no hope of future expansion or inviting capital unless taxes can be reduced.

In the case of this industry the point of confiscation has actually been reached. Where many sawmills are at a stand still and are on the delinquent taxrolls, logging operations, timber land ownership, and plants being taxed.

Those who talk new forms of taxation, are not friends of the working man or aiding state development. The lumber industry needs taxation relief above all others.

The average man hardly notices that the per capita money circulation declined during January to $49.96, as against $55.93 on January 1, 1921, and $58.26 on February 1st of last year.

BREEDING RADICAL POLITICAL MOVEMENTS

The big problem right now before the nation and every state, county and city is reduction of taxation.

The cost of government has grown at a much more rapid rate than the earning power of the individual and industry.

Expense is not watched as closely in governmental activities as in private business, hence it mounts more rapidly.

For this reason it is necessary that drastic action be taken at the earliest moment to see that the public is protected from further excessive increases in taxation and in addition that taxes be materially reduced.

Can the leaders in control of "politics" go on extending taxation and all kinds of restrictive and regulatory legislation indefinitely and not reap the whirlwind in the development of revolutionary and socialistic movements?

The information that the farmers intend to dabble in politics is nothing new. It comes at the right time. Let every farmer and every son of a farmer be up and doing from now until election day. The women on the farms need not be reminded of their political duties.

MAINTAINING COMMUNITY CREDIT

In the protection of their depositors banks perform a service that is of great value to the whole community.

They are instinctively sensitive about maintaining the reputation and credit of the community at a high level.

The bonds issued by state, county and local subdivisions bring a higher price and are maintained at par by good banking.

A community without banks finds it hard sometimes to market bonds even for a perfectly feasible and meritorious project.

Banks are not interested in the sale of securities at heavy discounts and if freely consulted about issues would often prevent losses to customers and taxpayers.

ROAD WORK

Fair progress is being made on the beach road. The trestle across the outlet of Lake Lytle is finished, several hundred feet of right-of-way are cleared ready for the steam shovel which will be on the job in a few days. The county plans on rushing this work.

Bids for grading of 5 miles of road from the county line south will be let the latter part of this month. The state and county cooperate in this project.

In a short time, if dry, it will be possible to motor to the old bridge sight on Neah-Kahane mountain. This should prove popular as it affords a panoramic view of ocean, beach, mountain, valley and town that charm an one.—Wheeler Reporter.

F. P. Miller is circulating a petition among the Rockawayites to have a letter built from the railroad right-of-way west on the creek. This will drain the low land and save the park. He is sure everyone will help, for so far he has secured $1000 without much solicitation.

John Daly has purchased the J. W. Wright bungalow and one acre of ground. Wright has moved to Tillamook.—Journal.

Judge Webster L. Holmes, formerly of Salem but for many years past a resident of Tillamook, is shaking hands with old-time Tillamookers from his former abode. In the lobby of the Benson.—Journal.

Sixty-eight head of prize-winning Holsteins, including Lady Aagrie O'Brien, of Rock, grand champion at the Pacific International livestock show at Portland last fall, and two of her progeny, have been sold by F. R. Beals of Tillamook, state representative, and one of the largest breeders of Holsteins in Oregon, to the Carson Stock Farms of Tolt, Wash., for a reported consideration of $45,000. The deal is understood to have been under consideration ever since George Bulley, extension specialist for the Carnation Company, laid his eyes and his hands on Lady Aagrie in the show ring at the Oregon State fair last October, when he made her grand champion there. Carnation needed a show cow and Lady Aagrie would have turned the trick for them at St. Paul, as Judge W. S. Mosier admitted at Portland, but there was difficulty in arriving at a price satisfactory to both parties and negotiations were temporarily off. Reports of offers for the cow ran all the way from $3000 to $15,000, but if Carnation had wanted her $7500 worth they could have had her for the National. The sale is by far the largest of prize-winning cows consummated in Tillamook county, and it includes besides Lady Aagrie a number of splendid producers which undoubtedly will be heard from at Tolt. Some of them are credit to with 400 and 500 pounds of butterfat during their first five months of lactation this winter, and of 30 tested cows failed to qualify as A. R. O. cows. Mr. Beals retains his "Beals" herd herd sire and several of the bull's daughters and granddaughters which give promise of doing well, and dispatches say that he has already begun to replenish his herd with animals purchased in Tillamook county and in the Willamette Valley. He has a large herd at Pacific City, as well as extensive real estate interests in that vicinity. Perhaps it's a case of "once a breeder always a breeder." Mr. Beals certainly has a severe case of the "Bosque" fever.—Hulstine-Freshman World.

THE PNEUMONIA MONTH.

March is a typical pneumonia month, and it is a high rate of mortality for the disease. After a long and hard winter, the system has much of its resistance and protective powers. When even cold, the body is in a state of prompt and intelligent attention, there is much less danger of pneumonia. It should be borne in mind that pneumonia is a very serious and often fatal disease. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is an expectorant and cleans out the germ-laden mucus and not only cures a cold but prevents its resulting in pneumonia. It is pleasant to take. Children take it willingly.
