HIGH SCHOOL ALL-STARS DEFEAT INDEPENDENTS; HOOP SEASON ENDS

The curtain was officially rung down on the 1921-22 basketball season here yesterday night when stars from seven teams, representing four different sections of the county, played before an appreciative aggregation of fans.

The game was one between independent players and high school basketball stars, the latter demonstrating their all-around superiority by administering a better than two-to-one defeat to their opponents. Final score: High School All-Stars, 45; Independent All-Stars, 21.

The game was interesting from the points of view. It again demonstrated that team work will win against individual play, even though the individual is the star of the first half. It also demonstrated the value of physical training the school players being plenty in far better physical condition to withstand the grueling play than did their more experienced, but "out of condition" opponents.

On the high school team were Cloverdale and Tillamook players who were adjusted the best of the two teams. On the Independent side were stars from the Wheeler, Astoria, Clatsop, Beavercreek, Blaine, Clifton, Tillamook, Old Fellows and K. P. team.

The Independents started Hollett, Blaine, Eskine and high school basketball stars, Magnus of Cloverdale at center, and Conover and Funk at guard. Before the end six other players were shifted into the line-up each one being allotted practically the same length of time on the floor.

The Independents took the jump by converting two free throws. Johnson and Owens of Cloverdale soon overcame this by converting two free throws and a field goal and from then on their team was never headed, although the independents fought to the last ditch.

Johnson and Gabriel were stationed at forward for the winners, with Mathews at center and Stark and Owens at guard. The line-up was shifted from time to time to permit Earl of Cloverdale and Tone of Tillamook to get into the fray. Hollett, Tillamook high player also got into both halves for a limited time, to permit him to make his high school letter.

The Cloverdale high players clearly proved their right to be named county all-stars. Johnson's playing was, perhaps, even better than anticipated by Tillamook fans, while Owens clearly demonstrated his all-around basketball ability. These two players—both of the Gabriel type—consistent fast, steady and sure shots, delighted their followers by pairing off with Gabriel for halves of the evening. Gabriel was high man with 18 points, Owens next with 15 and Johnson next with 8.

Mathews played the game of his life on this occasion. He played 8 running guard's position and twice in succession dribbled the ball down through the opposing guards at a terrific pace and hooped her through for two points each time. He seemed to be in his element at this position.

Stark and Tone played their usual brand of defensive ball and passed in an approved manner. Earl looked good during the short time he was in the game.

For the independents it would indeed be hard to pick the evening star. Eskine was high man with three field goals and Foster next with one goal and three free shots. Hollett, Heisel, Funk and Telford all broke into the score column. Magnus did not get going at center which handicapped things somewhat. In fact this was the independent's big hole. Foster and Patchell, both forwards, spelled him at center at divers times.

Funk put up a wonderful defense against Shingles. During the time he guarded this "greatest of all Tillamook players" he scored only one field goal. Gabriel was heard to remark in the dressing room after the game that never before this season had he been guarded as he was by Funk in this game. Telford, of Wheeler, was another good guard. Hollett went out of the game in the early minutes of play via the personal foul rule. However he shot a basket before going out and was playing great ball when forced to go the sidelines. Heisel, who went into the game in Joe Placker's place as a K. P. representative and by virtue of his great work in the last high school K. P. game, was again playing great ball. Given the proper training Heisel would make some of them sit up and take notice.

Boquist and Conover, although never in luck enough to "get going" performed creditably.

Peterson, of McMinnville referred to proved himself an A. 1. man, calling fouls where fouls were committed, and speeding the game a ways. Twenty-eight fouls were called, fifteen on the independents and 13 on the high schoolers. Of those 15 were converted, seven by the high school and nine by the independents.

Coaches French and Buell handled the high schoolers and Bill Foster the Independents. To score of the season's last:

| Independents | Pos.  | High School's |
|--------------|-------|---------------|
| Hollett 2    | F     | 18 Gabriel    |
| Eskine 5     | F     | 8 Johnson     |
| Magnus 3     | C     | 4 Mathews     |

WHEELER CASTING ABOUT FOR A BALL DIAMOND

The Wheeler Reporter says: "The warm weather and sporting news has stirred the latent baseball blood of both baseball players and fans. There is some talk of organizing a county league with teams in Beaver, Tillamook, Garibaldi, Brighton and Wheeler. One great need locally is a suitable diamond although the Muhler diamond may be used again this summer.

There are a number of high class players in the valley and it is hoped that a league is organized so that they will be able to show the fans their ability."

For the independents it would indeed be hard to pick the evening star. Eskine was high man with three field goals and Foster next with one goal and three free shots. Hollett, Heisel, Funk and Telford all broke in-

TEAM SCORES 602 POINTS IN 19 GAMES PLAYED

The Tillamook high school basketball team came within a very few points of scoring twice as many counters as did their opponents. Tillamook scored 602 points to opponents' 312 during the 1921-22 season year closed.

Individual scoring honors go to Gabriel with a grand total of 275 or nearly half of his team's total points, certainly a wonderful record. White is second high man and Mathews third. Tone is the only man who did not break into the score column.

Individual scoring records as well as team scores are appended for the benefit of Herald readers.

Twenty games were played, double the number played by the majority of school.

Shingles played his last game for the high school. We vote him the best hoop player that ever wore a Tillamook jersey.

Next season the independents are going to do things. A league to take in Wheeler, Tillamook, Cloverdale, Blaine and other county towns is practically assured. Lookout high school.

White was out the game Saturday with a sprained wrist. Mathews took his place and came through with flying honors.

It's spikes in place of suction sales now. But baseball will have to go some to hold the public interest as has basketball this season.

Now let's help King, et al put over that county semi-pro baseball league. Wheeler and Beaver are already in. It's up to Tillamook. What say, Tillamook, what say?

BEAVERS, MINUS MAC, READY FOR OPENER

The McCordless Portland Beavers open the season at Portland next week. Portland, one of the greatest ball cities in the universe, will probably come into its own again with the team now backed and owned by a roster of prominent Portland business men.

Tillamook will be well represented at the first set-to, scores of fans planning on being on hand when his nibs, the umpire, shouts "play ball."

BALL LEAGUE NOW UP TO TILLAMOOK

The resounding whack of hickory on horsehide is beginning to be heard hereabouts as elsewhere all of which signifies that baseball in all its glory is about ready to take the center of the stage.

The high school team is beginning to shape up under Coach French. Wheeler has practically completed organization and is casting about now for a playing field. Editor Nunn of the Wheeler Reporter, has his ear to the ground, and is beginning to sound sentiment regarding the securing of an athletic park for his city.

The Beaver team is ready to take the field with a few more workouts and eagerly awaits news from Tillamook.

Tillamook, once the greatest ball town up and down this western coast, is beginning to cast about for managers and players, the indication being that one and possibly two cracker-jack teams will represent this city in the Tillamook County League, providing it is organized, and it will be organized if Tillamook says the word.

Given the proper backing at the start of the season baseball will go big here this year. Last year saw the awakening of dozens of former baseball towns; this year practically every city town and hamlet in the state will put out a team.

A good ball team—such as Tillamook put out in the days gone by—will provide this city with more advertising than will any other one feature, save the cheese industry. And right here we might give it as our candid opinion that the cheese association could expend no money in advertising to better advantage than to furnish back a live-wire ball squad this year. A team that would hold its own with the best in the state could be organized here and would do the town proud when sent to other state cities to play. Call them "Cheese Makers" or "Tillamookers" or whatever you wish they certainly would make 'em all sit up and take notice.

A meeting will probably be called to discuss the formation of a ball club here sometime early in April. All managers and prospective managers of county teams, wherever located, should cast about and get ready to make a report at this meeting.
