A way-up birthday dinner was the chief feature of a pleasant social gathering of young misses at the residence of C. K. Klum on Sun- of last week. It was given in honor of Miss. Isa Cook, a relative of the family, who was over on a visit from her home in Jacksonville.

We hear that several of the fair misses developed appetites somewhat in excess of their digestive capacities, but we are happy to state that, after a few days of "stomachic disquietude," they had fully recovered and were ready and anxious to accept any other birthday-dinner invitation that might be tendered.

At a meeting of the Wagner Creek Cemetery Association held last Monday evening, for the purpose of perfecting the organization, the following officers were elected:— Trustees, Jas. Purves, Sam'l Robison and John Abbott. Drawing lots (by means of straws filched from Mrs. Purves' broom), they are to serve for one, two and three years in the order named.

W. J. Dean was elected clerk for three years. Definite rules and regulations were agreed upon, a new plat of the grounds will be made and henceforth the whole affair will be conducted in a systematic manner.

There was a good turnout at the cemetery in the morning of Decoration day and the forenoon was spent in clearing up the grounds. Early in the afternoon the ladies gathered, bearing scores upon scores of lovely bouquets and wreaths of flowers and evergreens, which were tastefully arranged upon the mounds, giving the cemetery the appearance of a veritable flower garden. A little later the Burnside, G. A. R. post and Women's Relief Corps arrived from Ashland.

After the usual impressive ceremonies attending the decorating of their dead comrade's graves, Rev. A. J. Stevens gave a short address, preceded by a song, "My Country 'Tis of Thee." The exercises concluded with the song "Rock of Ages." We were told that the G. A. R. and W. R. C. had during the day strewn flowers upon 315 graves.

The evening entertainment at the church consisted of appropriate recitations interspersed with music, vocal and instrumental, all of which were exceedingly well rendered. Although the day passed off pleasantly. All things seemed to work together for good. The weather was all that could be desired, the evening especially delightful, the roads in excellent condition. Decoration Day is a fixed fact, and each return of which should be looked forward to as a time to perform pleasant duties in strewing flowers upon the graves of the loved and lost.
