

THIS SPACE WILL HEREAFTER BE KNOWN AS THE "H & H" CORNER

We have purchased this space in The Herald and hereafter our advertisement will appear regularly in this corner of page 3. Watch our advertisements each week. It will pay!

WHY IS IT?

That some people get the habit of saving, by paying cash for groceries while others continue to pay exorbitant prices via the credit system. It is proved by the enormous volume of business that we have established in the past year, that our system of CASH and a consistency of pricing merchandise at a low figure throughout our entire stock is the correct way to gain the confidence of patrons. Resolve now that you will get out of the old rut and pay cash.

Norblad Scores Commission

ing to Norblad. Oregon has far more to offer than has California a fact which he dwelt on at length. He sees a time not far distant when the tourist crop will exceed in revenue that of any other single industry of the state.
Norblad is a young man of dynamic action, has a pleasing personality, is full of vitality and "pep", is well educated, aggressive, convincing and above all—one of us. He was born in Sweden, came to this country when nine years old, went through the common and high schools and graduated from the university of Chicago. He is the father and originator of some of the most constructive legislation ever enacted in this state and he is one of the men who has put Astoria in the front ranks of the progressive small cities of the world. His election would meet with our approval. He will need every vote in this county to help him win the nomination over "Do Nothing" Hawley and The Herald sincerely hopes that he will receive from old Tillamook the same consideration that he has promised to give as if nominated and elected.

Children Actors Delight

assembled on the stage, was a sight that brought pride to every patron of the Tillamook schools.
The duet by Lois Knight and Nave's Smith, Meg and Katherine, was very good. The girls voices blend well together.
Jesse Iye, as Jack, and his husband's name were had pep in their song, Play Ball. All of their songs were good.
A very pleasing number was given by little Mary Harrison, as Angelina, an emigrant child.
Marjorie Tucker, as Lily, was dainty and her song was very enjoyable.
The garland girls had a pretty dance and carried wreaths of green leaves with pretty red blossoms.
Maxine Baker gave a Butterfly solo dance. She is very graceful. The fairy dance given by Nedra Smith and Jane Harris was also good.

Camille Halton gave a good impersonation of Mother Needy and kept them all in order in Twilight Alley.
The clown dance by Keith Jenkins was great. His hand springs would be a credit to a boy much larger.
The brownies were realistic with their brown suits and fat tummies, while the butterflies and fairies were like big dolls dancing.
The stage was prettily arranged with its graceful vines and lighting effects.
The orchestra gave a number of jazzy selections that were enjoyed very much by everyone.
Much credit is due Miss Mildred Hunselton, thru whose efforts the operetta was arranged, and the pianist, Miss Georgia Barry.—Mrs.D.M.S.
