THANKS, TILLAMOOK, THANKS

We desire at this time to publicly thank the people of Tillamook for their generous patronage of this new market during the first weeks of our business here. Especially are we grateful for the patronage accorded us on Saturday last. All day long we were taxed to capacity and while we sincerely hope that every one was waited on and that none had to go away disappointed yet we wish to announce that we have secured additional help and are now better prepared than ever to care for your every WANT.
