EDITORIAL COMMENT

With the announcement last week that the Oregon Guernsey Gaities is to be held in Tillamook county June 1, 2, and 3 and that the Oregon Federation of Women's Clubs will be here at the same time (their meeting dates being from May 30 to June 2) it would seem that it is up to old Mother Tillamook to "spruce up" a bit, which may be interpreted to mean—"clean-up and paint-up."

—o—

The Chamber of Commerce is singing a popular refrain when they argue for action looking toward better shipping facilities here.

If there is one locality up and down this Western Coast that is in dire need of a port that locality is Tillamook. With a world-wide known product being shipped to the four corners of the country, the largest timber belt of any western county awaiting cheaper transportation and with farming resources second to none it would seem high time that the cork in the neck of the bottle were extracted.

—o—

Customer ownership of utilities is equivalent to public ownership, as Samuel Insull interprets it. Government ownership means that recognized governmental agencies, those established for other purposes, take on ownership and management of industrial enterprises as a side-line. Customer ownership means that those who are the users of the industries are the business partners, their interests being represented by the stock they hold. Customer ownership has increased tremendously since 1914 and is the recognized best means of hearty co-operation between management and customers.

Candidates for Governor in Oregon are all demanding a better state administrative system, or the cabinet plan of Illinois and other states.

Governor Olcott has had the difficult task of leading his state through the post war flood of additional tax burdens. He has been working toward relief and has recently created a committee of prominent citizens to investigate the system of Idaho, and the Washington department plan.

As a candidate for re-election he states in his platform that the committee will bring some such plan to the attention of the legislature.

This is a progressive movement in state affairs that will reduce the overhead expense of government as has been proven in other states.

The tax reduction campaign has progressed far enough to indicate that some plan of specific retrenchment will be brought about in the interest of taxpayers.

Any candidate who is elected in November will be compelled to make good on the vital issues of retrenchment and bring about a substantial reduction.

—o—

Western states have been spending hundreds of millions of dollars for "permanent" roads.

Virtually anything which would keep a vehicle from "miring" was called "permanent."

Permanent highways are built on the supposition that their life will be at least ten years and bonds are issued for their construction on this basis.

In the first hysteria of road building the necessity for really permanent construction has been lost sight of in the mad race to spread down the greatest number of miles of hard surface road.

In many sections of the West the taxpayers are now learning to their regret that instead of lasting for a ten year period, many miles of their so-called "permanent" highways are going to pieces and that the cost of "maintenance" which comes out of the taxpayers direct is likely to equal the original cost for hardsurfacing before the ten year period has expired.
