FASHION HINTS FOR MILADY

Three styles characteristic of the season are shown here. At the top a hat of bright blue broad, piped with satin, has a beehive crown and a narrow satin-covered brim. It is trimmed with cherries, primly set about the crown. In clusters and bunched at the right side. A brilliant all-black hat, suited to older wearers, has a glittering fabric over its upturned brim and sprays of feathers at each side. The youthful hat at the bottom, employs ribbon and flowers to trim a shape covered with a novelty material. This hat is shown in several colors with little springtime blossoms massed against the upward-rolling brim.

ELEGANT BLACK FROCKS

These simple, elegant black frocks of silk crepe for afternoon, have an aristocratic quality that endears them to women and they are found in all displays. One of them shown here is a straight-line model, bloused at the waist, whose ruche made of the crepe are set on a grille also made of it. The sleeves of georgette are slashed down the middle to the wrist and the edges finished with green and white silk braid.

DOMINANT STYLES

The intricate and the simple are the two dominating styles in sweaters, each of them tends in many variations of color, weave and material. A handsome tweed, knitted of wool yarn appears above in a sweater that reveals the effective use of a fancy weave in the body of the garment and the employment of contrasting color.

POPULAR SWEATERS

In the bright lexicon of youth is written the sweater and a sweaterless wardrobe is not to be imagined—either for young or old. The tuxedo or sweater is deservedly the most popular style, made of wool or of silk yarn like that one pictured here. It is shown in many colors and in black or white. Collar and cuff sets of checked silk or plain linen are fashionable with the quieter colors.

FOREST PROTECTION WEEK SET FOR APRIL 16-22

A Proclamation:

Whereas, the protection and perpetuation of our forests are vital to our continued industrial welfare and our health, comfort and prosperity and

Whereas, a period of fifty years has passed since in April eighteen hundred seventy two there was instituted, in the State of Nebraska observance of a day especially set apart and consecrated for tree planting and known as Arbor day, and

Whereas, both through widespread annual celebration of Arbor day and through the increasing observance of Forest Protection Week public attention has been commendably directed to the value of trees, the unnecessary waste of our diminishing forests through preventable fires, the deplorable effects of forest devastation and the need for remedial measures against depletion of an essential natural resource.

Therefore, I, Warren G. Harding, President of the United States, do urge the governors of the various states to designate and set apart the week of April sixteen-twenty two nineteen hundred and twenty two, as Forest Protection Week and the last day of that week, April twenty two, as the golden anniversary of Arbor day, and to request officers of public instruction of counties, cities and towns and of civic and commercial organizations to unite in thought and action for the preservation of our common heritage by planning such educational and instructive exercises as shall bring before the people the disastrous effects of the present waste by forest fires and the need of individual and collective effort to conserve the forests and increase our tree growth for ornament and use.

In Witness Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

Done in the District of Columbia, this 31st day of March in the year of our Lord one Thousand Nine Hundred and Twenty two and of the Independence of the United States of America the One Hundred and Forty-sixth.

WARREN G. HARDING.
